Bob,
This year was really a blast with you. You and Mary are like how to put sets together. Don't waste more gas with your car

Love
Dolores

Bob,
Thanks for the Birthday present!! Mary & I enjoyed (mostly) burning your summer days up.

Bob,
I remember
back in 7th grade
you & Matt used to be the best friends. Now in (11th) you & I have become good friends, Neat!!!
You are one of the more sensible (if I don't know how to spell)
Guys I've met. I'm so Happy I finally got out of J. High... It's so different here. I think I'll be more used to it by next year. It takes me a while!)
I'll be seeing you in Gabe's
Pizza more so now that Right? So many heartacks this act like this is the last time you'll see someone so you have to write all this farewell stuff
But I'm not going to cuz
I'll see lots more of you.
better get rid of that 'car' of yours, it's getting dangerous to have around. You may not know this but you've helped me alot during my sophmore
I want to talk during my expect it next year too!
love ya as always!
Thanks
"Stank"

Hi, I hope you don't mind me writing here but I couldn't find your email address anywhere. I was just wondering if you could help me with something. I'm really struggling with my Spanish coursework and I'm not sure what I'm doing wrong. I've been trying to get in touch with my tutor but I haven't had any luck so far. I was wondering if you could maybe help me out or point me in the right direction? I'd really appreciate it. Thanks so much in advance! Best wishes, [illegible]

Dear Mum and Dad,

Thanks so much for your letter and for sending me the money. I really appreciate it. I'm sorry I haven't been in touch much lately but I've been really busy with my studies. I've got a lot of coursework to do and I'm trying to get it all done before the end of the term. I'm also trying to find a part-time job so that I can earn some extra money. It's not easy though because I'm not very good at interviews and I'm always getting nervous and messing up. I'm sure I'll get something eventually though.

I'm glad to hear that you're both well and that everything is going okay at home. I miss you both very much and I can't wait to see you at Christmas. I'm really looking forward to coming home and spending some time with you all. I've been missing your cooking and I'm looking forward to eating some proper food again. I've been living on pasta and pizza for the last few months and I'm getting a bit sick of it.

Anyway, I should probably go now as I've got a lot of work to do this evening. I'll write again soon and let you know how I get on with my coursework. Take care of yourselves and I'll speak to you soon.

Love,

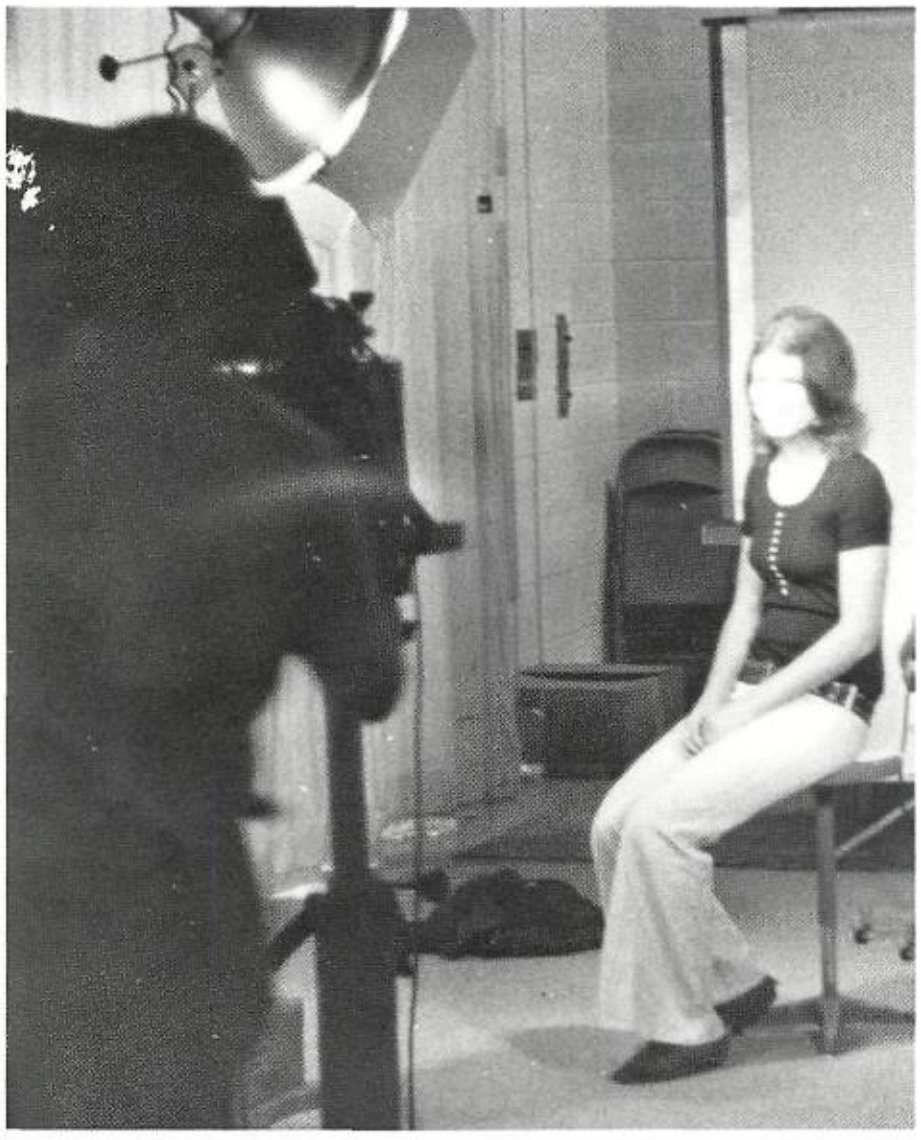
Senior Nancy Bowyer is flabbergasted when Junior Ralph Davis shows his cave man strength. Nancy and Ralph were two of the best dressed students that took part in Greaser Day during Spirit Week.



"Comb your hair, sit up straight, and smile pretty," are the instructions given by Russ Rickers as Juniors and Sophomores have their pictures taken. Junior Sheryl Baumgartner is smiling!

See Senior Leo Bickness ride. See him pop a wheelie and at the same time smile for the camera. It seems that cycles are very popular at WHS this year.

Senior Cathy Ruby makes it a point to be a daily customer at the Lang Bakery. She doesn't waste time biting into her roll.

Laura Brandt, crownbearer for the WHS Coronation, smiles like a princess. She proved to be a nice touch to the Coronation.

Darren Droegemueller found it a little more difficult to smile, but did manage to be present. Although he didn't play his part, he made Coronation interesting.

The flames of the bonfire lapped the darkening sky; the band roars, the resonding chants of the Schools cheers led by the energetic cheerleaders, as this cheerleader Junior Sharon Strouth adds favor to Homecoming Week. The crowd of over 200 linked hands and snaked through the street to the school for a sock-hop.

Sophomore Susan Alliband and Patricia Bishop retreat back to their childish days during Spirit Week when the School took part in Little Boy, Little Girl Day.

Seniors Pat Fish Quarterback and Guard Nancy Bowyer struggle to keep the football under their own power in the Powder Puff Football game. The Juniors and Sophomores proved to be a tuff match for the seniors.

Elected Members of the Student Body Formulate Rules for All

Participation in Student Council grants opportunity and experience in today's lawmaking procedures. It allows students to take action in school policies and it becomes the making of ideas into reality. Student Council is the starting point of Youth in Government.

Under the supervision of Mr. Devlin, the council of 1973-74, made up of homeroom representatives met once a week. This limited time was used wisely to discuss activities and problems of the student body.

The council sponsored many of the school projects and activities such as Homecoming, Spirit Week, Snow Daze, Charity Week, and school lyceums. With these and other tasks the Student Council had a busy year.

Elected officers for this year's council were: Tom Brower, president; Stacy Rubsam, vice-president; Cathy Bishop, secretary; and Carmen Smith, treasurer.

Conducting weekly meetings and carrying out the wishes of the student body are two of the main functions of the Student Council officers. Representing the students are Secretary Cathy Bishop, Treasurer Carmen Smith, President Tom Brower, and Vice-President Stacy Rubsam

Customs of Father Land Perpetuated by the German Club

Throughout the WHS, 1973-74 school year the German Club trudged onward practicing German wherever they went.

German Club, advised by Mr. John Evans, gave the students a primany purpose to promote skills in the language in an informal situation. It also gave the understanding of German speaking countries. The club carried through with numerous activities and programs. In Marshall Minnesota at the Southwest State College, the club members participated in the Fourth Annual Foreign Language Festival.

The officers, who brought the club through the successful year are Diane Walther as President, Kathleen Stubbe as the Vice President, and Viki Duitsman as Secretary Treasure.

"Now girls, you must be very careful with this machine." Mr. John Evans instructed the German club officers, Diane Walther-President. Kathleen Stubbe-Vice President, and Viki Duitsman-Secretary Treasure through a most thrilling year.

"Okay, from the beginning again," says the quiet, patient, understanding German club instructer, Mr. John Evans. In his spare time he coaches the German club onward.

"Lets see, what do we have here?" asks Charlotte Doeden. The German club has been going mighty and strong this year. Some of the members are: Charlotte Doeden, Scott Holland, Kathleen Stubbe, Cynthia Clark, Diane Walther, and Viki Duitsman.

Above: Hailing from Greece, Fotios Hadjigeoziou, feels that he has adapted well with the students of Worthington Senior High. Although he was ineligible for competitive sports, he found the extra-curricular programs most stimulating.

RIGHT: "You talk funny, do you call that English?" questions a vivacious Sasha (Alexandria) Vujadinovic. Although many new friends and activities have kept Sasha extremely busy during her year in Worthington, she admits that she does look forward to returning to her homeland, Yugoslavia.

OPPOSITE PAGE, TOP: The Crailsheim International Exchange Student from Germany is a very studious Anke Pramor. A friendly, charming personality has won for her many new friends this past year. Anke arrive in Worthington in August of 1973. She hopes to see more of America before returning to Germany in late summer.

Three Exchange Students Add New Dimension to the Classes at WHS

The Foreign Exchange Program added an important dimension to WHS life this year by welcoming three exchange students from abroad. Sasha Vujadinovic from Yugoslavia, and Fotios Hadjigeoziou, are the first representatives from their country to attend classes at WHS. Through Crailsheim International, Anke Pramor represents Germany.

The Worthington-Crailsheim International Exchange Program was started in 1956 in an attempt to further political and economic relations between Germany and America after World War II. The program started on a four year basis. It then began in alternate years, and now students are exchanged every year.

This year Lynn Stofferhan is Worthingtons representative and we have in Worthington Anke Pramor who is the representative from Crailsheim.

This year a new student exchange program has been added. Youth for Understanding is the most dynamic and versatile organization in the field of teen age exchange. It offers a variety of unique opportunities to participate in an international living experience through its different programs. More than 25,000 students from forty-five countries have participated in its programs since its beginning in 1951. YFU is both inter-faith and inter-racial. Its primary purpose is to develope international understanding through a family living experience in another country.

The two new additions to the WHS student body were Alexandria Vujadinovic (Sasha) and Fotios Hadjigeoziou. Sasha is from Yugoslavia and Fotios is from Greece.

The Worthington Senior High School choirs again had a busy year with practices and appearances throughout the season. They performed numerous occasions at the Atrium, Lions Club, banquets, and other public functions and concerts. In the Spring, the Colorama gave the choir members a great opportunity to display their talent.

During the past year, there were many activities and choir festivals in which the choir members participated. Two events in December were the Christmas concert, which was a success attracting a large crowd, and the traditional choir Christmas party. In February, the choir was one of six featured choirs in Minnesota's Music Educators Convention at Minneapolis.

The choir represented Worthington in the District 8 Solo and Ensemble Contest at Luverne and the Region 2 Solo and Ensemble contest at Worthington. Many stars (A rating) were achieved by the hard working choir members.

Have We a Song for You . . . . . Choir Performances Provide Community With Entertainment

It's a difficult decision as to which choir will be performing. Choir officers devise a means by which a choice is made. "May the stronger voices win," is the cry as the Choir I and Choir II officers pull for their choir. Choir I Officers Steve Boucher, secretary; Ann Guthmiller, treasurer; and Pat Graff, president, vie with Choir II Officers Roxanne Ella, secretary; Nancy Tims, president; and Sue Suby, treasurer, for the performance at the Worthington Atrium. Members are often called upon to entertain at the Atrium.

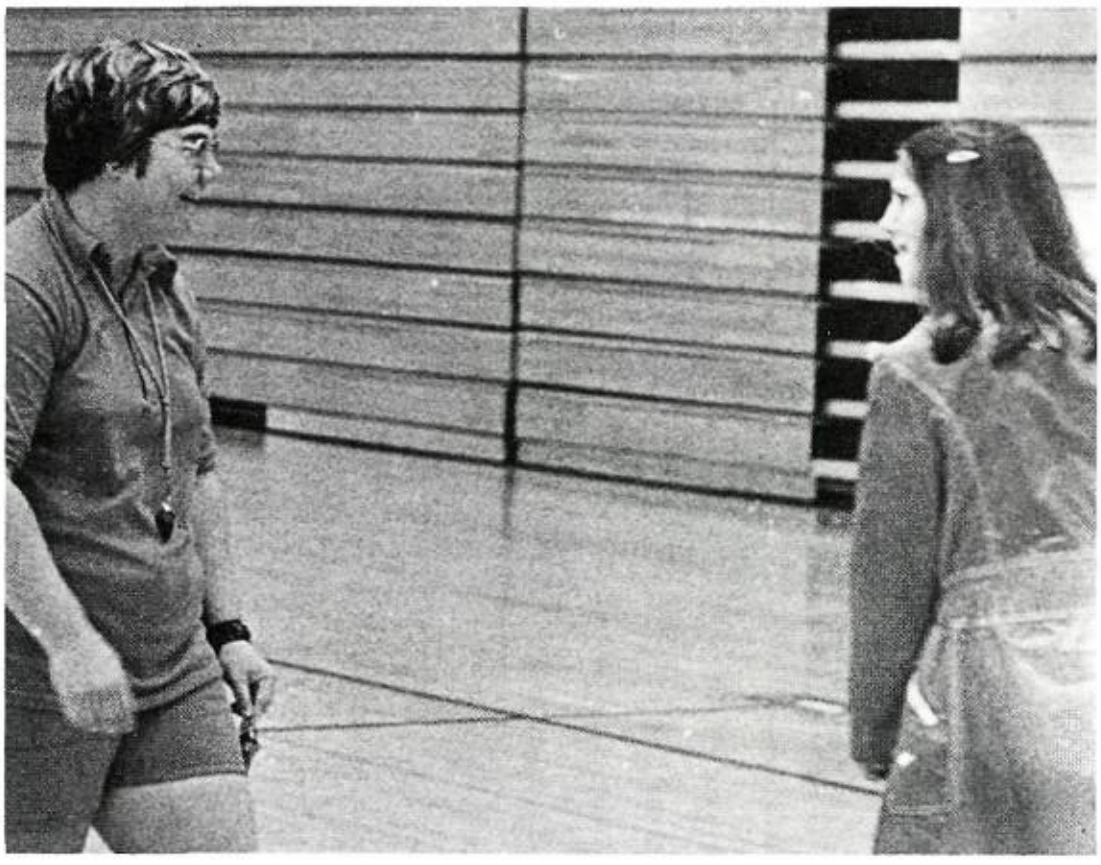
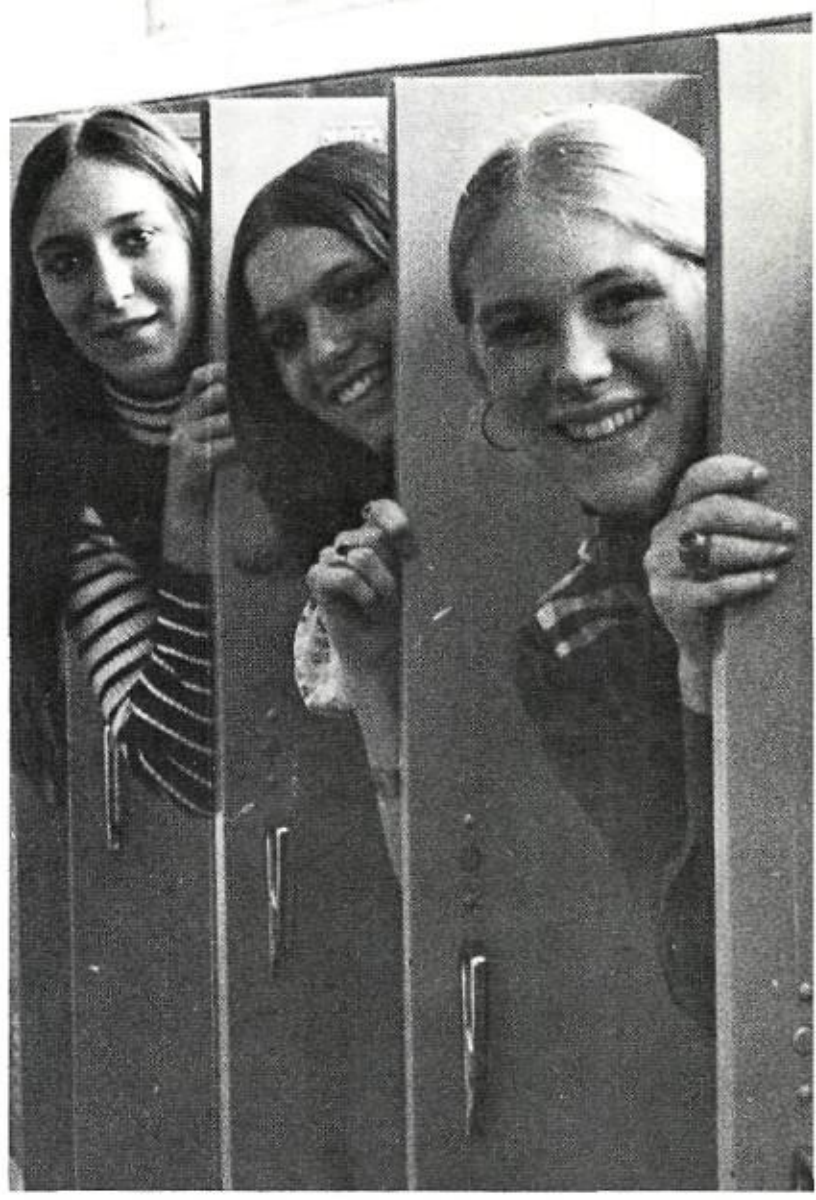
Trojanetts, They've Got Spirit—At Every Pep Fest You Can Hear it



"I can't believe it," exclaims Cathy Bishop, "Miss Cooper smiling? Somebody call an ambulance!"



Trojanette officers this year were: President Pat Graf, Vice President Dana Little, and Secretary-Treasurer Kathy Patrick.

The Trojanettes of 1973-74 had a busy year. They had spirit coming out of their ears and then some. Besides keeping up with their lung exercises of yelling their heads off at every pep fest and game, they still had time for a breather and put their busy-bodies to work at presenting pep skits and the usual painting of signs. Their clever little jingles put school spirit right on the gymnasium walls.

Other activities of the club involved the purchase of their traditional Trojanette sweaters. Of course there was always the possibility of the club's future projects being bigger and better than before.

Trojanette officers were President Pat Graf, Vice President Dana Little, Secretary-Treasurer Kathy Patrick, and the spirit-filled advisor, Linda Cooper.

The club's effort proved worthwhile and provided the necessary team support for the season.

Trojanettes show their enthusiasm and provide team support during pep fests and games.

New Purchases Complicate Duties of Projectionists and Library Clubs

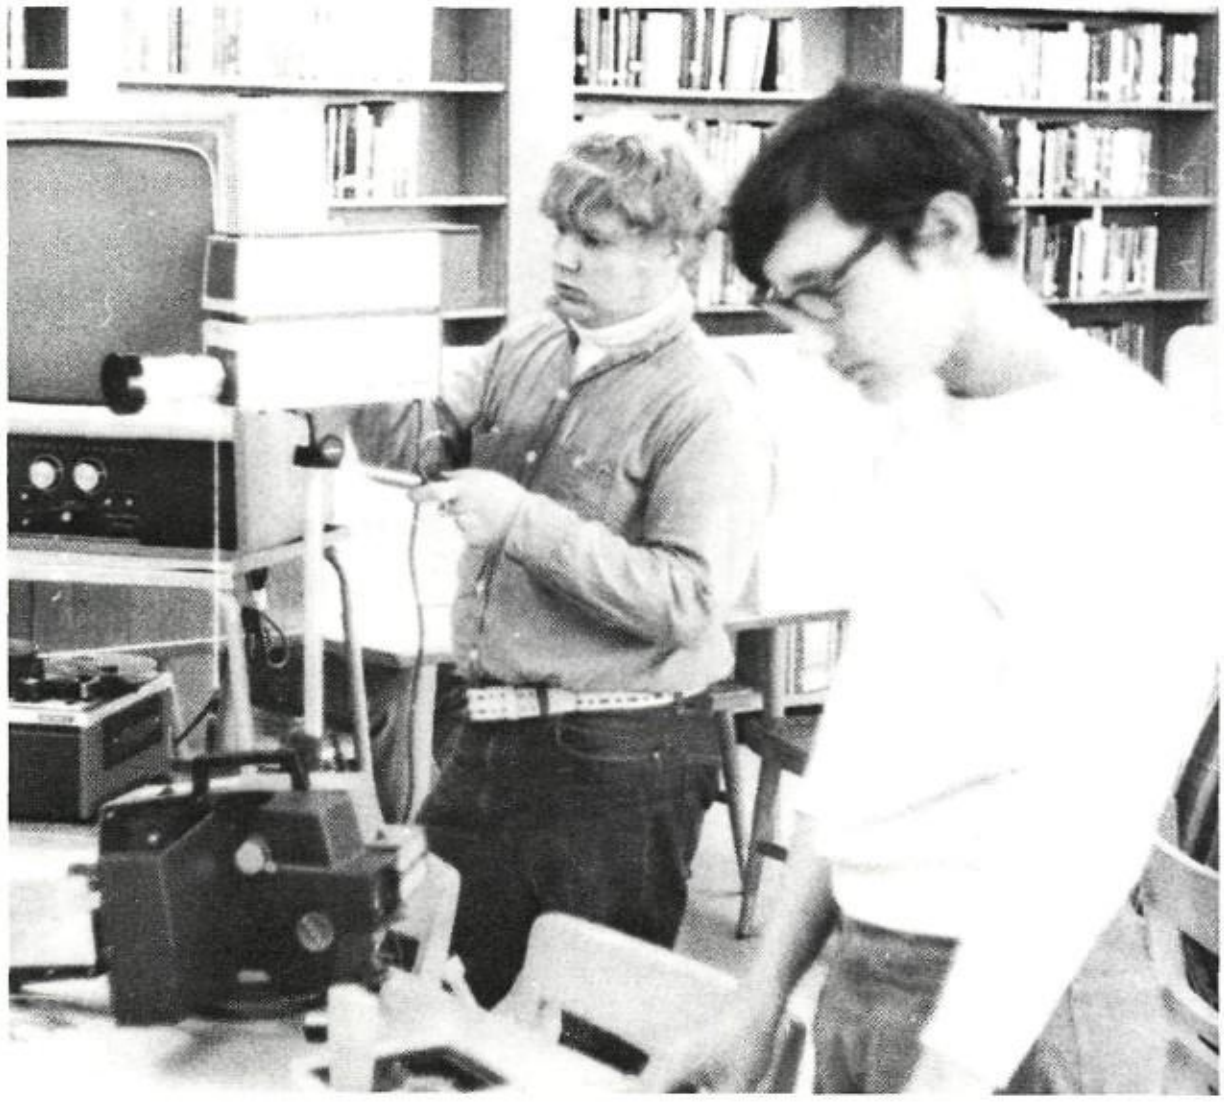
Under the supervision of Mr. Dwayne Honnerman both the Library Club and the Projectionist Club served the teachers and students throughout the year.

The assistant librarians worked during their free hours checking books in and out of the library, numbering new books, rearranging shelves, typing various reports, and filing magazines and books.

The Library Club enabled students to get a sample of what it was like to be a librarian.

Each of the members in the Projectionist Club had their special duties. Lydell Woodbury was the thermofax technican and film projectionist, Stephen Lamon, the film repair and maintenance, and Jeff Lemke the TV operator. The boys also assisted teachers by bringing needed equipment to the proper rooms at the proper time.

"May we help you?" questions the Library Club girls. The girls assisting students in the library are: Seated: Janet Lunz. Front Row: Laura Drake, Julie Hoffman, Lori Fienhage. Second Row: Lydell Woodberry (Projectionist Club member) Connie Bruns, Lana Donkersloot, and Dannette Bowman.



Much is required of the members of the Projectionist Club. After each usage, equipment is inspected, repaired, and then stored. Jeff Lemke double checks the Video Tape camera while Stephen Lamon repairs damaged film that was returned.

No, it's not a commercial for Sony, it's only Mr. Dwayne Honnerman adjusting one of the three Video Tape cameras. As Advisor of the Projectionist Club, Mr. Honnerman is responsible for all audio visual aids.

Right Exposure Is Quest of the Camera, Art Clubs

The Aristocrats, commonly known as art club, were in full swing throughout the 1973-1974 school year. The club supplied the students with a good chance to seek the versatile directions of art.

The job of the president is shared equally by Shelia Lewis, Lana Donkersloot, and Cindy Johnson. They are advised by Mr. Harold Schulz.

In the absence of a structured course, photography is provided students through membership in the Camera Club. In addition to tips on good photography, members roll their own film, develop their film and finally, evolve with a print. In addition to using the darkroom facilities and their skills for personal improvement, members are often called upon to take pictures for various classes, organizations, paper, annual and occasionally teachers for a class activity.

President Dean Hanson, Vice-President Jim Earl and Advisor Mr. Herbert E. Pederson worked with the novice photographers.

Mr. Harold Schulz relaxes while he lets Cindy Johnson, Lana Donkersloot, and Shelia Lewis rule the Aristocrats. The three girls share in the responsibility of leading the club in their yearly activities.

"This layout is an excellent one, Lucinda. By Joe, I think you've got the hang of it," complements the annual advisor, Mr. Herbert E. Pederson.

"Oh come on Jennifer, you're not going to use this picture, are you?" questions Nancy Roberts of Jennifer Behrens. Scheduling and re-scheduling pictures, planning and re-planning layouts, writing and re-writing copy seem to be a never ending task of the annual staff members.

"These negatives are great, absolutely fantastic!" exclaims a pleased staff photographer, Douglas Scholten. Taking pictures, developing negatives, and printing the pictures for deadlines is a demanding task.

The Green House "Annual Staff Room" Nothing but the Best Emerges

Every annual staff dreams of having an All American annual. The new-blooded staff was no different and although they had no knowledge of what lie ahead, their ambitions withstood all frustrations.

To complete a 164 page annual within four months was no easy task. However this did not stop the 1973-74 TROJAN staff from teaming together to produce another year's book of memories.

One of the first lessons learned by the new staff was how not to answer questions when the curious student body constantly inquired about the color and content of the book. One learned that she had to answer with only her name, rank, and serial number.

The staff attended a workshop sponsored by the American Yearbook Company at the Worthington Community College. Many new and interesting ideas were presented, some which were of great help to the staff.

With the help of Mrs. Betty Buchele filling in during the short absence of the advisor, Mr. Herb Pederson, the staff met their 4 deadlines with success. Outstanding leadership was also provided by editor, Marcia Opsata and assistant editor, Suzanne Boots.

Usheretts Offer Their Assistance at Public and School Functions

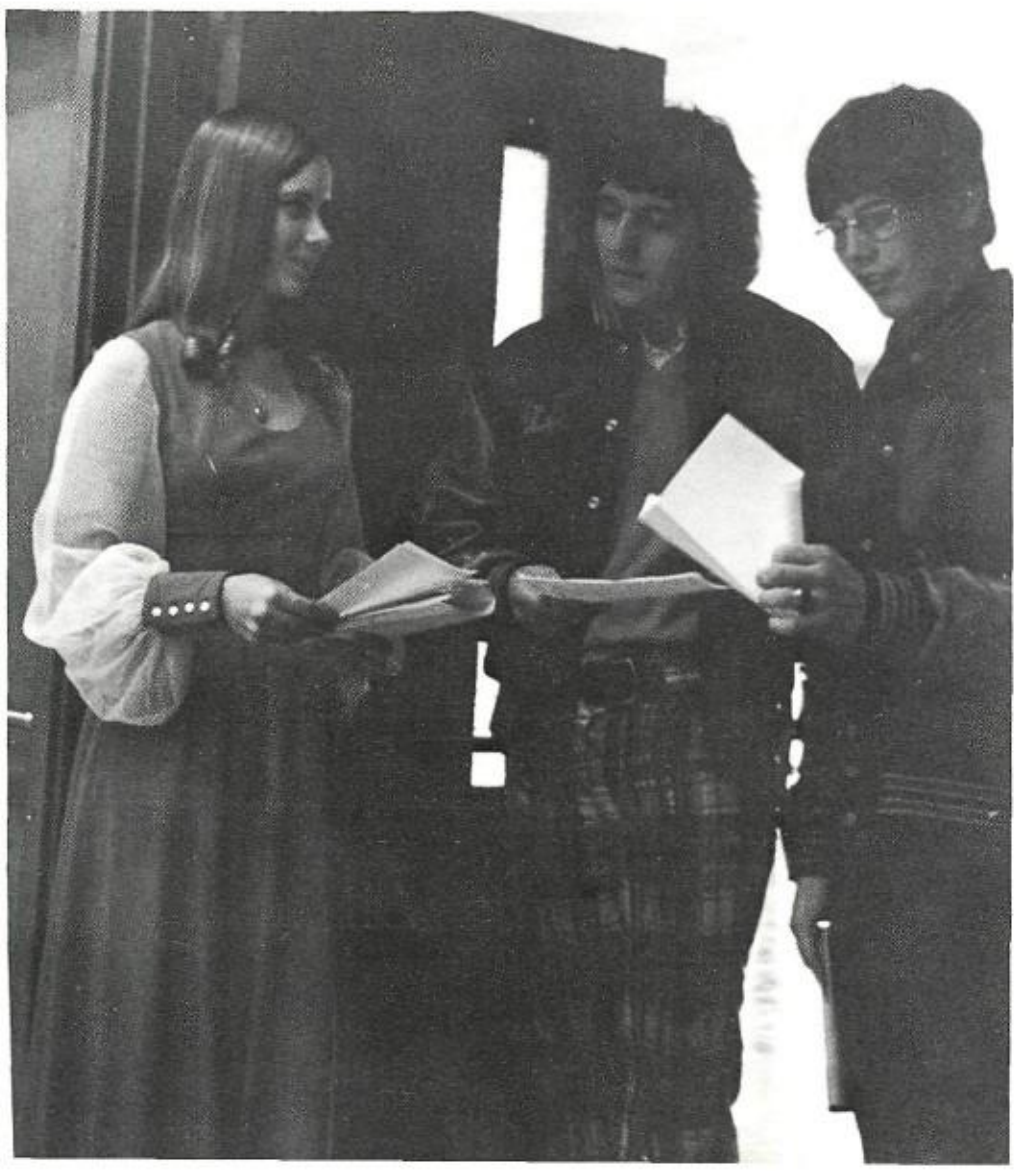
The Usherettes Club consists of a group of senior girls organized for the purpose of providing services for their school and community.

The girls ushered and handed out programs for the band and the choir concerts. Also they ushered for the Civic Artist series.

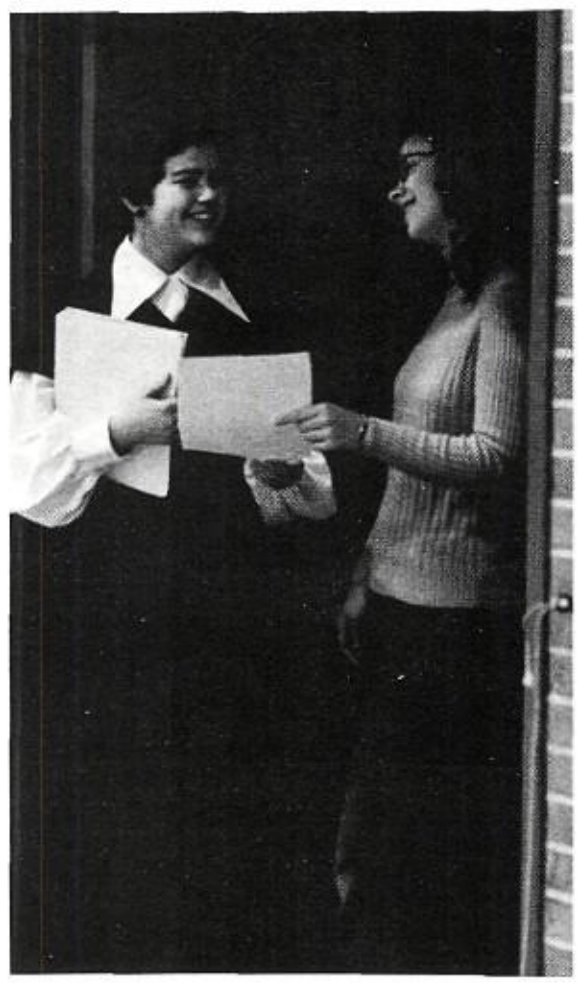
Leading the girls were: President Ann Guthmiller, Vice President Beth Franzen, Secretary Star Sall, and treasurer Nancy Barkaloo.

The advisor for the Usherettes was Mrs. Patricia Schulz.

Rick Nelson and Tom Fagerness accept programs from Usherette Shelia Lewis befor attending the Christmas Choir Concert.



Nancy Barkuloo displays the Usherett motto "Service with a smile", as she passes a program to Wendy Gruss.



A Christmas dinner at the Atrium lobby of Worthington's seven-story hi-rise took on a festive look when tables were set up and residents were treated to an early Christmas dinner. The event was a special project of the Future Homemakers of America, who served the meal and saw that all residence had his share of the Christmas goodies.

You Will Know Them by Their Love and Respect for Others

The Future Homemakers of America had a great year of many accomplishments. The members were always on the go and were willing to provide help.

One of their main opportunities was providing their services to the Senior Citizens at the Atrium. Lending a hand to such things as combing and setting hair, cleaning and general house work, and just friendly chats were encountered. Also they served the annual Christmas dinner.

The FHA Club kept busy throughout the year with their Christmas candy party, a bowling party, and a fall picnic. They also serviced the Faculty coffee hour and the food stands.

The Advisor of FHA is Mrs. Marilyn Miller and the club leaders were: President Althia Posey, Vice President Ruth VanGrouw, Secretary Rhonda Ailts, Treasurer Barb Fuerstenberg, Historian Bev Slater, and Parlementarian Sharilyn Nielson.

Below: FHA members are well known to residents at the Atrium, helping them throughout the year by cleaning, airing drapes, running errands and fixing hair. Advisor Mrs. Marilyn Miller and members Sharon Balster and Beverly Kepka look over a list of duties to perform.

Big Achievements Accomplished by WHS FFA Chapter

The past year's Future Farmers of America accomplished many rewarding achievements.

A big event of the year was the winning of the National Gold Emblem Chapter Award. Six chapters were picked out of the state to compete in the national contest. The Worthington chapter was among the top third that received the gold or highest award. There are about 10,000 chapters in the nation.

The chapter entered their first place state Agricultural Mechanics team in the National FFA Agricultural Mechanics contest at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri. Team members, Richard Penning, Donald Rutgers, and Joel Joens were accompanied by their advisor and coach John Wright. The team was one of 44 FFA mechanics teams that participated in the contest. The team evolved victoriously with first place honors. This was the first national contest ever won by our Worthington chapter.

The leaders of our future farmers are sitting: Treasurer Randy Schroeder, Reporter Bruce Lindemann, Sentinel Leo Bicknese. Standing: Secretary Chuck Soderholm, Vice-president Dennis Jacobs and President Paul Lindemann.

In addition to the Agricultural Mechanics team Randy Schroeder, Earl Standafer and Doug Harberts attended the National Convention.

$700 in cash and 1000 bushels of corn were collected for a grand total of $2750 in the corn drive for the handicapped. The earnings of the project were divided among Camp Courage of Annandale, Minnesota, the local Lakeview Crippled Childrens School, and the Achievement Center of Worthington.

Minnesota's State FFA President, Greg Schley of Brainard, was guest at an early morning breakfast hosted by the local chapter. The entire club was invited to visit with President Schley.

A new tradition in the FFA chapter is the electing of the FFA Sweetheart. The members nominate girls from the school and vote on one girl to be their sweetheart. The tradition was started in 1972. The 1973 sweetheart was Dawn Eshleman. She also was named district sweetheart.

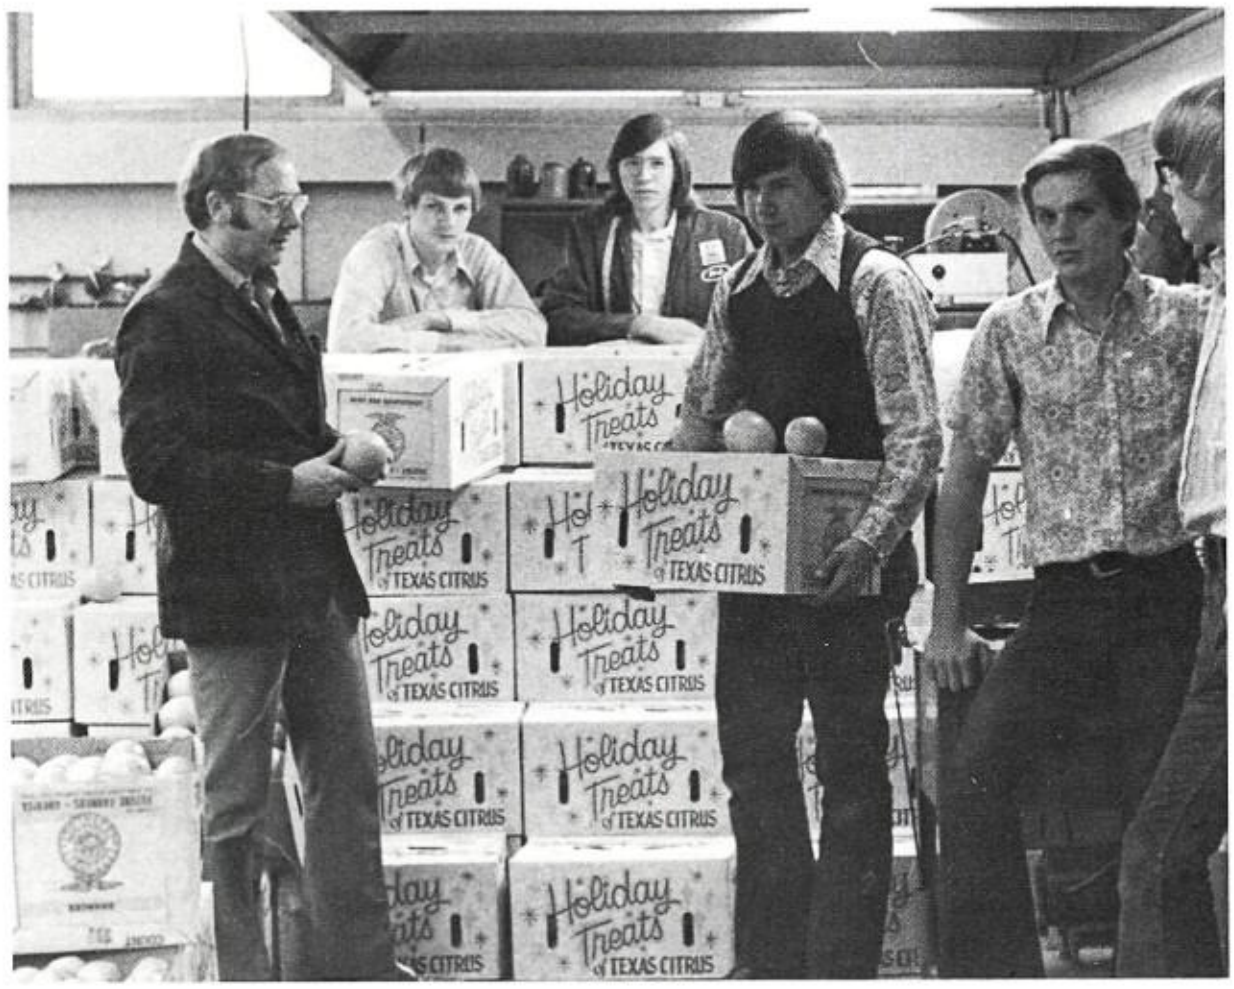
American Farmer, Chapter Award, All Part of FFA

The annual fruit sale produced $1500 which went to the Jerry Russell FFA scholarship fund and the annual parent-member banquet. The 1973 recipients of the $100 scholarships were Keith Miller and Don Rutgers.

Worthington chapter was honored when two of its former members received American Farmer degrees. Both boys, Randy Lindemann and Marvin Zylstra, are well established in farming.

Along with other activities, the members participated in the Crop Show and the Slave Auction.

But not all the FFA activities were hard working contests. The members got together to play football and basketball, to go roller skating and to have just plain fun.



Center Right: FFA advisor Martin Aaser and members Richard Lupkes, Merle Vanden-Berg, Wyman Swanson, Daryle Pomranke, and Randy Schroeder examine the oranges and grapefruit that arrived for the annual fruit sale. The fruit sale has been very successful in the past years.

Job Training Obtained Through Agriculture Occupation

An organization that gave the boys of Worthington Senior High the opportunity to work in various occupations, was Agriculture Occupation.

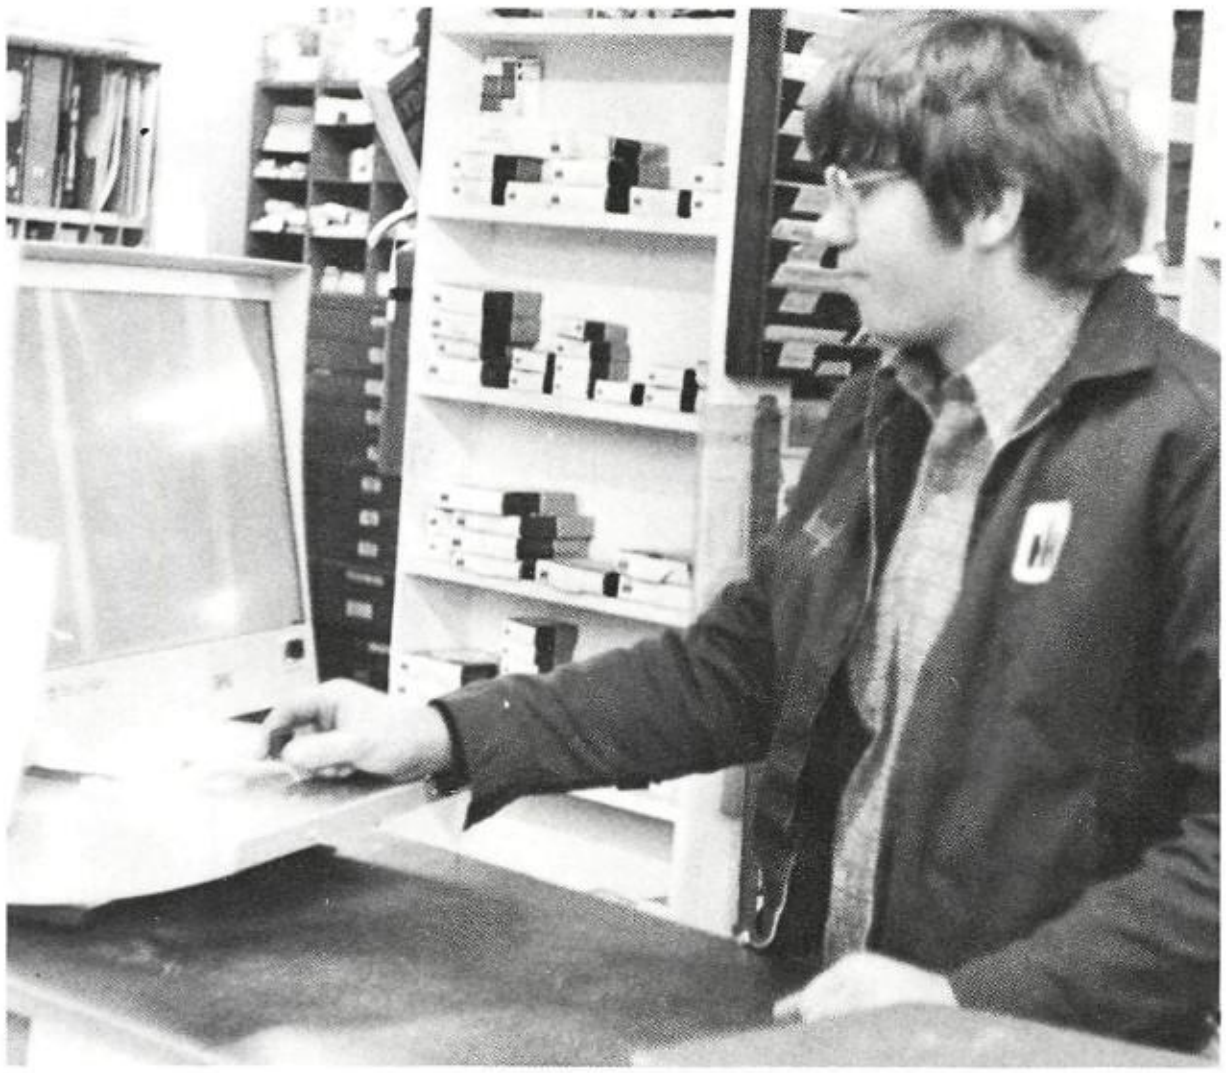
Most of the boys attended school in the morning and worked in the afternoon. With the on-the-job training the boys obtained experience for an after graduation job.

The eleven boys that participated in Agriculture Occupation were employed in businesses around town, such as S & L Garage, Payless Cashway, and Gopher Auto Supplies.

To be in Agriculture Occupation, the boy had to be a senior and a willing worker.

The boys were required to do a project that was in some way connected with their jobs.

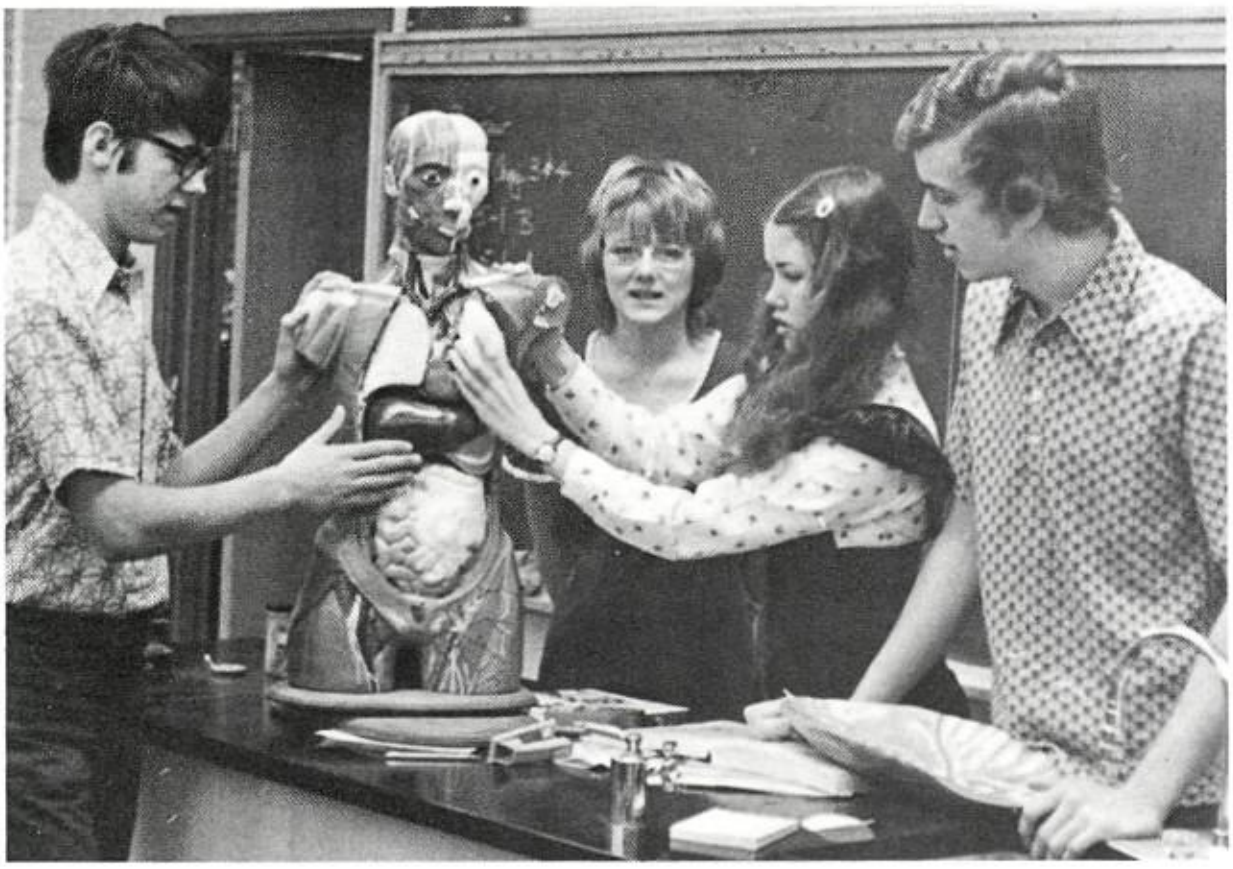
Mr. Martin Aaser was the boys teacher and advisor.



Turning on the microfiche, Daryl Sibson is disappointed when he finds that he can only get part numbers and not the Pink Panther cartoons, Daryl works out at Watlands International Co. as part of the agriculture occupations class.

Discovering the cars problem, Merle VanderBerg eagerly finds a remedy for it. Merle works part-time at Schoon Motor Car Company.

Daryle Gruis, a member of Agriculture Occupation, checks over some reports and orders with the secretarys, Lin Mathias and June Powers, at Consolidated Co-Op, Elevator Company. Daryle attends school in the morning and works the afternoons.



"This is the spleen." "No, this is" "Well, folks that ends the educational show for today. We'll see you all next week." The inside structure of the human body has attracted the minds of Karl Seisler, Brenda Joens, Deb Clauson, and Tim Reker.

Biology Club Explores Career Opportunities While Field Biology Explores Wyoming

For the student interested in the field of science, Biology Club was the club for them. The members of the club looked into the different career opportunities offered in the field of science. To help the students look into these opportunities, tours were made to the Vetinarian Clinic, the Opthaniologist Clinic, the Chiropractic Clinic, and the Worthington Reginal Hospital. Various speakers were, also, invited to talk to the group.

The members also participated in the annual picnic at Kilen Woods.

Officiers chosen to preside throughout the year were Karl Seisler, president; Brenda Joens, vice president; Deb Clauson, secretary; and Tim Reker, program chairman. With the help of their advisor, Mr. Leo Peterson, the club had an enjoyable year.

Twenty-one adventurous students packed their gear and followed their leader, Mr. Peterson, to the Grand Tetons in Wyoming.

The assistance of Mr. Robert Buchele and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Seisler, the group returned with only minor cuts and bruises.

The run up the mountain is just too much even for the young and the young at heart. Warmed by the sun rays dancing through the tall pines, Charlotte Doeden and Karl Seisler relax and ponder the happenings of the day.

"Ok, Ok, I said two changes of clothes per week! Who brought the suits and evening gowns?" Mr. Leo Peterson ponders his next move. Gear, equipment, food, twenty-one students and four chaparons must also squeeze onto the bus for the Field Biology trip to Wyoming.

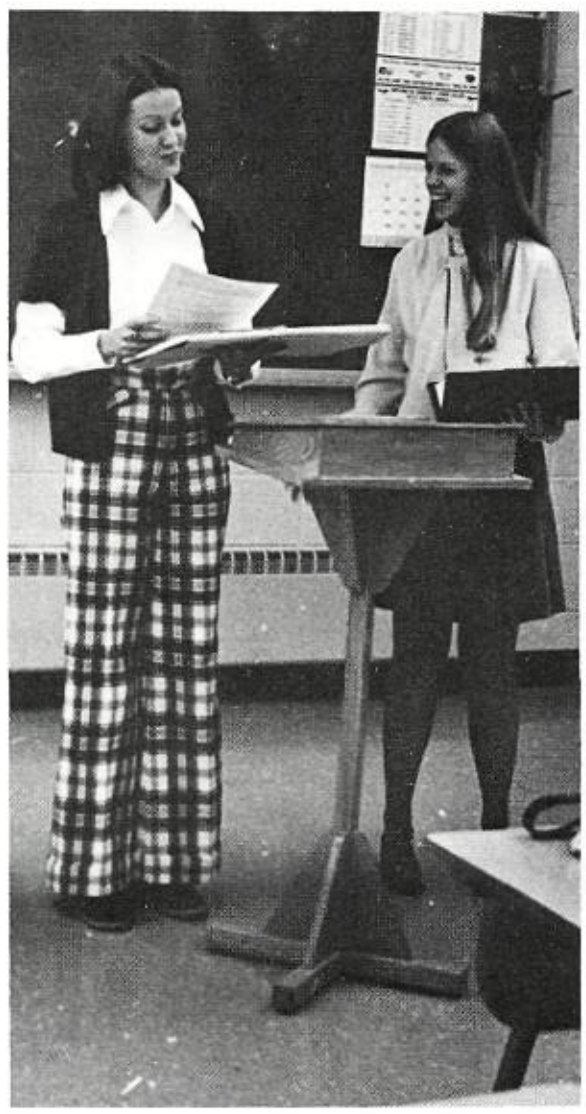
Debaters Are Faced With Employing the Unemployed

Last year the Worthington debate team was confronted with the National topic resolved: that the federal government should provide a program for the employment of employable United States Citizens living in poverty.

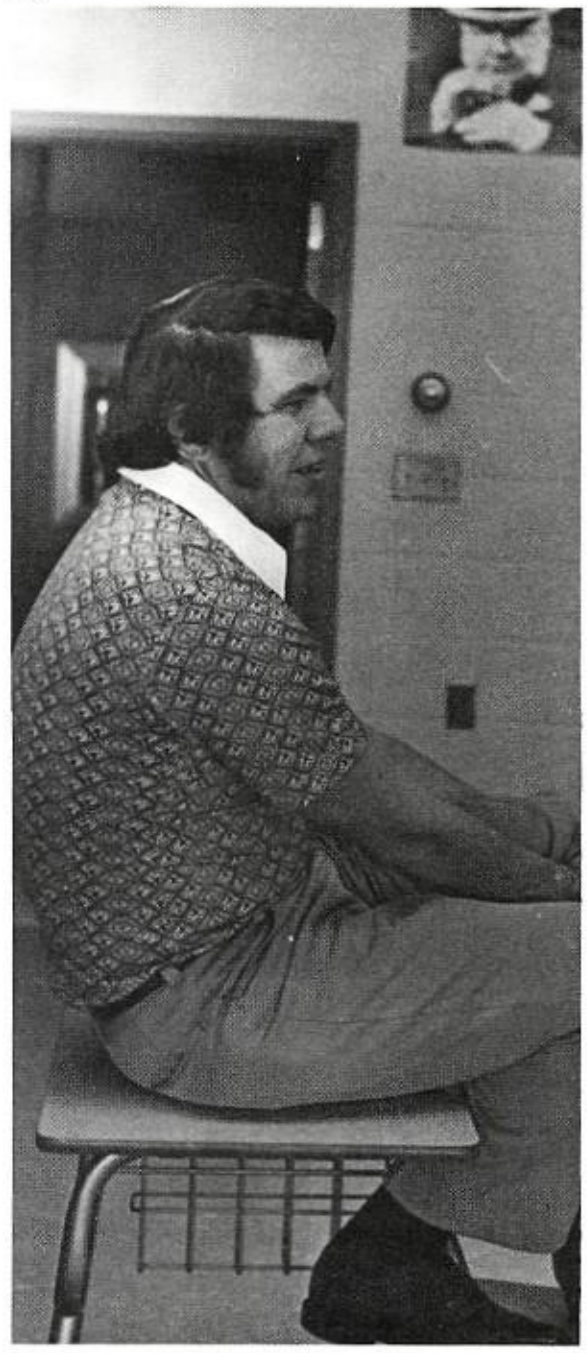
The starting tournamant for the Trojan debators was hosted here on Oct. 20 and another tournamant was hosted here on Jan. 4 and 5. They hosted the Regional Debate Tournamant which was in Feb. This particular tournamant pulled in debate teams from five surrounding states.

After the debate season was completed, their attention was turned toward declam. The team hosted a tournamant on March 8 and 9, also they hosted the sub-district tournamant.

Mr. Schmid stated that the plans for the future are to "Keep on Trucking!"



"Gosh, isn't this fun Janet? Well we might have to revise this some, Becky, although it is pretty good." Janet Hedeen and Becky Troth are part of the fantastic Wgtn. debate team.



"That was a very good debate, but I know we could do better. Couldn't we?" Mr. Schmid the Worthington Trojan Debate Coach, is very convincing, when he wants to be.

The Trojan Band was nominated in September as one of the outstanding high school bands in America and became a nominee to participate in the International Band Festival in Vienna. On November 15, Bandmaster Glenn Evensen, was notified by telegram that Worthington had been selected for the trip to Vienna. A great honor — yes — but, Mr. Evensen gratefully declined the honor in light of a travel budget of over $50,000. The honor and idea was great, but unfortunately, somewhat unrealistic.

Settling for area and State-wide recognition, "The Band Played On" and dazzeled the area crowds. Various formations, and particularly the Diamond formation, became their trade mark at the football half-time shows.

An Indoor Marching Band Concert was initiated this past year. Numerous formations and half-time specialities were performed for a crowd of over 2,000.

It is estimated that the Trojan Band has appeared before a half million people this year, either via television or parades. Miss America and the Turkey Day performance was a major high light of the band members. The televised Augustana College Viking Day activities found the band members as TV stars.

The annual Winter and Spring Concerts further demonstrated the excellency of the band. The Swing Band, or as they are professionally know, the Sophistocats, performed during Wrestling meets.

Officers for the Band were Lynne Hinz, president; Perry Kallevig, vice-president; JoAnn Plucker, senior representative; Kevin Flynn, junior representative; and Tom Johnson, sophomore representative, Casey Ingenthrone strutted before the band in the armor of the Trojan.

Something NEW has happened in the Worthington Senior High Music Department. A review of the football half-times shows is introduced by means of an "Indoor Marching Band Concert."

Mastery of Unique Routines Is Goal Set by Twirlers and Flag Bearers

Always ready to perform with their flaming and illuminated batons, the Worthington Senior High School Twirlers are called upon for both school and community functions.

Always in demand for their many unique and perfected routines, the Twirlers and Flag Squad performed at every home football and basketball game, various parades and community activities. In addition, they were one of the highlights of the "Indoor Marching Band Concert."

Under the direction of Mrs. Jan Petersen, herself an accomplished twirler, illuminated and flaming batons added to the performance of the girls. Precission routines, as well as individual demonstrations, enthralled the spectators.

White gloves, patent leather boots, sparkling vivid red costumes, the roll of the drums, and the rigid high stepping girls unmistakably described the Flag Squad. The Flag Squad was under the supervision of Miss Linda Cooper.

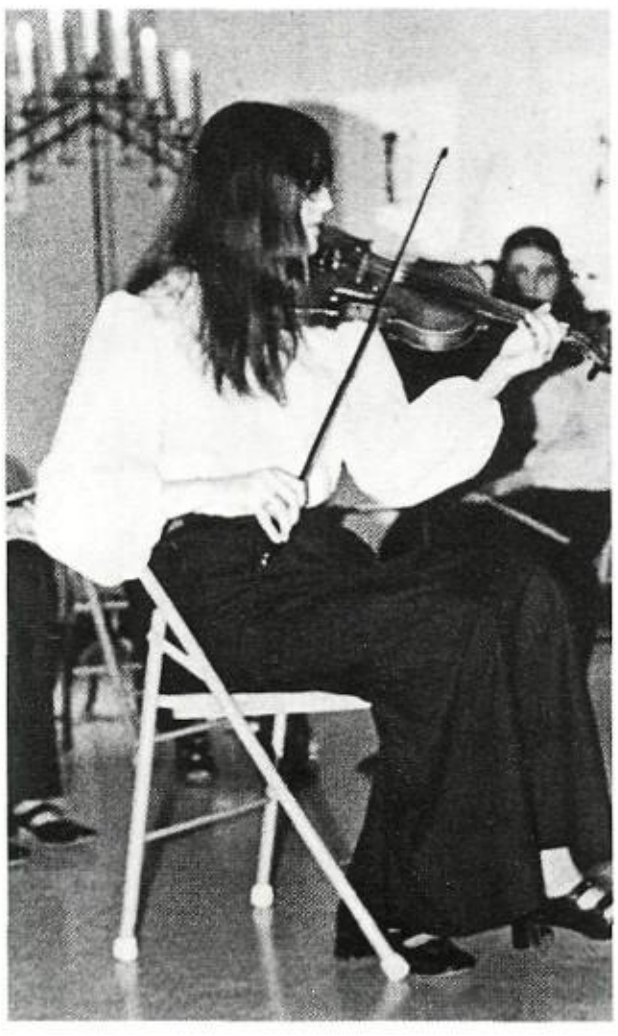
At one of the candle light services Cindy Hudson plays her violin with extreme concentration to show that the art of music of a string instrument is indeed complicated.



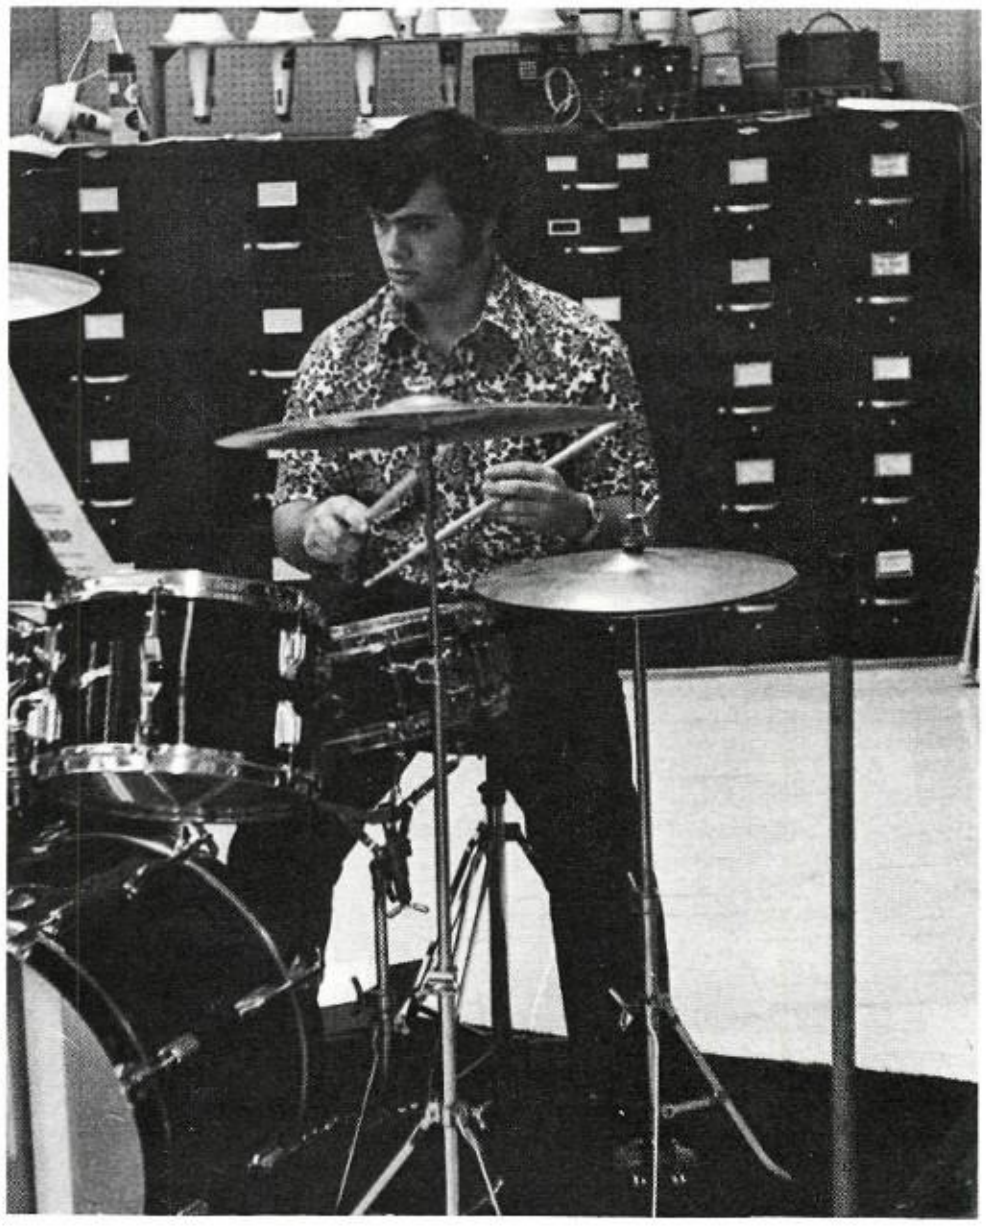
There was music in the air throughout the 1973-74 school year as the Orchestra, conducted by Mrs. Beth Habicht, practiced and performed many styles of music. When they appeared in concert their musician-like style attracted the public's ear for good enjoyable music and the crowds were quite reasonable attended.

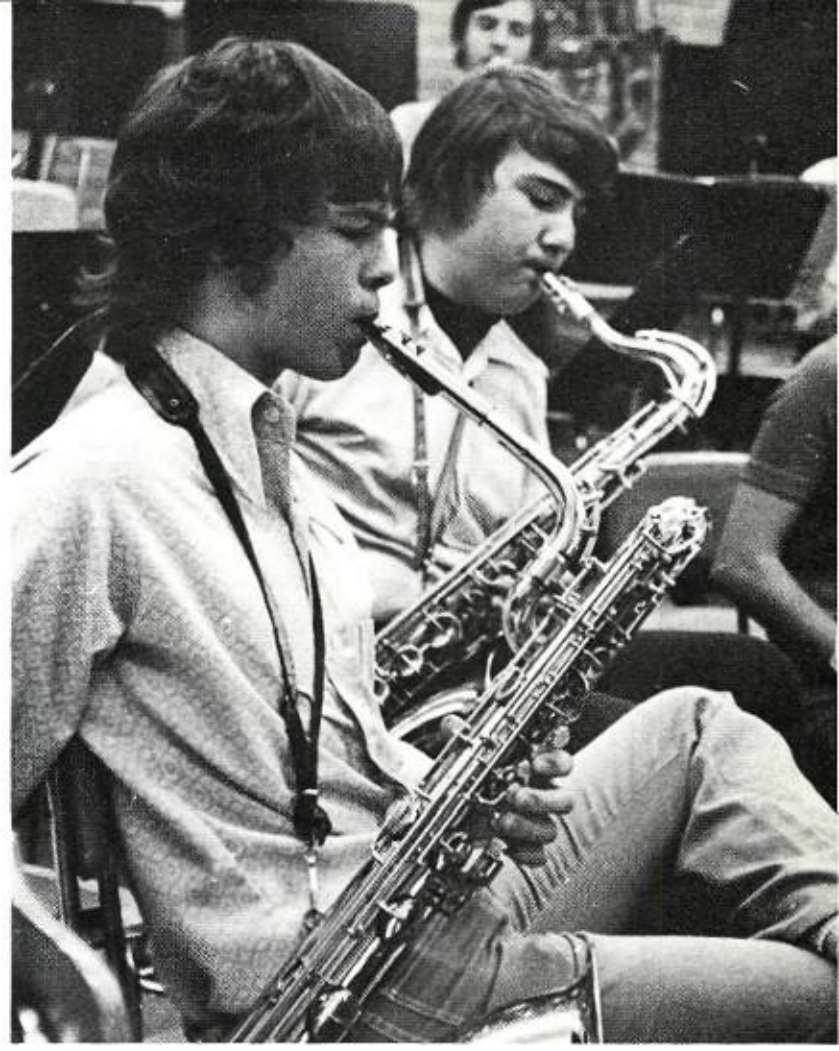
The Orchestra had many appearances throughout the year some being the candle light services and other school and public events. Also for the first time in history, the Worthington Senior High String Orchestra appeared on television as guests of Party Line. Surely they were appreciated by many television viewers as their style showed class.

Two important events participated by the Orchestra in the Spring are the musical contests held at Luverne and the Spring Colorama, in which the Orchestra plays an important part featuring many popular tunes. Also the Orchestra sometimes provide services at the hospital, the Atrium, and at other such functions.

Mrs. Beth Habicht's Orchestra meets 3rd hour every day and they use this time wisely to develop the fundamentals of playing string instruments.

Carmen Smith's cello playing adds effect and style to the classical and mild tunes performed by the string orchestra. Their appearances and concerts are enjoyed by appreciative audiences.





Below, Karen Raedeke, Kathy Madison, and Nancy Tims, a string ensemble take time out for a breather and smile for a picture after putting in an hour's hard work of down to earth practicing during 3rd hour Orchestra. The Orchestra and strings appear in concert many times throughout the year and entertain well as music is their major.

Sophiscats Blow up a Storm, Orchestra and Strings Perform

But mother ... I wasn't doing anything wrong, complains Chantal Stacey (Melissa Mahlberg) to Germaine Stacey (Sasha Vajadinonvic). Chantal distressed with her fathers recent actions complains with a saddened look upon her face.

"But daddy, I was just going to have my picture taken for the calendar." Insistant upon posing for the calendar and insistant that she's not, John Stacey (Stacy Rubsam) forcefully drags Chantal Stacey (Melissa Mahlberg) from the photographers studio.

"All right people, this is your production if you want it to go over good you better settle down and work!" The demanding director was of course, Alan Swanson.

(Right) "Robert Swan! You can't be, because there is no Robert Swan! Don't you understand? Your not real, you can't be," exclaims Chantal Stacey (Melissa Mahlberg) to Robert Swan (Craig Behrens) and Gene Wright (Jim Kuhl).

"My goodness, this young woman is certainly photogenic! There's something special about her—but I just can't put my finger on it. I wonder what it is," ponders Gene Wright portrayed by Jim Kuhl. "Wow, he sure is good looking. Wonder if he's married? Doesn't look like the type. I'll have to see what I can do about that." ponders Chantal Stacey (Melissa Mahlberg). If only they could read each others thoughts!

"Hi Handsome! My name's Tina and of course your Gene. I'd know YOU anywhere," exclaims Tina Brook portrayed by Deb Clausen.

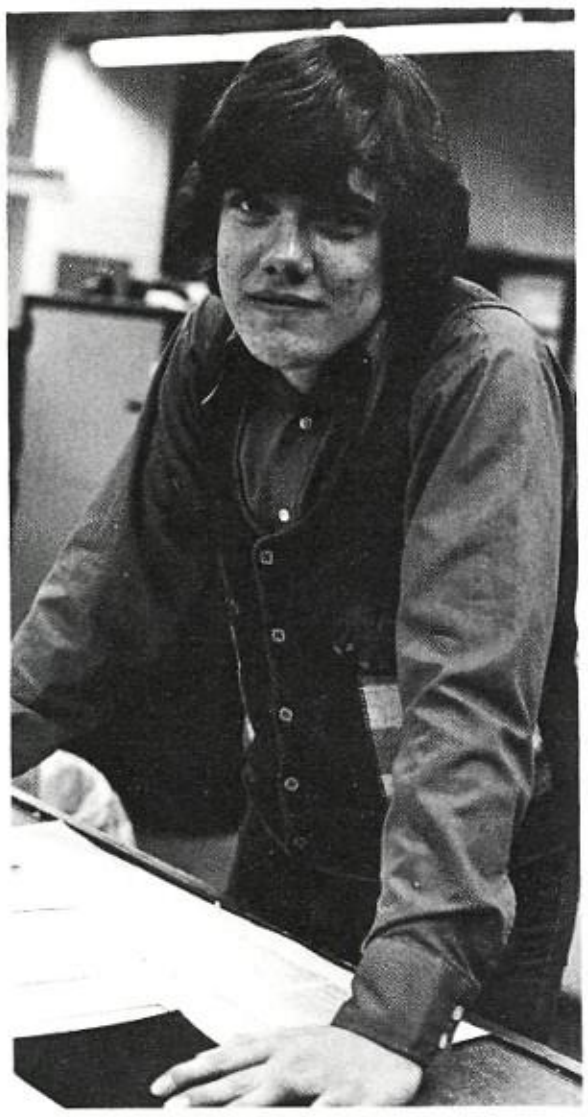
W-High Star Under New Leadership; Miss Wert Advisor

Although the editor was not new leadership of the W-High Star has changed hands. Miss Karen Wert began her first year for advising the school paper.

The W-High Star received the first class rating. Rating was done by the Nation Scholarship Press Association.

Staff members that attended the Minnesota High School Press Association. Fall Conference, came home with two first places, one second, and an honorable mention. The receivers of the awards were Mark Jepperson, Cartoon; Dean Hanson, Photo; Charles Temple, Editorial Page Layout; and Kimberley Peck, Sports Page Layout.

Helping Miss Wert run the paper is Editor in Cheif Charles Temple, News Editor Steve Potts, Sports Editor Patti Fish, Feature Editor Kathy Stubbe, and Photo Editor Dean Hanson.



"If you guys would stop fooling around, I would like to get back to work" exclaims Charles Temple. Being the Editor Charles is responsable for the paste-up.

"This smile is only going to lasts a few more seconds and when it's over you better be gone or I'll blow my top" fortells Miss Karen Wert.

Only a few members of the hard working W-High Star staff were able to stop for their picture. They are Front Row: Karen Radeke, Mary Fauskee, Kathy Stubee, Tim Landis, Back Row: Dean Hanson, Steve Potts, and Jim Temple. The W-High Star members are responsable for gathering the information for their story, setting up the pictures meeded, and writing it in the proper form.

The main topic of the Campus Life group is the meaning of life. As Tim Landis, Peggy Morphew, Mary Fauskee, Melissa Mahlberg, Mr. Keith Leverentz, and Cindy Vosberg discuss the matter, each finds something new about themselves. The success of the club might be accounted for in the fact that it helps teenagers find out who they are, which has been a problem for many throughout the years.

Campus Life Aids Students in Finding the Real Meaning of Life

Campus life is now in it's third year at Worthington Senior High School. It's attendance has grown from a meager ten to what is now 75 or more. They have been meeting in the home of Dr. M. W. Plucker under the leadership of Mr. Keith Leverentz, a 6th grade teacher at Central Elementary.

Mr. Paul Yearout was invited to speak to the members. He spoke on the subject of making life better for the other person.

There are numerous rallies held at Mountain Lake throughout the year which the members attended.

Health Careers and VICA Have Similar Main Purpose

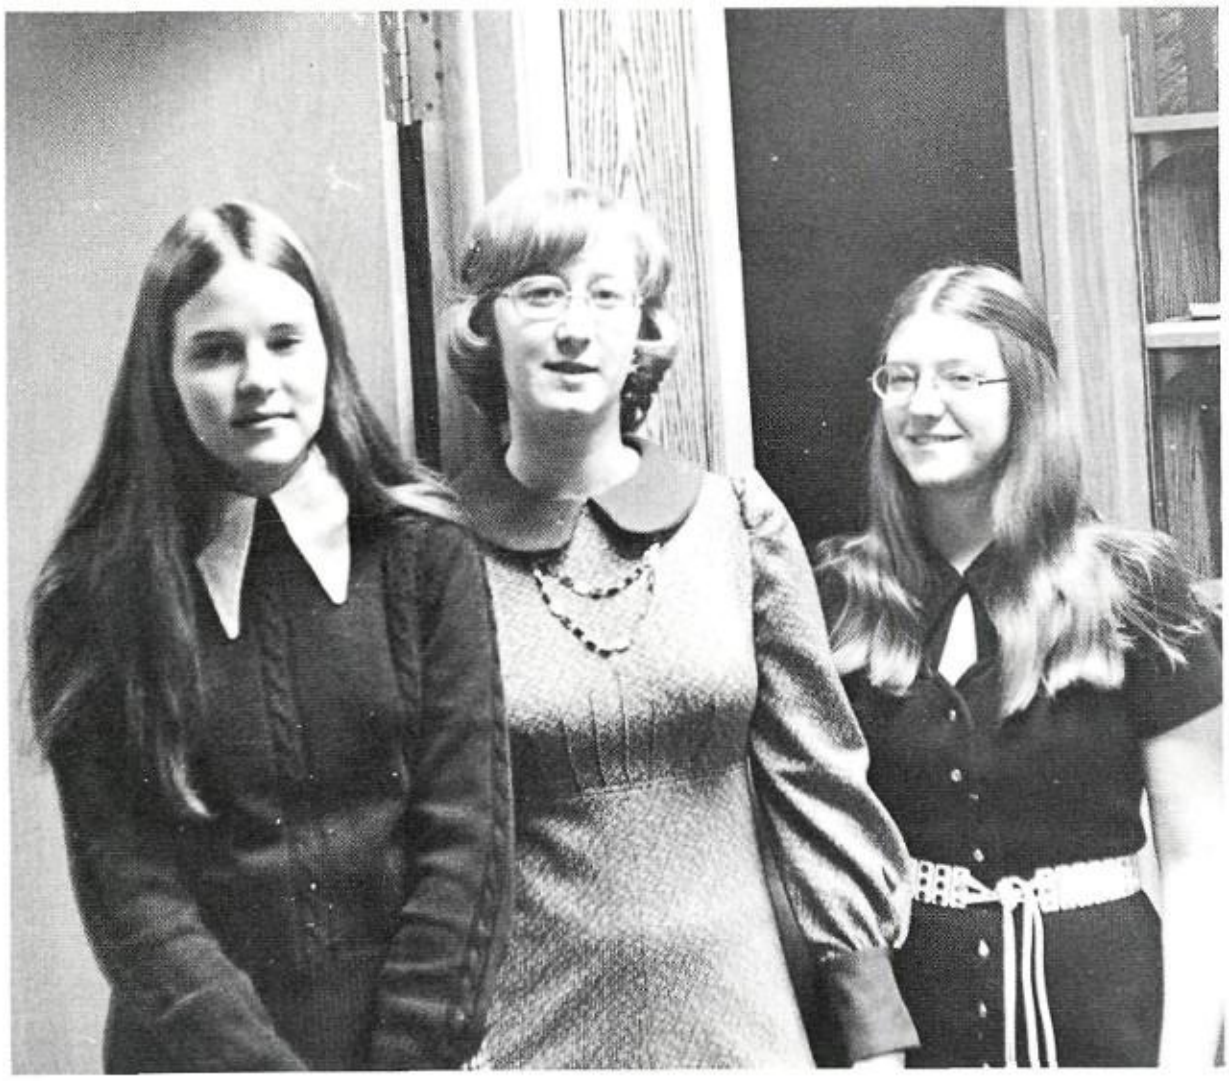
The Health Careers Club tried to present an over-all view of different fields in medicine and health to it's members. The club advised by the school nurse, Mrs. LaDonna Bergeson, was under the leadership of Juanita Johnson, president; Barb Balster, vice-president; and Diane Walther, secretary.

The members of the club helped give the montoux tests at both the Senior High and the Junior High.

VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, consist of the students enrolled in the Food Occupation class and the Health Occupation class.

Through the club and the class room program, members are trained in their chosen profession.

Advisors for the club were Mrs. Sharon Gay and Mrs. Marjorie Netwal.



To lead the Health Careers Club are Vice-President Barb Balster, President Juanita Johnson, and Secretary Diane Walther. The girls assist the advisor, Mrs. LaDonna Bergeson, in presenting the club members with interesting ways to learn about the nuberous things connected with health.

This year there is only one set of officiers ruling over the VICA Club. They are: Front Row: Secretary Theresa Slater, Vice-President Sue Smith, Historian Laurie Sieve, Back Row: Reporter Jan Johnson, President Deb Clauson, and Treasurer Karen Sieve.

DECA and OEA Unite for Helping Students in Business

The DECA officiers for 1973-74 school year were Tommy Martens, treasurer; Theresa Gertsema, historian; Terry Mess, president; and Condance Melin, Historian. Missing from the picture is Rhonda Swenson, vice-president, and Sally Understock, secretary.

Distributive Education Chapter of American and Office Education Chapter of America have a similar purpose in mind; to provide students with the opportunity to experience the business world.

The students are required to attend a one-hour classroom phase in the morning and most are placed in a job for the afternoon. Some of the various jobs that the students work at are sales clerk, secretray, and bookkeeper.

Both clubs received funds from selling candy bars. DECA put their money to work by sponsoring a foster child from Vietman, and OEA used their money for State, National, and Fall Leadership Conference.

The advisor for both OEA and DECA was Mr. David Haugen. Mr. Haugen also taught the morning classes.

Kathy Anderson informs Lori Pfeil that either the gauge is not working right of Lori's blood pressure is high at 220. Both girls are members of the Health Occupation class taught by Mrs. Netwal. The classes meets every morning during fourth hour.

OEA officers for the year are: Kneeing; Daine Baumgarter, Treasurer; Sandra Dammer, Historian; Standing; Cindy Eisele, secretary; Sharon Ella, vice-president; and Laurie Sauer, President. In order to be a club member, the student must attend the classroom phase.

(Above) Finally, December 14, snow. Members of the newly organized Ski Club "went" bananas" over the new fallen snow. President Jeff Lemke is bombarded by Secretary Marcia Opsata and Treasurer Sarah Ludlow. How does one preserve the fluffy stuff for the slopes?

The Worthington Senior High School started its first organized Ski Club this year, attracting 80 members. Officers elected to preside over the members were Jeff Lemke, president; Marcia Opsata, secretary; and Sarah Ludlow, treasurer.

The club held several business meetings to discuss trips, finances and exchange ski information. One meeting consisted of several ski movies to generate enthusiasm. Also a lecture demonstration was planned with the help of Great Bear Ski Area to introduce beginning skiers to equipment and the basic procedures.

Five short ski trips were planned and one possibly overnight trip.

A Snow Week Celebration ended with a dance sponsored by the Ski Club.

Think Snow Is the Cry of Ski Club Enthusiasts; Key Club Enters Fourth Year of Community Service

This year, the Key Club has co-advisors, Mr. Alan Swanson, a member of the faculty, and a local business man, Ralph Johnson. They are sponsored by the Kiwanis Early Risers and happen to be affiliated with the larger organization of Kiwanis International. Any senior high boy is eligible for membership in the service club. Its now been in operation for four years.

The Key Club sponsored a Christmas shopping spree for the Crippled Children, which enabled their season to be a little brighter. They also went door-to-door selling popcorn throughout the community.

Club meetings were held once a week on Wednesday nights, at the Country Club, at six o'clock. During this time, the source of funds and the use of money was discussed.

(Below) Key Club members devoted 4 nights in the helping of the students from the Lakeview school accomplish some of their Christmas shopping. # School Spirit Has Enthusiastic Revival, Thanks to Trojanaires

It is returning ... an exciting, aggressive school spirit. The enthusiastic leadership of the boys' pep club, the Trojanaires, are partially responsible. Bright red Trojan T-shirts, numerous pep skits, and the congregation of the club at sporting events added greatly to the spirited spectators at the athletic events.

Advisors, all coaches, were Roger Lipelt, Kenneth Drogemueller, Douglas Perry, and Donald Basche.

Overtime, 5-2 SW Conference Record for Keep on Truckin' Trojans

A powerful Owatonna team spoiled the Trojan opener 39-14 on August 31. Mike Iblings scored the first Trojan TD of the season when he scampered 71 yards from scrimmage. Mike Iblings second touchdown of the night was set up just two minutes later by a fumble recovery by Kevin Flynn. Nine plays and 34 yards later, Iblings took the pigskin over from the 3-yard line. Don Schlichte and Don Baumann combined as passer and receiver for the 2-point conversion.

The Trojans came within an eyelash of registering their first win of the season on September 7 before seeing Fairmont come on with the fourth-quarter TD and a 14-8 win over the Trojans. An 8-0 score held for the Trojans until the last 3 minutes of the contest. A Trojan defense, led by Randy Bauermeister, along with good defensive work by Leo Strom, Casey Ingenthron, Steve Boucher, and Bruce Beck, kept the Cards no closer than the Worthington 30-yard stripe until the closing minutes of the game.

The Trojans broke loose with 4 TDs in the second half to stop Slayton 38-6 on September 14. A ferocious ground game—netting 352 yards in the game—finally turned the tide for the Trojans after a scoreless first half. The Trojans' defenders held the Wildcats to just 75 yards on the ground and 34 through the air. Kevin Flynn and Mike Caldwell came up with pass thefts in the game while Casey Ingenthron had a fumble recovery for Worthington.

September 21 found the Jackson Blue Jays sneaking by the Trojans for a win of 15-14. The Blue Jays turned a fourth down and 27 yards to go situation and a TD early in the final quarter which led them to a narrow 15-14 Southwest Conference win.

A determined Trojan defense held Marshall to just one first down by rushing, and sweeping a victory for their Homecoming Football game on September 28. The Trojan defense team held Marshall to 63 yards rushing and 26 through the air for a net rushing and passing of 69 yards. Late in the second period, the Trojans began a drive that started on their own 44-yard stripe. Aided by an 18-yard halfback option pass from halfback Don Schlichte to Mike Iblings, the Trojans moved in for their first and only scoring of the night. The Trojans copped an 8-0 win.

Sparked by two long kick returns, the Trojans came on to stop the Redwood Falls' Cardinals 22-8 in Southwest Conference football action on October 3. The large partisan crowd was electrified on the opening Redwood Falls' kickoff to the Trojans. Arnie Wheeler gathered the ball in on the 7-yard line and started for the right sideline. In a neat bit of ball handling, Arnie Wheeler handed off to Mike Iblings who came roaring back against the grain and sprinted up the left sideline for nearly 80 yards before being downed on the Redwood Falls 11-yard line.

It was an error-filled football tale with the Trojans escaping with their lives and an 8-6 win over the Windom Eagles on October 12. Mike Iblings went over from the 6 on a great individual effort. Mike Iblings also received the call when the Trojans ran for the 2-point conversion, and again Mike Iblings was successful. It looked for a split second as if he were going to be stopped on the conversion, but the 150-pound back kept driving to go on for the all-important 2 points. With the clock reading just 18 seconds left in the period, the Trojans had the lead of 8-0, the score the ballgame was to remain at.

October 19 featured a hard-hitting football contest with the Trojans coming on in the final period to stop Pipestone Arrows 20-6. For 3 quarters of play, it was a close contest—as the final statistics show—with neither team able to gain a real advantage. Quarterback Don Schlichte engineered the first scoring on a drive that began on the Trojan's own 26-yard stripe. It was not until late in the final period that the Trojans finally put the game away. Arnie Wheeler, with his 3 TDs and 114 yards in 19 carries, led the Trojan offensive.

October 19, the final game of the season, was a heart breaker for the Trojans. Two evenly matched teams —both with identical 5-1 Conference records—battled it out, with the Luverne Cardinals taking a thrilling 24-22 overtime victory. Greg O'Brien drove 78 yards for the first 6 points. Greg O'Brien hit Andre Kirkwood on a 14-yard scoring pass play. Andre Kirkwood swept right end for the 2-point conversion to give the Trojans the initial lead of 8-0. Bruce Wilson intercepted 3 Luverne passes in the second period.

The first theft prevented a Cardinal score, with the second interception setting up the go-ahead Trojan TD. Aided by a 31-yard pass from Don Schlichte to Dave Boucher, the Trojans moved for another 6-pointer in 9 plays. Finally, with 8 minutes to go in the game, a big break occurred when Luverne recovered a Trojan fumble, and turned it into a 6 pointer. As the clock ran out, a 16-16 score faced the teams. Then came the history making overtime play, a first under the new rules, a first for Worthington. The results was a heartbreaker. Worthington bowed to Luverne 24-22.

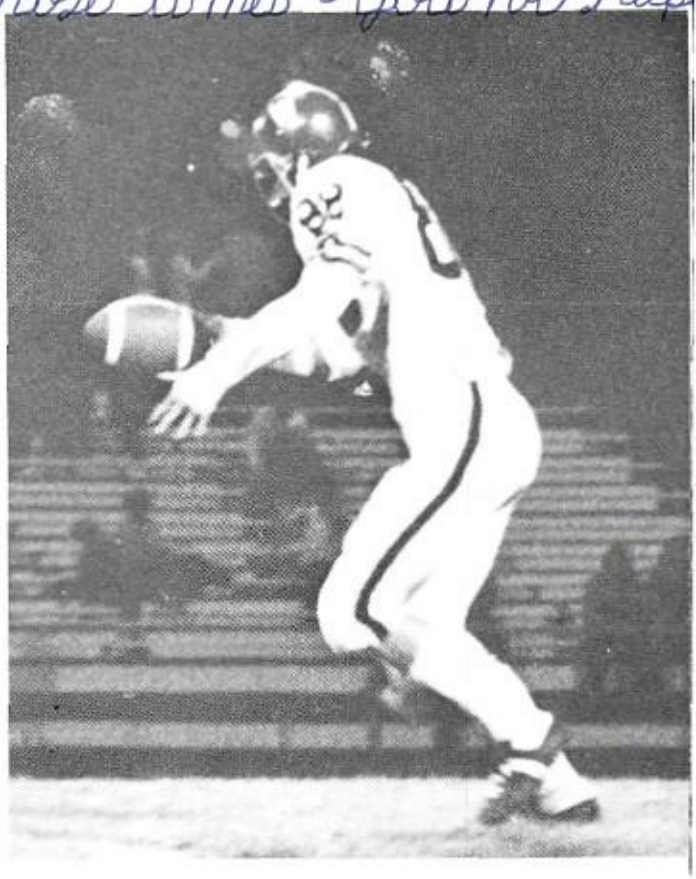
Bob!
Another year's almost over and yet it seems a though we just finished our great summer vacation! What would I do without you and Joh My summer would've been so boring! You're really a great person. I'm really glad you listened to me all those times - you've help me think that life is really worth living. I hope you know I'm always here if you need someone to talk to or just someone to listen and understand and care. I really mean that. You're one of the only people I can really talk to. You're a fantastic brother and friend. I wish more girls could know what it's like to have a guy like you to lean on - and even sometimes use your shoulder to cry on!!!! I promise I'll pay back all the gas I owe you for all those times you hauled me home! We had a great time last summer but this summer should be greater! Thanks for understanding all my "problems" last summer and this year. It was nice having you around. Don't forget me this summer - a farmer's daughter's life can be dull without you travelling salesmen coming out to make my life exciting! We've only got one year left - let's make the best of it! We can really tear down the school as seniors! Bob, let's not drift apart - I need more friends as special as you. I don't know how to thank you for everything!

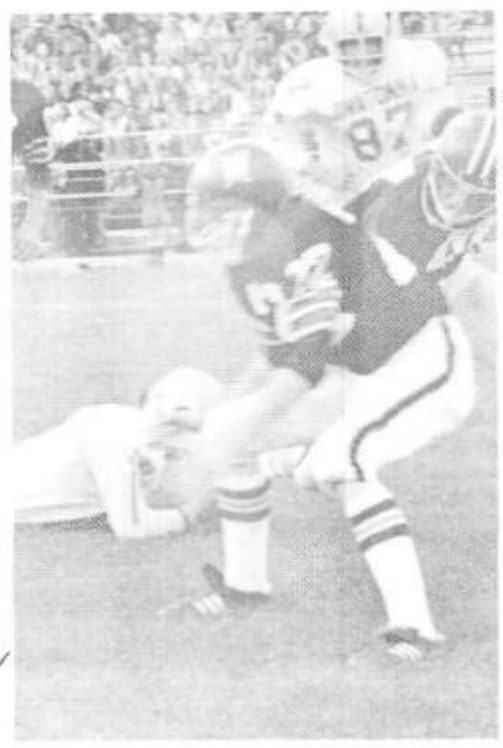


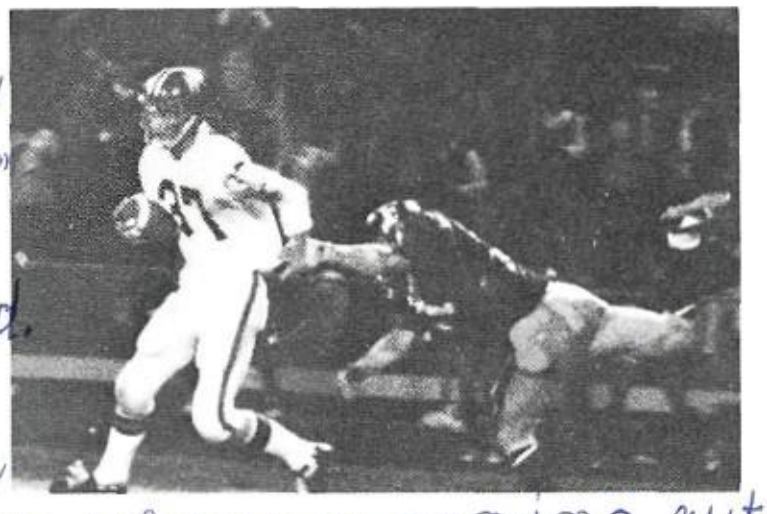
Senior punter, Steve Boucher, puts out all of his energy to produce another fantastic punt for the Trojans.

Captain Arnie Wheeler starts off the season by extending a welcome to his Owatonna opponent.

Bruce Wilson, who proved to be a great asset for the Trojans, moves in for the kill.

Picking off his first pass of the season, Mike Caldwell proves to be a fine defensive back.





→ I'm gonna care about you forever and ever. I mean that. Maybe I should just wish for you all the things you've hoped, dreamed and prayed for, but I've already done that zillions of times! One more time can't hurt! Good luck now and always, forever and ever! Stay the wonderful guy you are (maybe you'll give me a few lessons on how to be wonderful?)! Well, now that I've written a book, all I can say is thanks, and take life easy as it comes. God bless you! I'm gonna always be one of your greatest fans, "Jo"! I'm glad you're not as dumb as you have to act! Better go! See Ya!

Love Ya, Forever!
Karen

Quarter Back, Don Schlichte, maneuvering around his opponent scores a touchdown.

Phil Christianson, jumping for joy while our team made a touchdown.

Mike Iblings, strives to help the Trojans on to another victory.

Evading the grasp of an opponent, Andre Kirkwood goes on to score a touchdown.

"Eat Em Up Mighty Trojan" is ready for the Bomber Squad to break through. A good building season, the Bombers racked up a 2-3 record.

Building Experience Equip Bombers for Varsity Squad

"Look out you guys!" yells Ronald Gasca as he looks for an opening, and a touchdown. Bomber team mates block effectively to help with the winning touchdown.

The 1973 Bomber football team ended the season with a 2-3 record. Jackson and Windom fell to the "B" squad, but Luverne, Pipestone, and Fairmont proved they were the stronger teams.

Inspiring the team were four energetic cheerleaders, Roxie Ella, Nancy Nunes, Michelle Streeter, and Sue Suby. Assisting the cheerleaders was Miss Linda Cooper.

Coaching the Bombers was Mr. Kenneth Droegemueller, assisted by Mr. Patrick Shaughnessy.

Injuries Prevent Harriers From Reaching Full Performance

With many grueling, lonely miles behind them, the Trojan Harriers fell victim of that one feared opponent of any athlete in any sport—injury.

Under the direction of Coaches Mr. Richard Adel and Mr. Larry Petersen, the Trojans gained a berth in the Region 2 Cross-Country Meet. However, they lost the services of Karl Seisler, who broke a bone in his foot.

The Harriers achieved a Region 2 berth by finishing third in District 8 competition. Led by the running of Freshman Rick Brandl, the Trojans limbered up for conference, district and regional competition by winning one of three dual meets and finishing on top of their own triangular meet. Various invitational meets provided the Harriers experience in larger meets. They served as hosts of the Sixth Annual Turkey Trot, traveled to Fulda, Pipestone, Rock Rapids, and Hills-Beaver Creek.

The Slayton Wildcats copped the first Southwest Conference title ever, leading the field at the hilly Jackson course and from there, went on to capture both District 8 and Region 2 championships. Rick Brandl paced the Trojans with third place finishes in both the Southwest Conference and District 8 meets.

Entering the Region 2 meet, held at Windom, the Trojans' hopes were held by varsity qualifiers Rick Brandl, Mike Traphagen, Kevin Hilfers, Barry Bisbee, Steve Von Wald, Lowell Larson, and Don Schield, filling in for the injured Seisler.

The Harriers were to be riddled by not one, but two costly injuries. Premier runner, Rick Brandl, sustained a back injury while warming up prior to the race, and was forced to drop out after two miles. The remainder of the team compensated somewhat for the loss of Rick Brandl as they all bettered, or came close to, their previous best times. Mike Traphagen crossed the finish line first for the red and black placing 14th overall. Kevin Hilfers finished 18th followed by Barry Bisbee, 30th; Steve Von Wald, 47th; and Don Schield, 62nd; as the Trojans finished eighth, capping off a fine season.

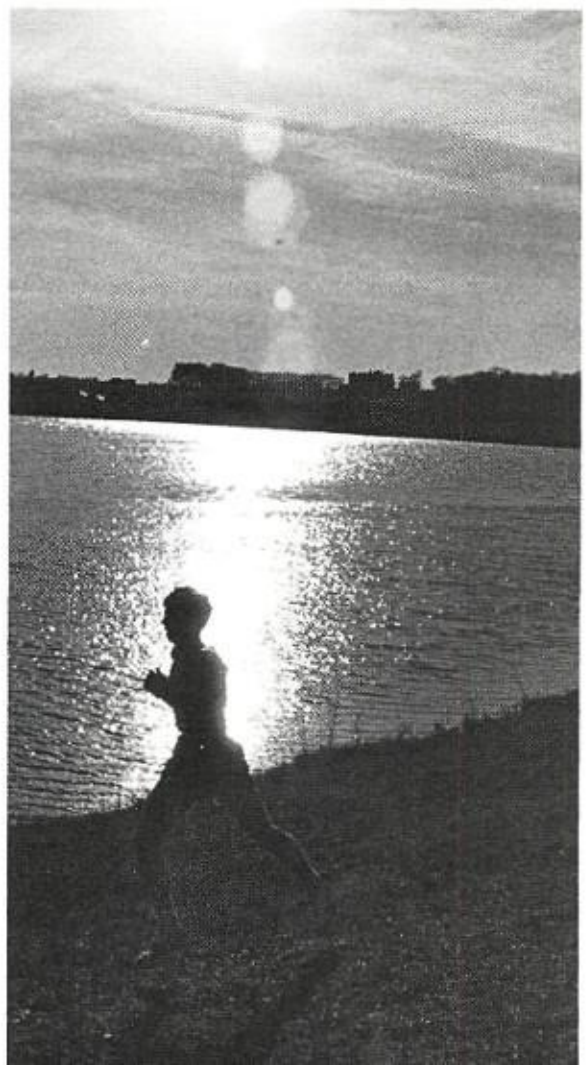
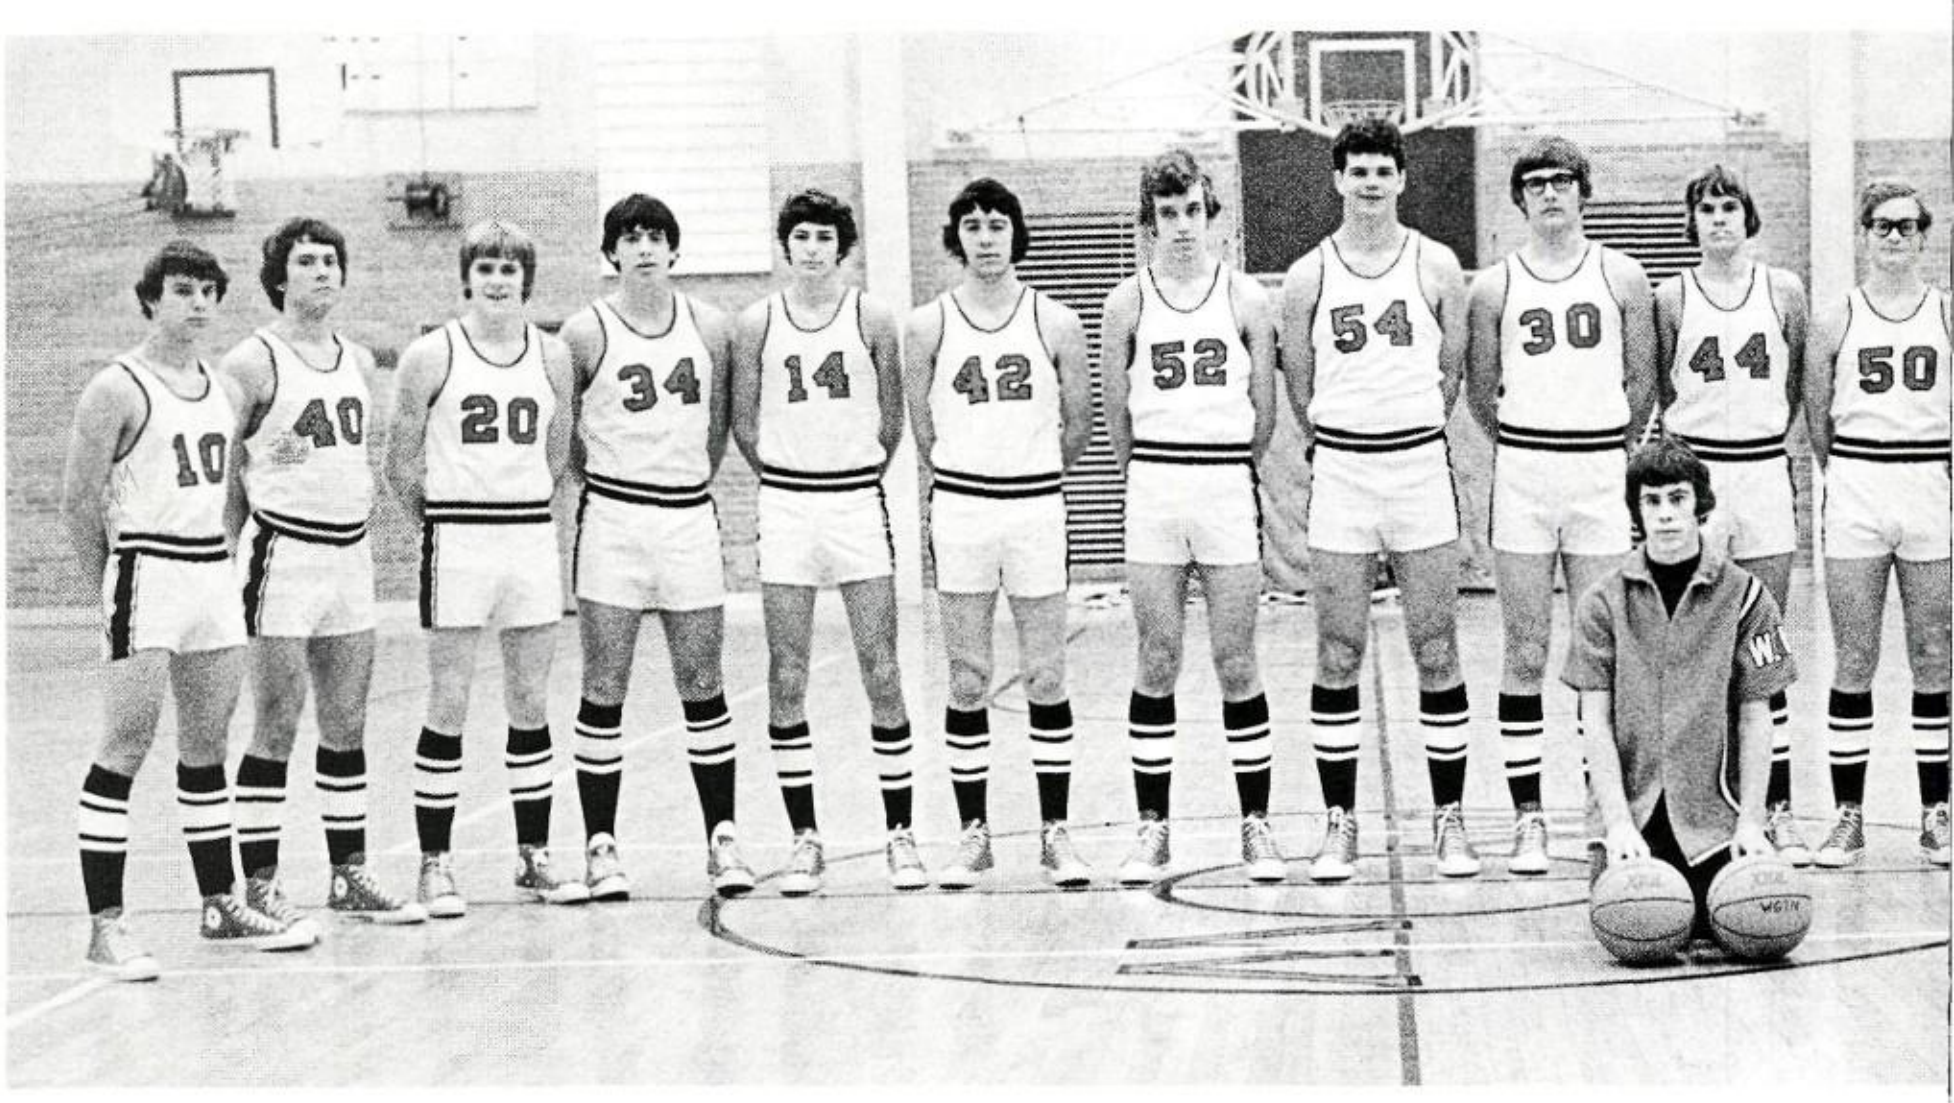
Right: In the hot September sun, a Trojan Harrier leads the pack along the course that takes him by the cool, refreshing waters of Lake Okabena.





Below: "Hey guys, I've got a new play," explains Coach Don Basche to the five returning lettermen. They are: Bruce Wilson, Greg O'Brian, Steve Wiertzema, Larry Granstra, and Tim Reker.

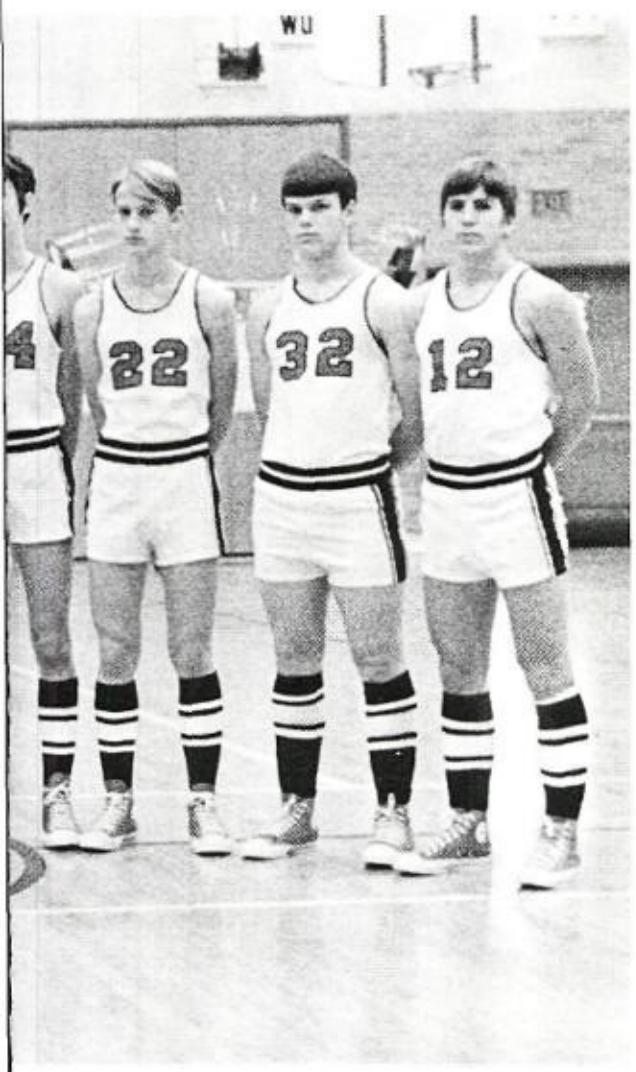
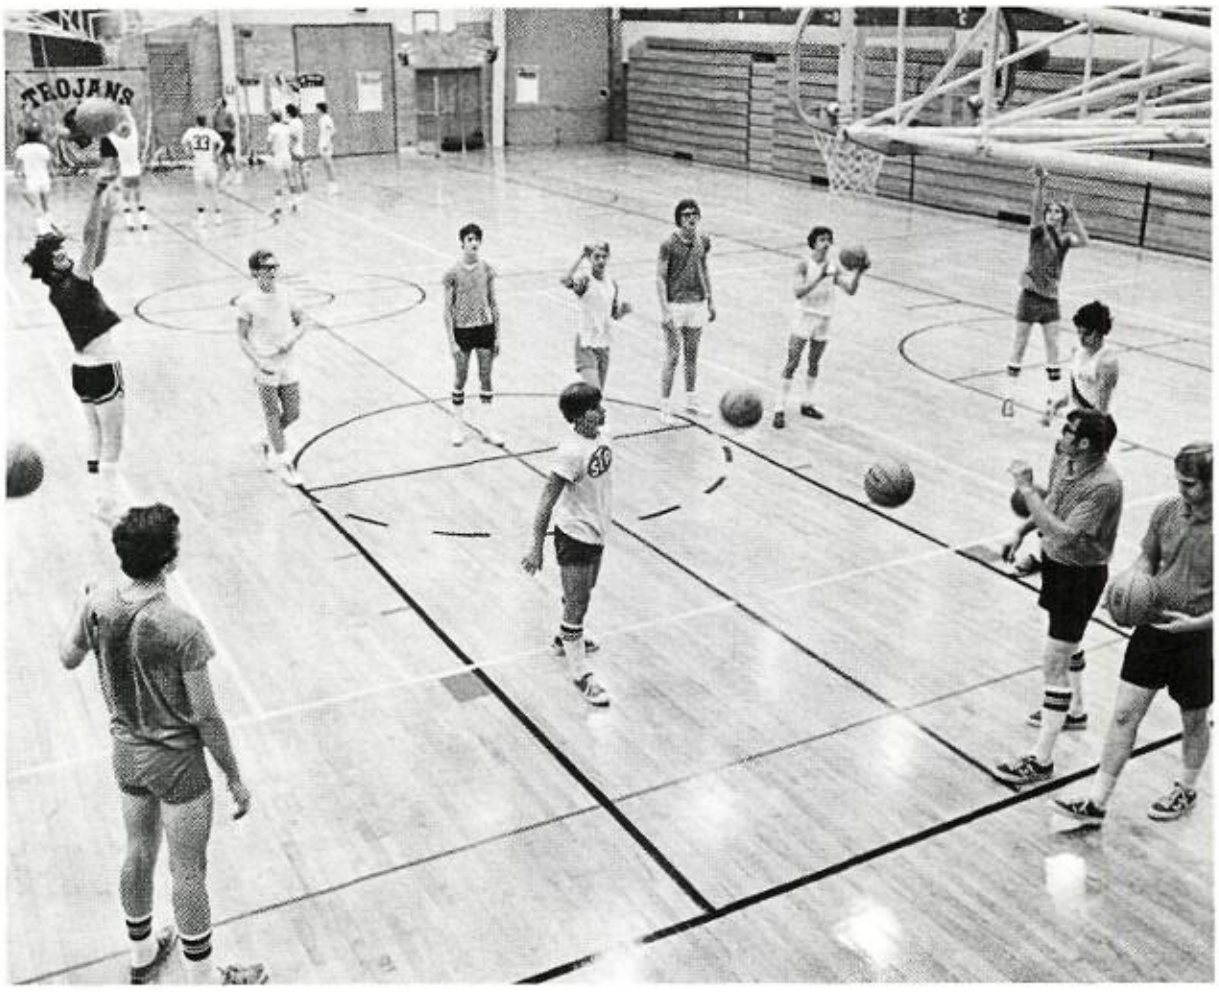
Finding a few quiet moments to himself, Mr. Basche WHS varsity Basketball coach reflects upon the activities of the coming game.



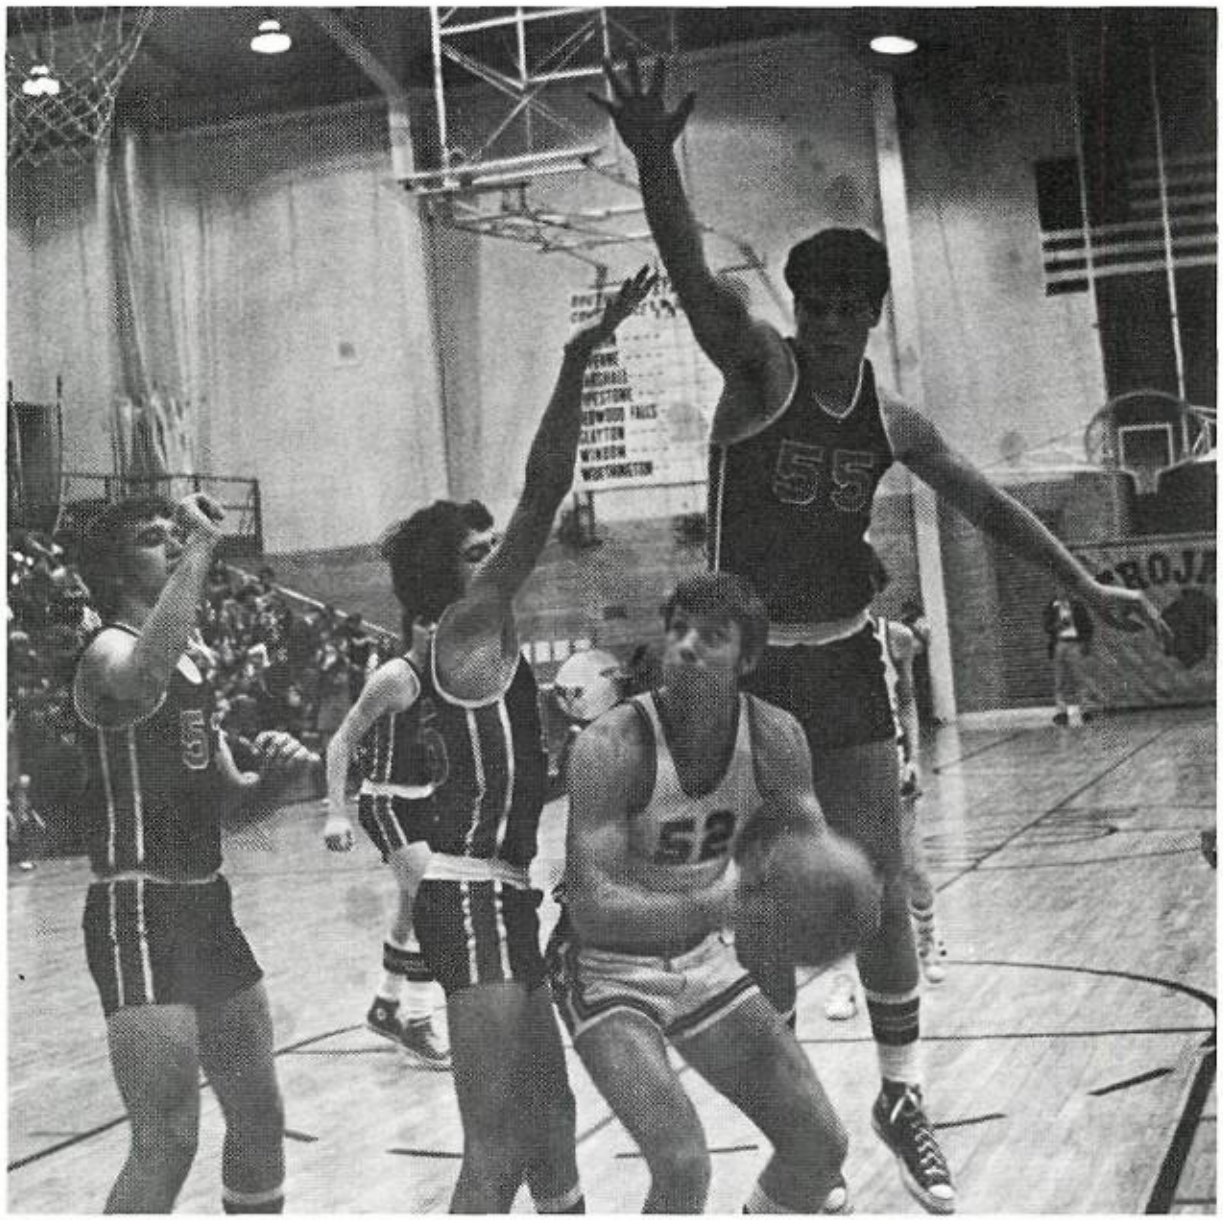
Ready . . . Aim . . . FIRE. Dropping another point in the bucket for the Trojans, Steve Wiertzema adds to the score to put the Trojans in complete command against Jackson.



Pre-season practice affords players the opportunity to test their skills and from there to work their hardest to improve on them. Aim and shoot, not shoot and aim.

A good defense means a good team. Using their height, long arms and jumping ability, Trojans Tim Reker, Mike Traphagen, and Larry Granstra, skillfully defend their goal.

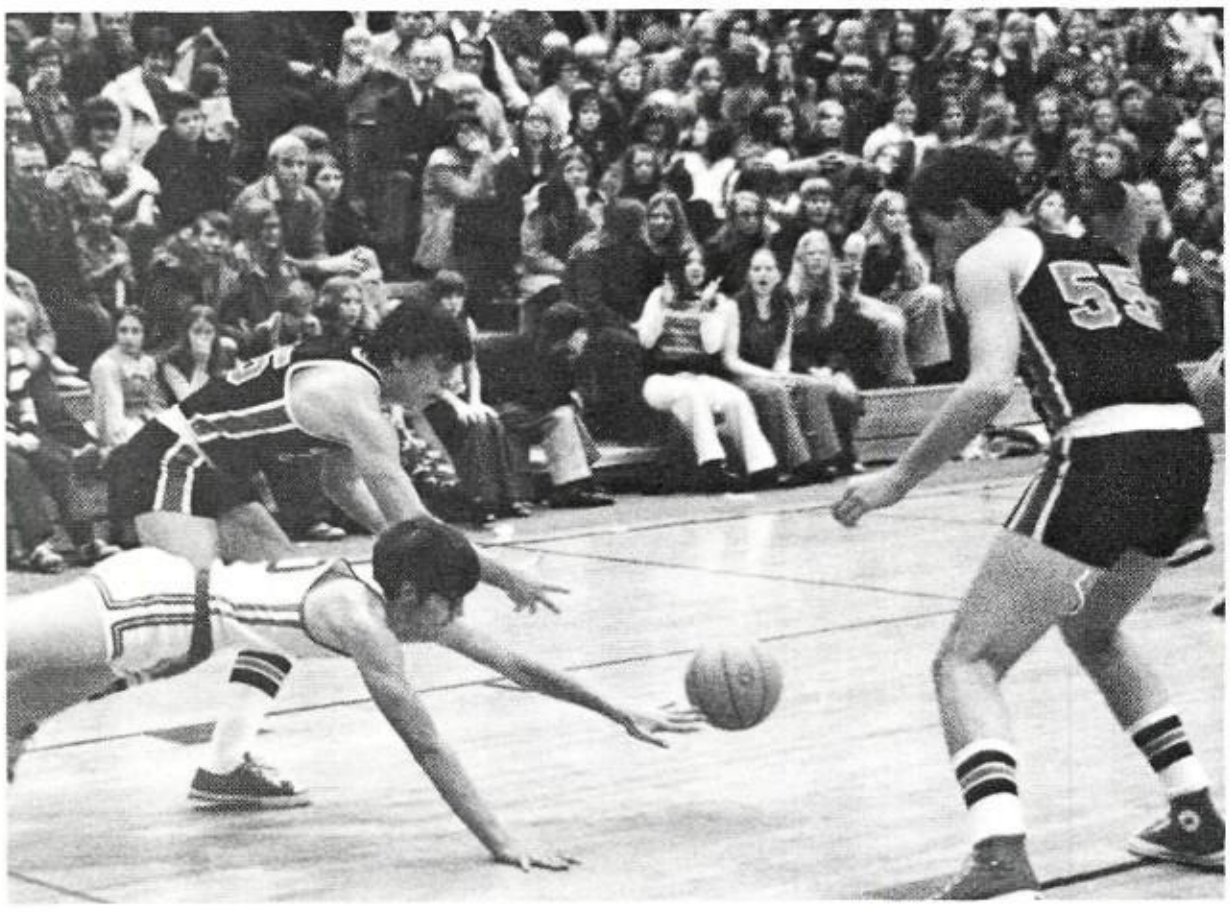
Basche's Men Out to Set New Varsity Record

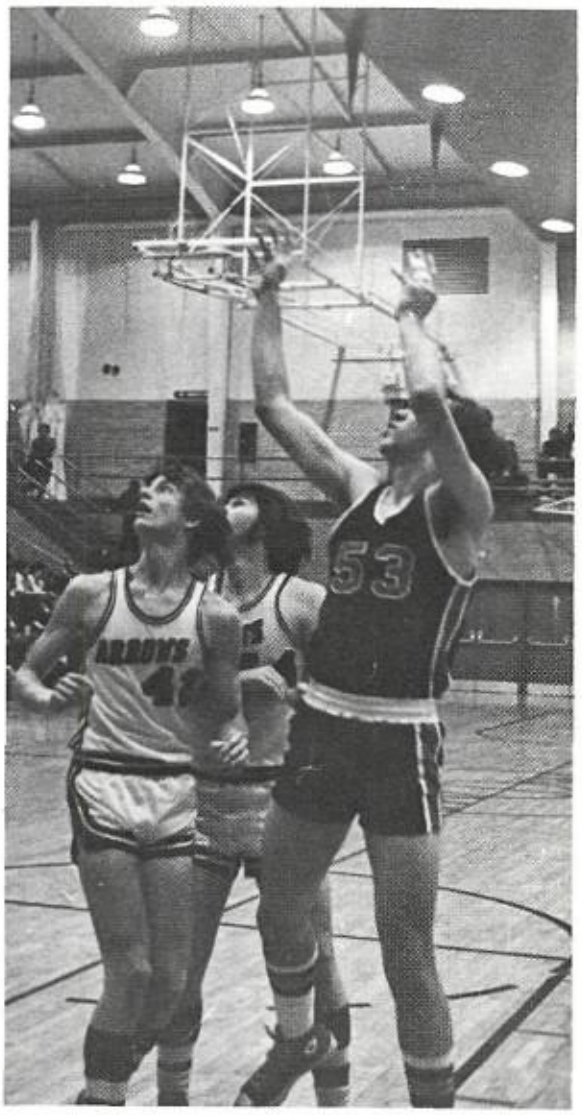


Larry Granstra 55 jumps high to get the scored raised by two points against the Pipestone Arrows. Pipestone arrow No. 54 tries to block the basket, unsuccessfully. Don Schlichte No. 13, Tim Recker No. 53, stand by to have full faith on Larry.

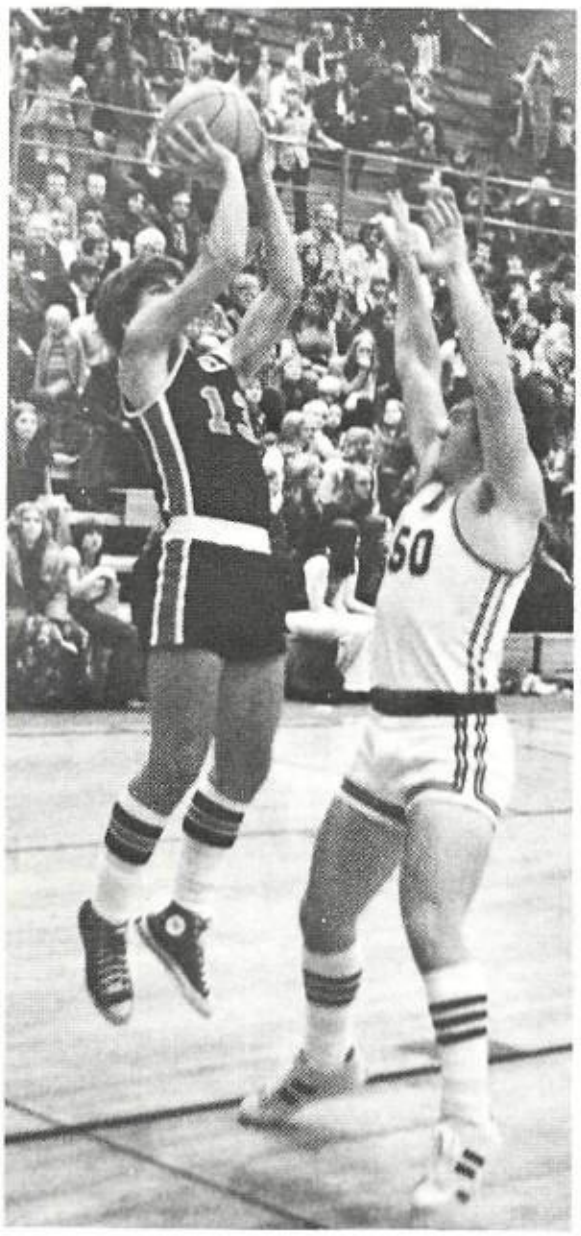
Below: Jackson really had to crawl on the floor to make ends meet. Although they crawled, the mighty Trojans beat Jackson by 11 points. Greg O'Brian No. 35, and Larry Granstra No. 55, made Jackson run for their money.

Count down 10,9,8 . . . Blast-off. A - squad Basketball cheerleaders tell the Trojans to Fire-up during the Fulda, Worthington game.

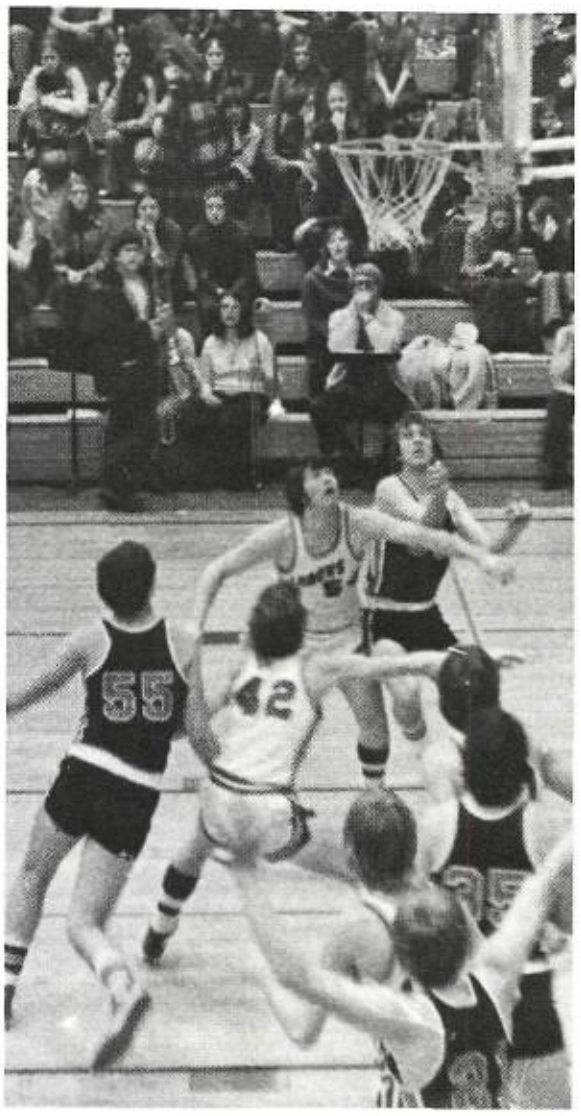




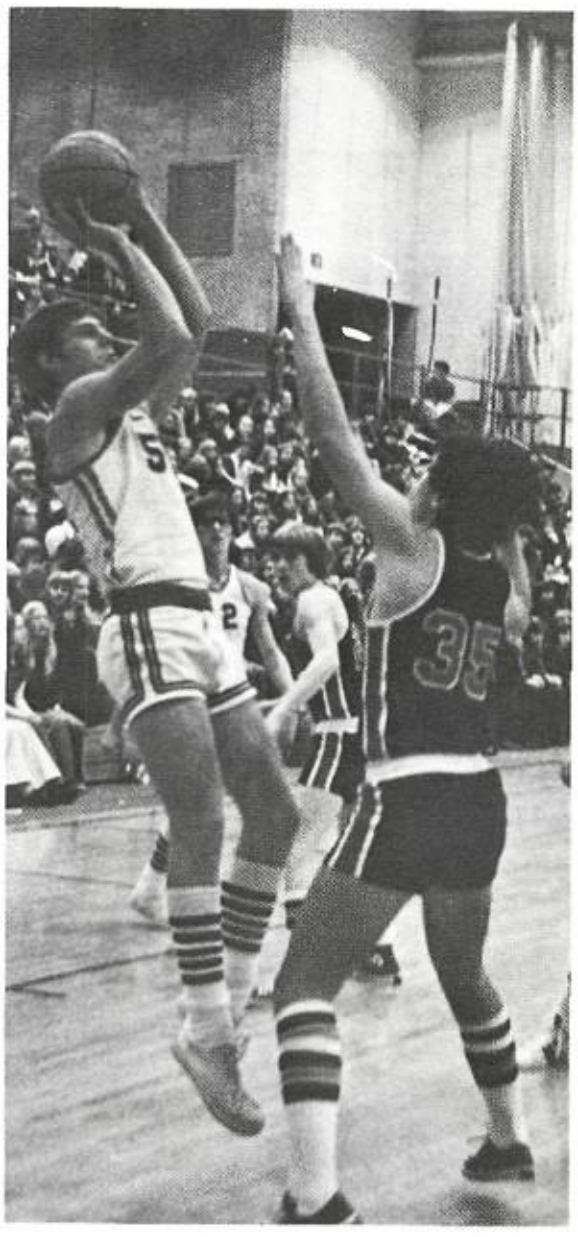
Two flabbergasted Pipestone Arrows stand as Tim Reker #53 shows some fancy shooting. Flying high he undoubtedly makes the basket.



Getting the jump on his opponet is light footed Don Schlichte #13. With careful aim he scored another two points to put the mighty Trojans in the lead.



The Tall Trojan Offense skillfully follows the ball to rebound incase it should just happen to miss the basket.

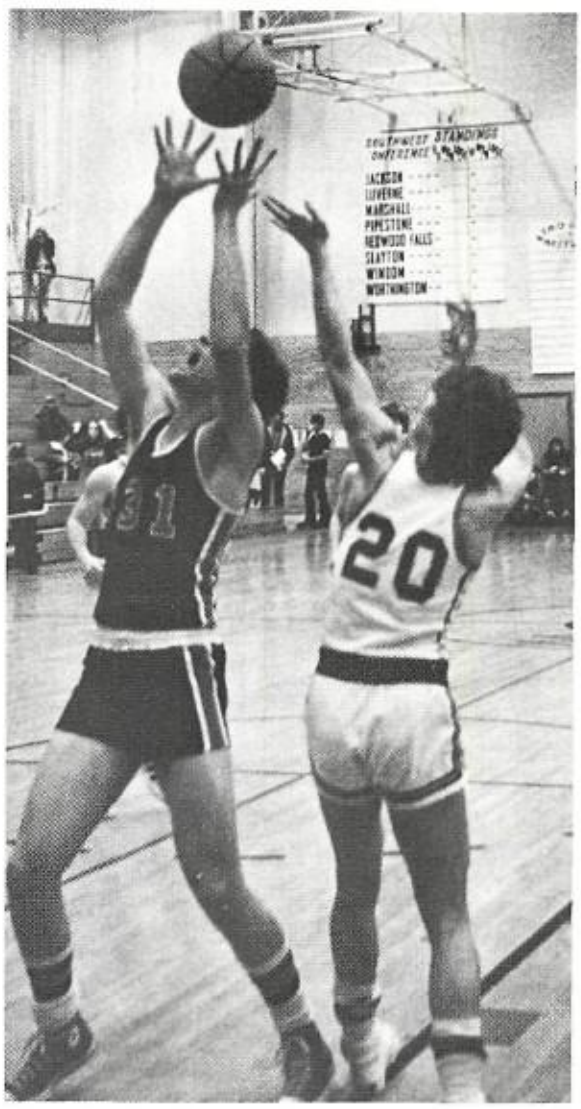


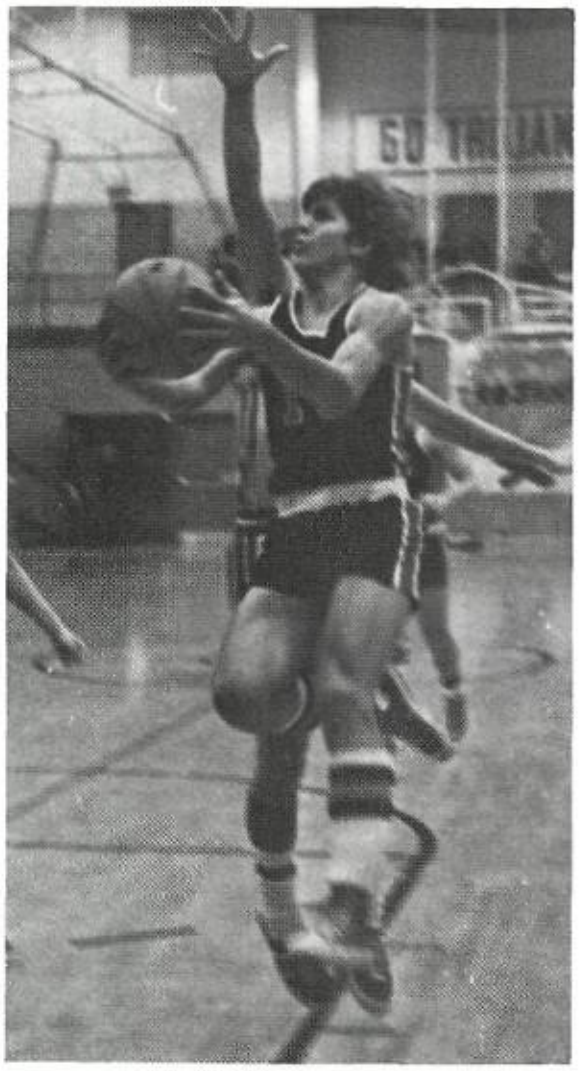
Putting forth a mighty effort to block the Pipestone opponet is #35 Greg O'Brian of the Trojans. Keeping a wary eye from the back field is Bruce Wilson.

Roundballers Push and Pant Through Tough Season

Providing entertainment during the basketball game Glenn K. Evensen and the Trojan Pep Band help boost the spirit of the roundballers as they warm up for the game.

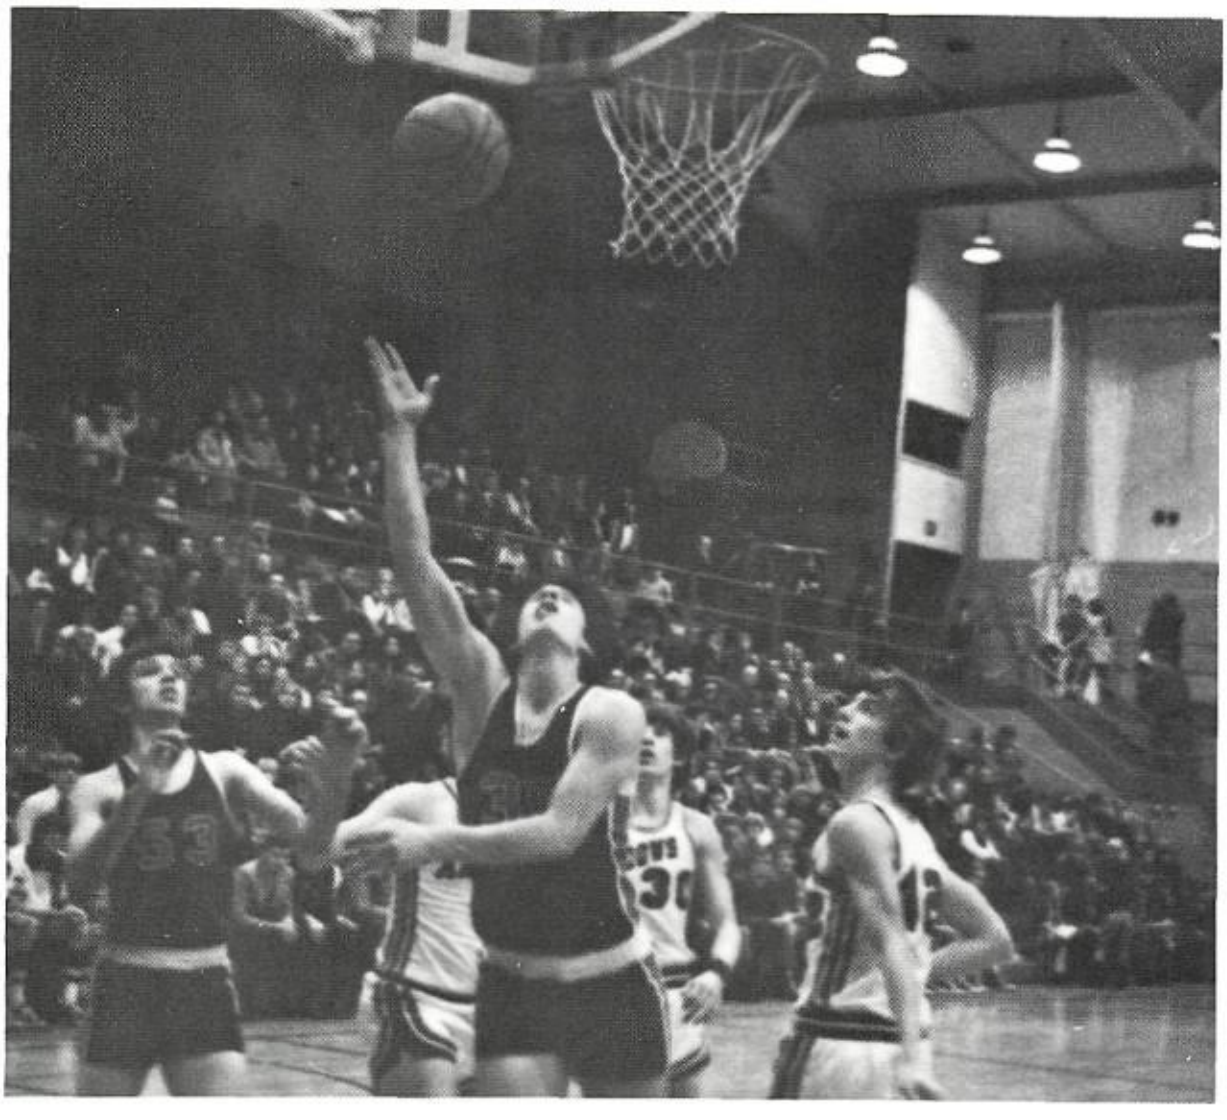
Just a few more inches thinks Steve Wiertezma #31 as he concentrates on reaching the ball before his opponet does.





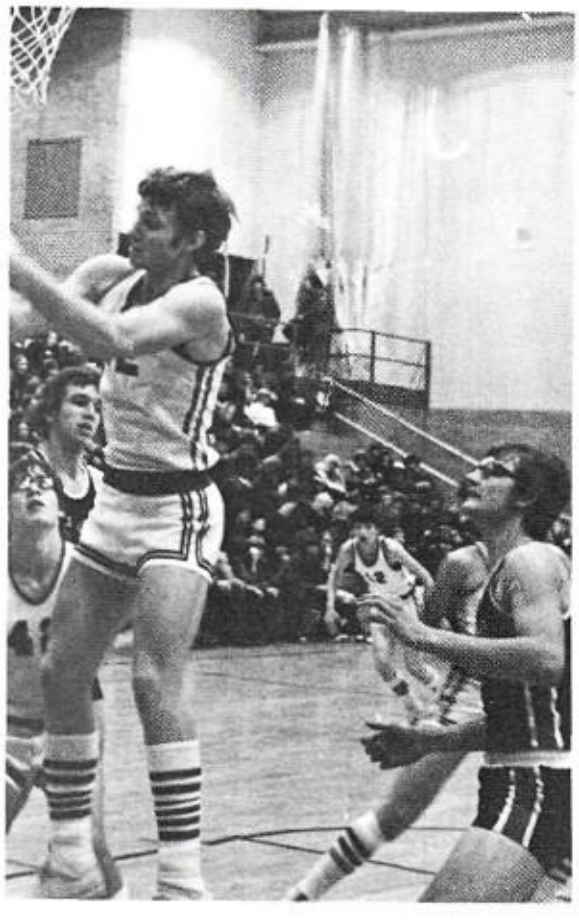
Eye on the basket, concentrate on aim, all set, fire! Mighty Trojan Don Schlichte with control of the ball uses all his know-how to chalk up 2 points for the Trojans.

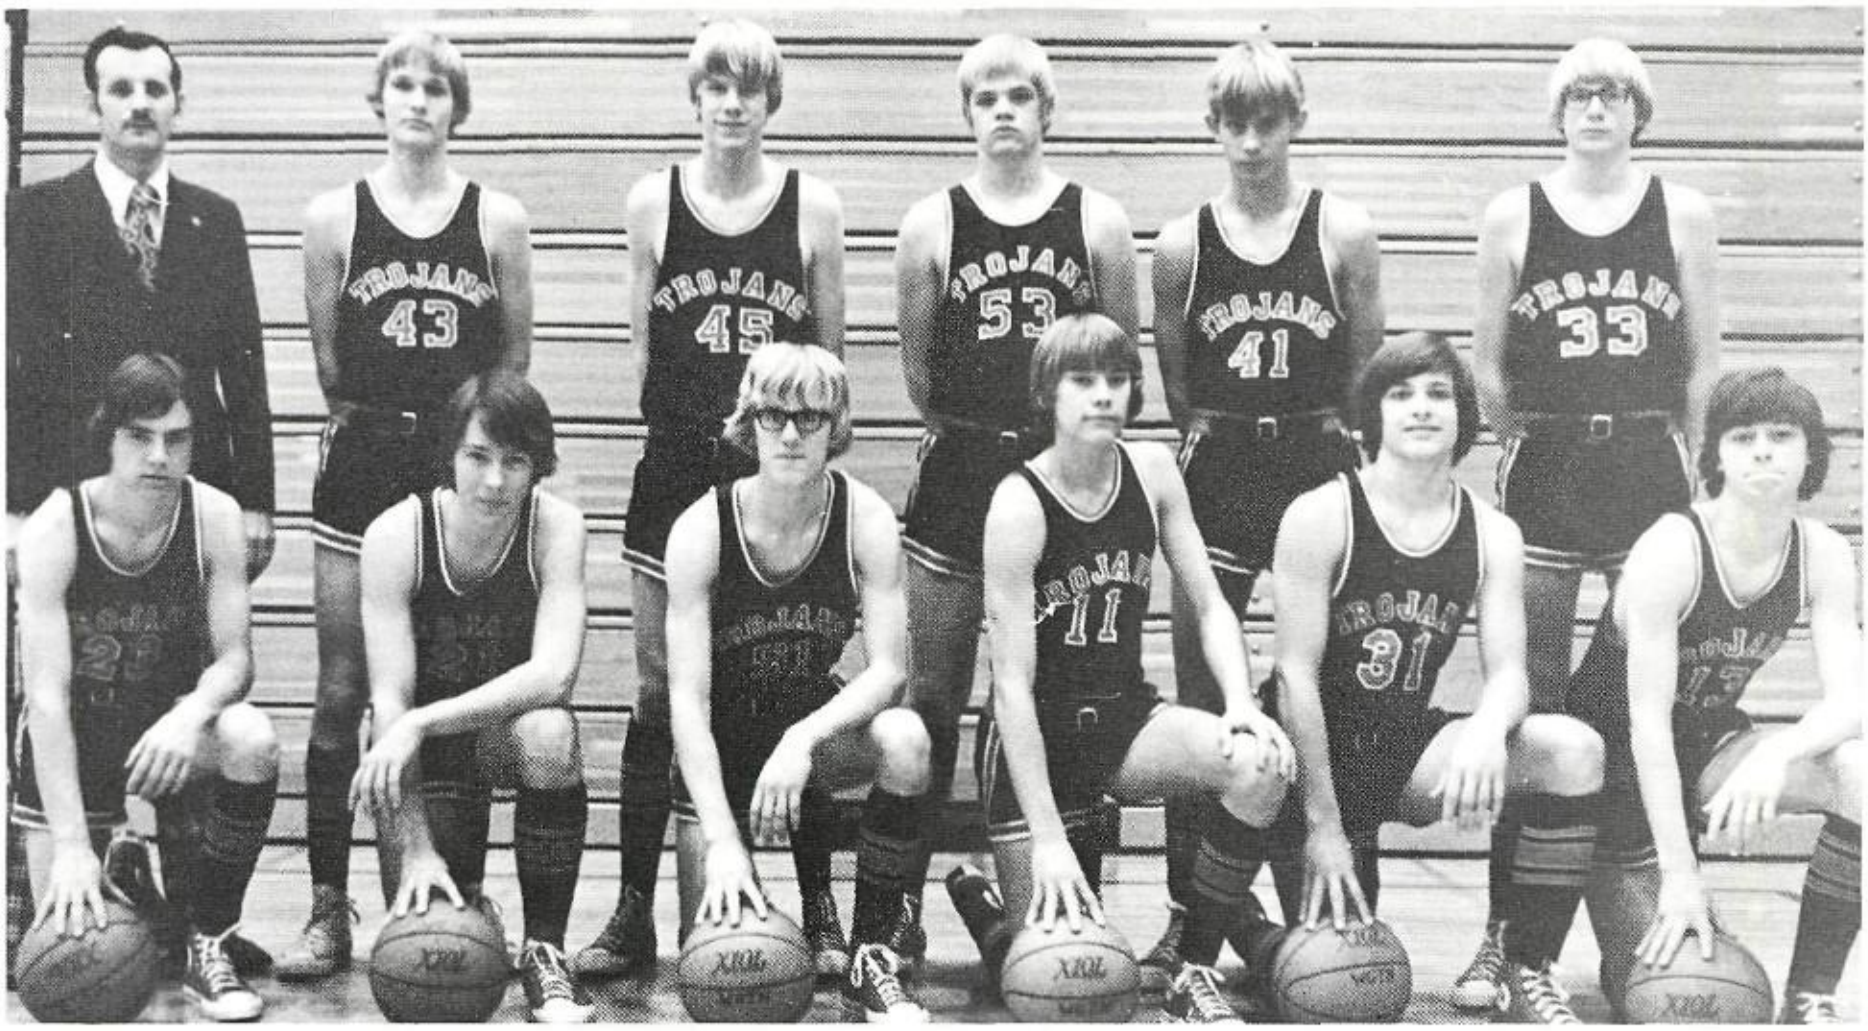
"Now if I can out jump my opponent," ponders Senior Tim Reker, "I can get that ball to Larry Granstra, (number 55) and then who knows what will happen."



The crowds are cheering as Senior Greg O'-Brian goes in for a layup. Senior Tim Reker awaits results. Tim Reker efforts for rebounding were worthless.

You've got our ball and we want it back. This is what seems to be on the minds of Seniors Tim Reker and Steve Wiertzema as they wait for the results of the rebound.





The aggressive "B" Basketball Squad comes on strong and proves to their competitors that they are the mighty Trojans. Bomber Basketball players are: Front Row: Randy Sieve, David Henry, Bradley White, Darwin Baack, Brian Regnier, and Tom Johnson. Back Row: Coach Richard Adel, Craig Jepperson, Daniel Yahnke, David Ruby, Alan Thiner, and Darwin Voss. Asistant Coach is Mr. Eldred Kingery.

"I'll tackle him, you steal the ball!" Great team effort is constantly being displayed this year among the Varsiety Squad. Helping each other, Greg O'Brien and Don Schlicte cage their opponent in an attempt to recover a lost ball and gain command of the contest.

Varsity Squad Goal of Eager Bomber Players

David Ruby and Darwin Voss keep an "eagle-eye" on the re-bound ball in an attempt to grab it and carry it down the court to the home bucket.

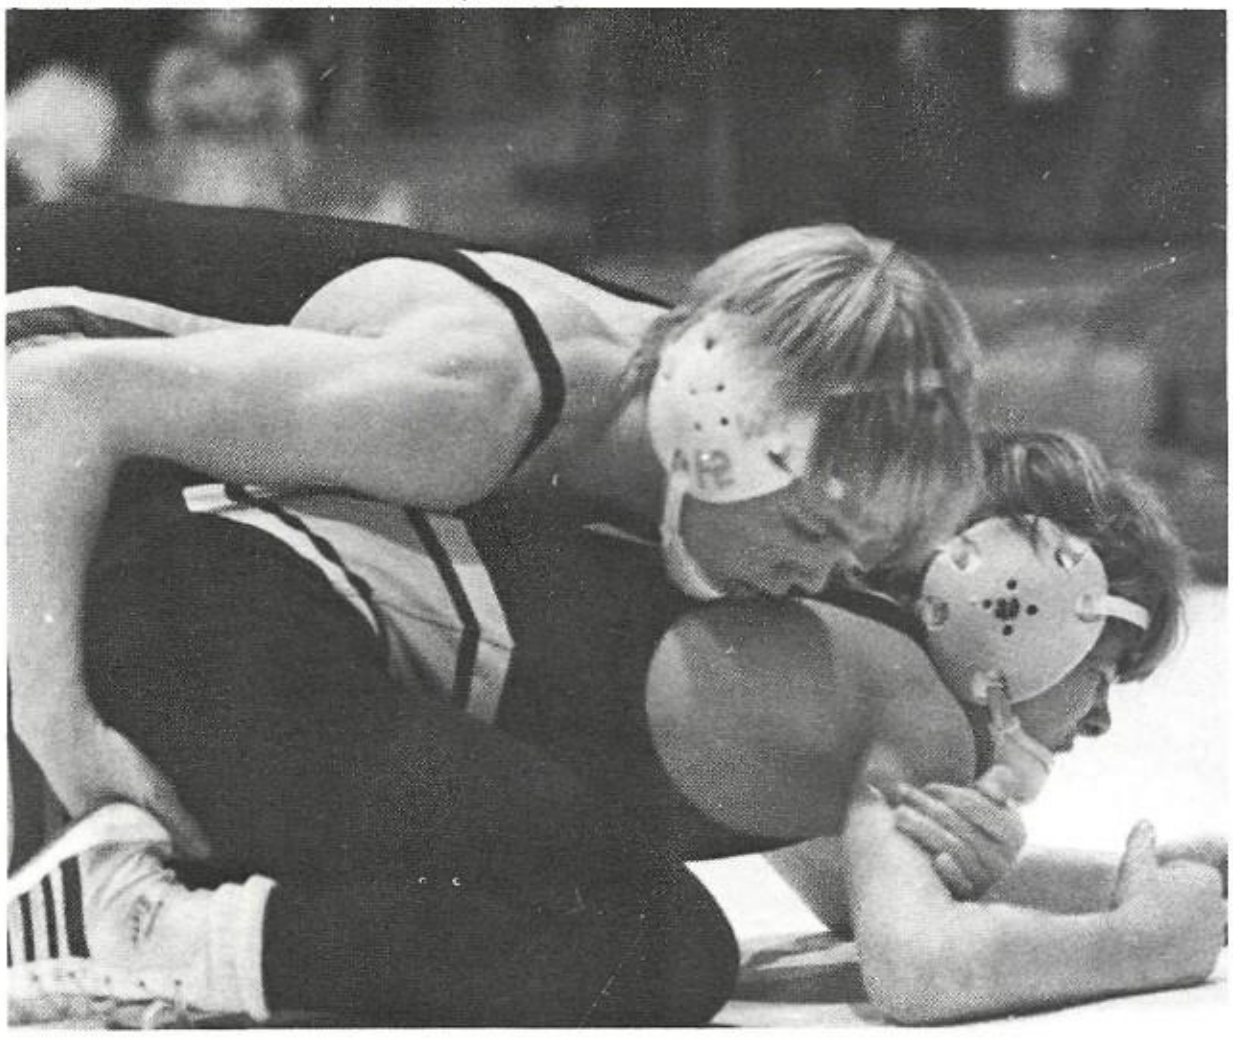
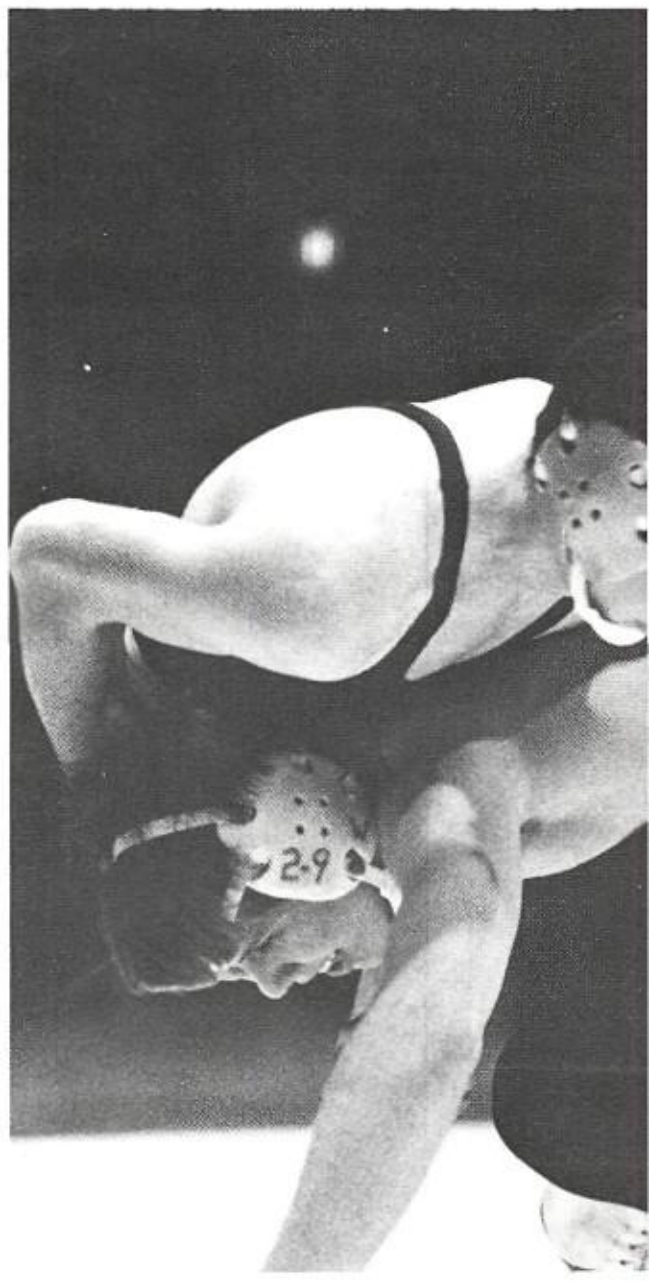
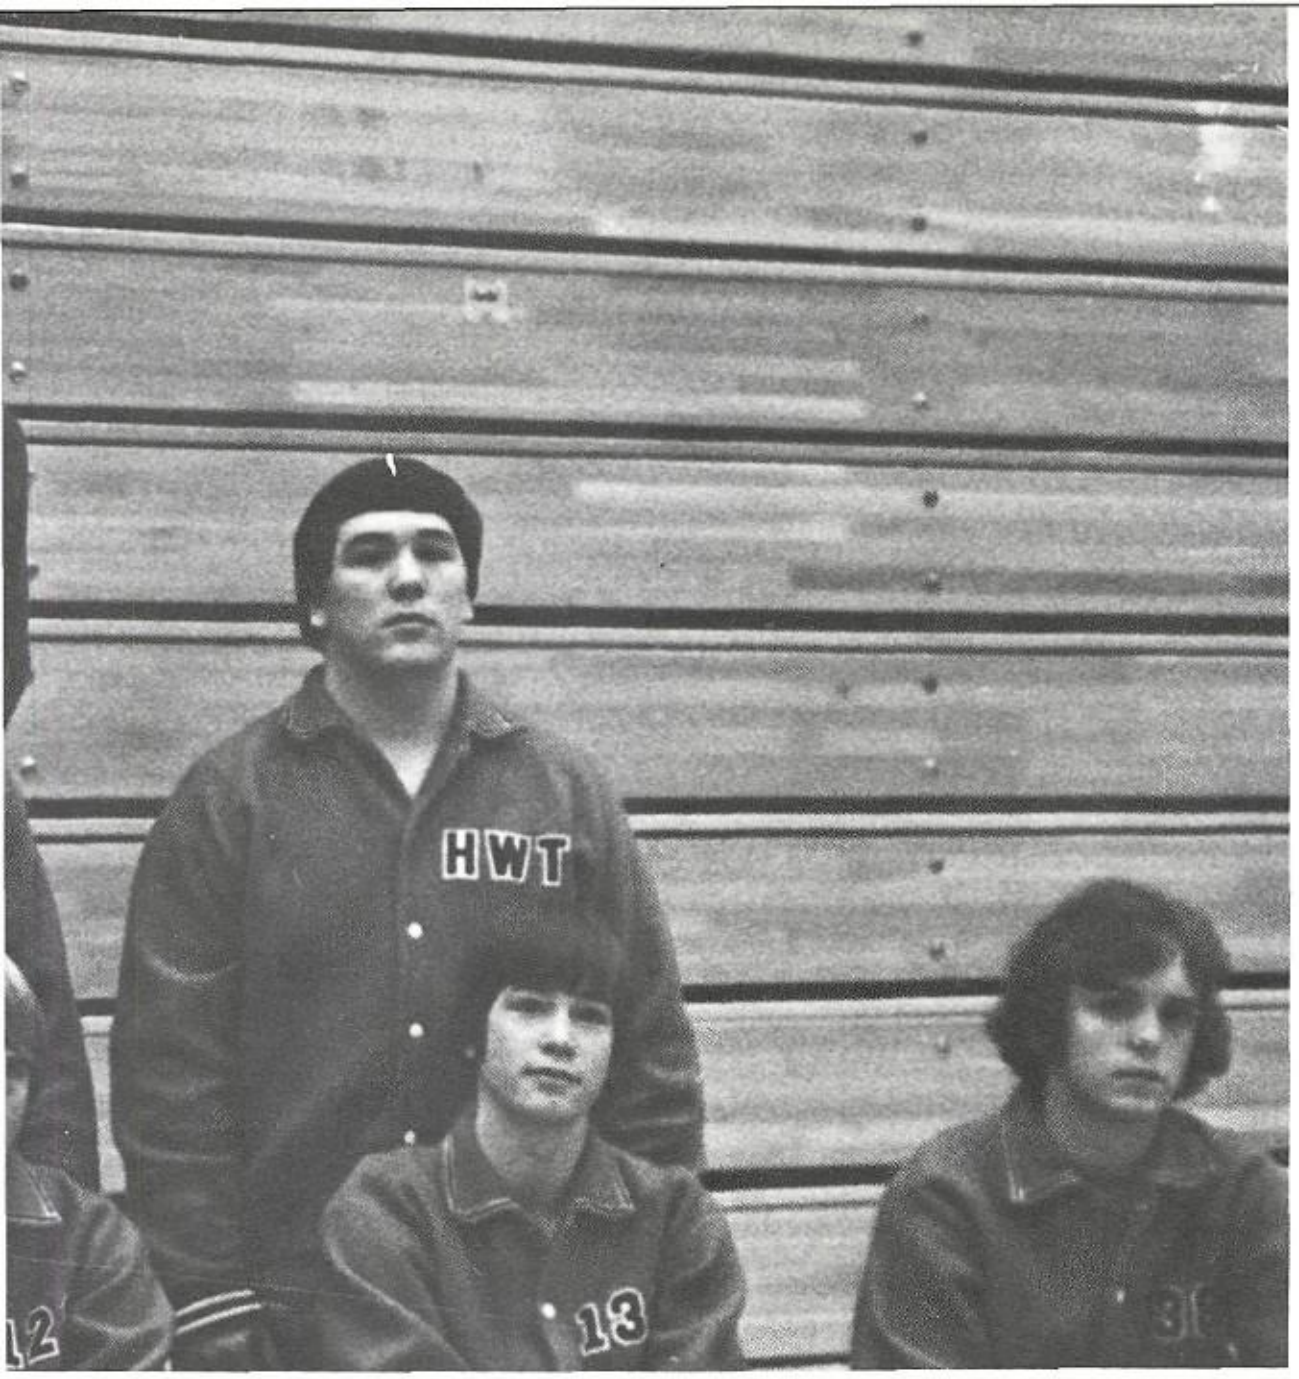
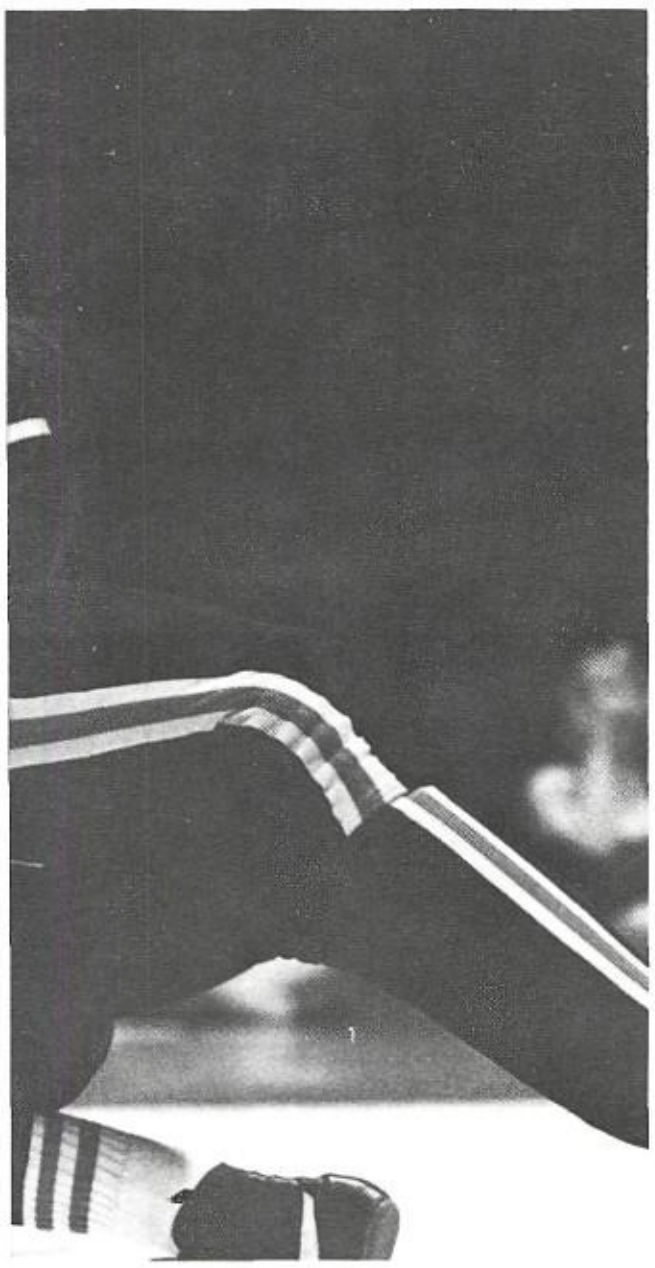
Wrestling varsity for the second year in a row, sophomore Jeff Carlson uses his experience and wit to out manuever his opponent. Concentration and determination to prove to himself and others that he is "1", are constent factors which drive the individual onward.

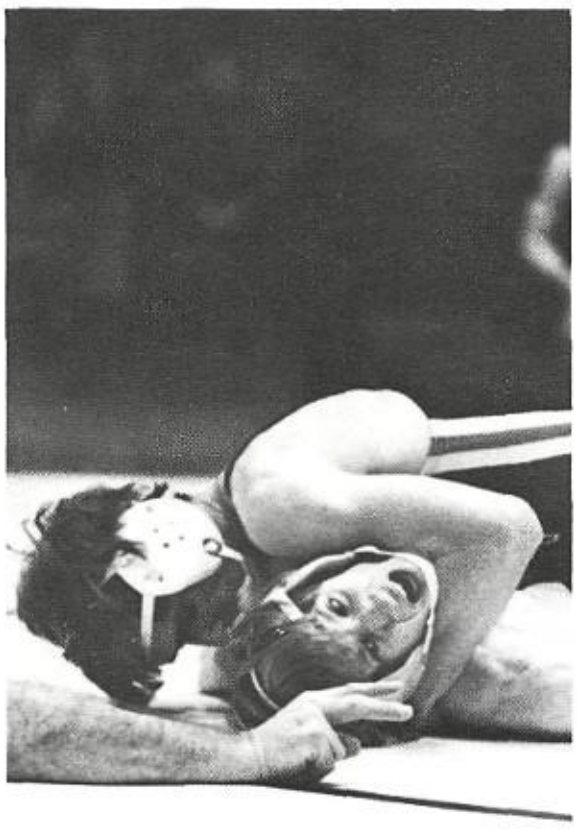






Senior, Tom Fagerness, shoots up and out in order to gain complete control over his Blue Earth opponent. Tom seems to be mentally ready as well as physically.

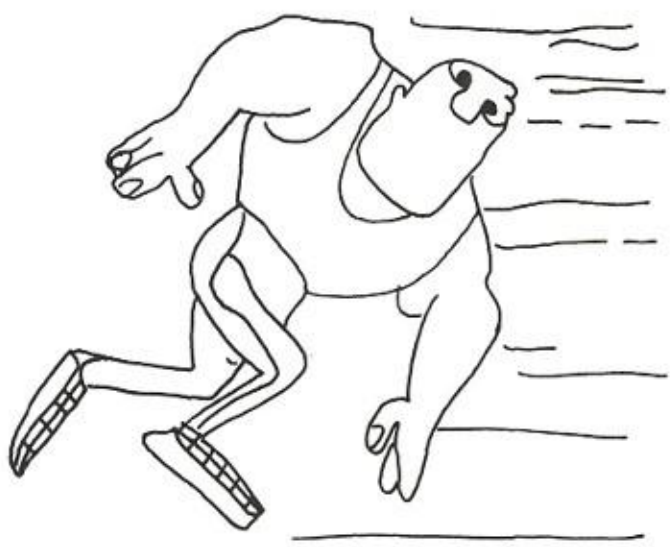


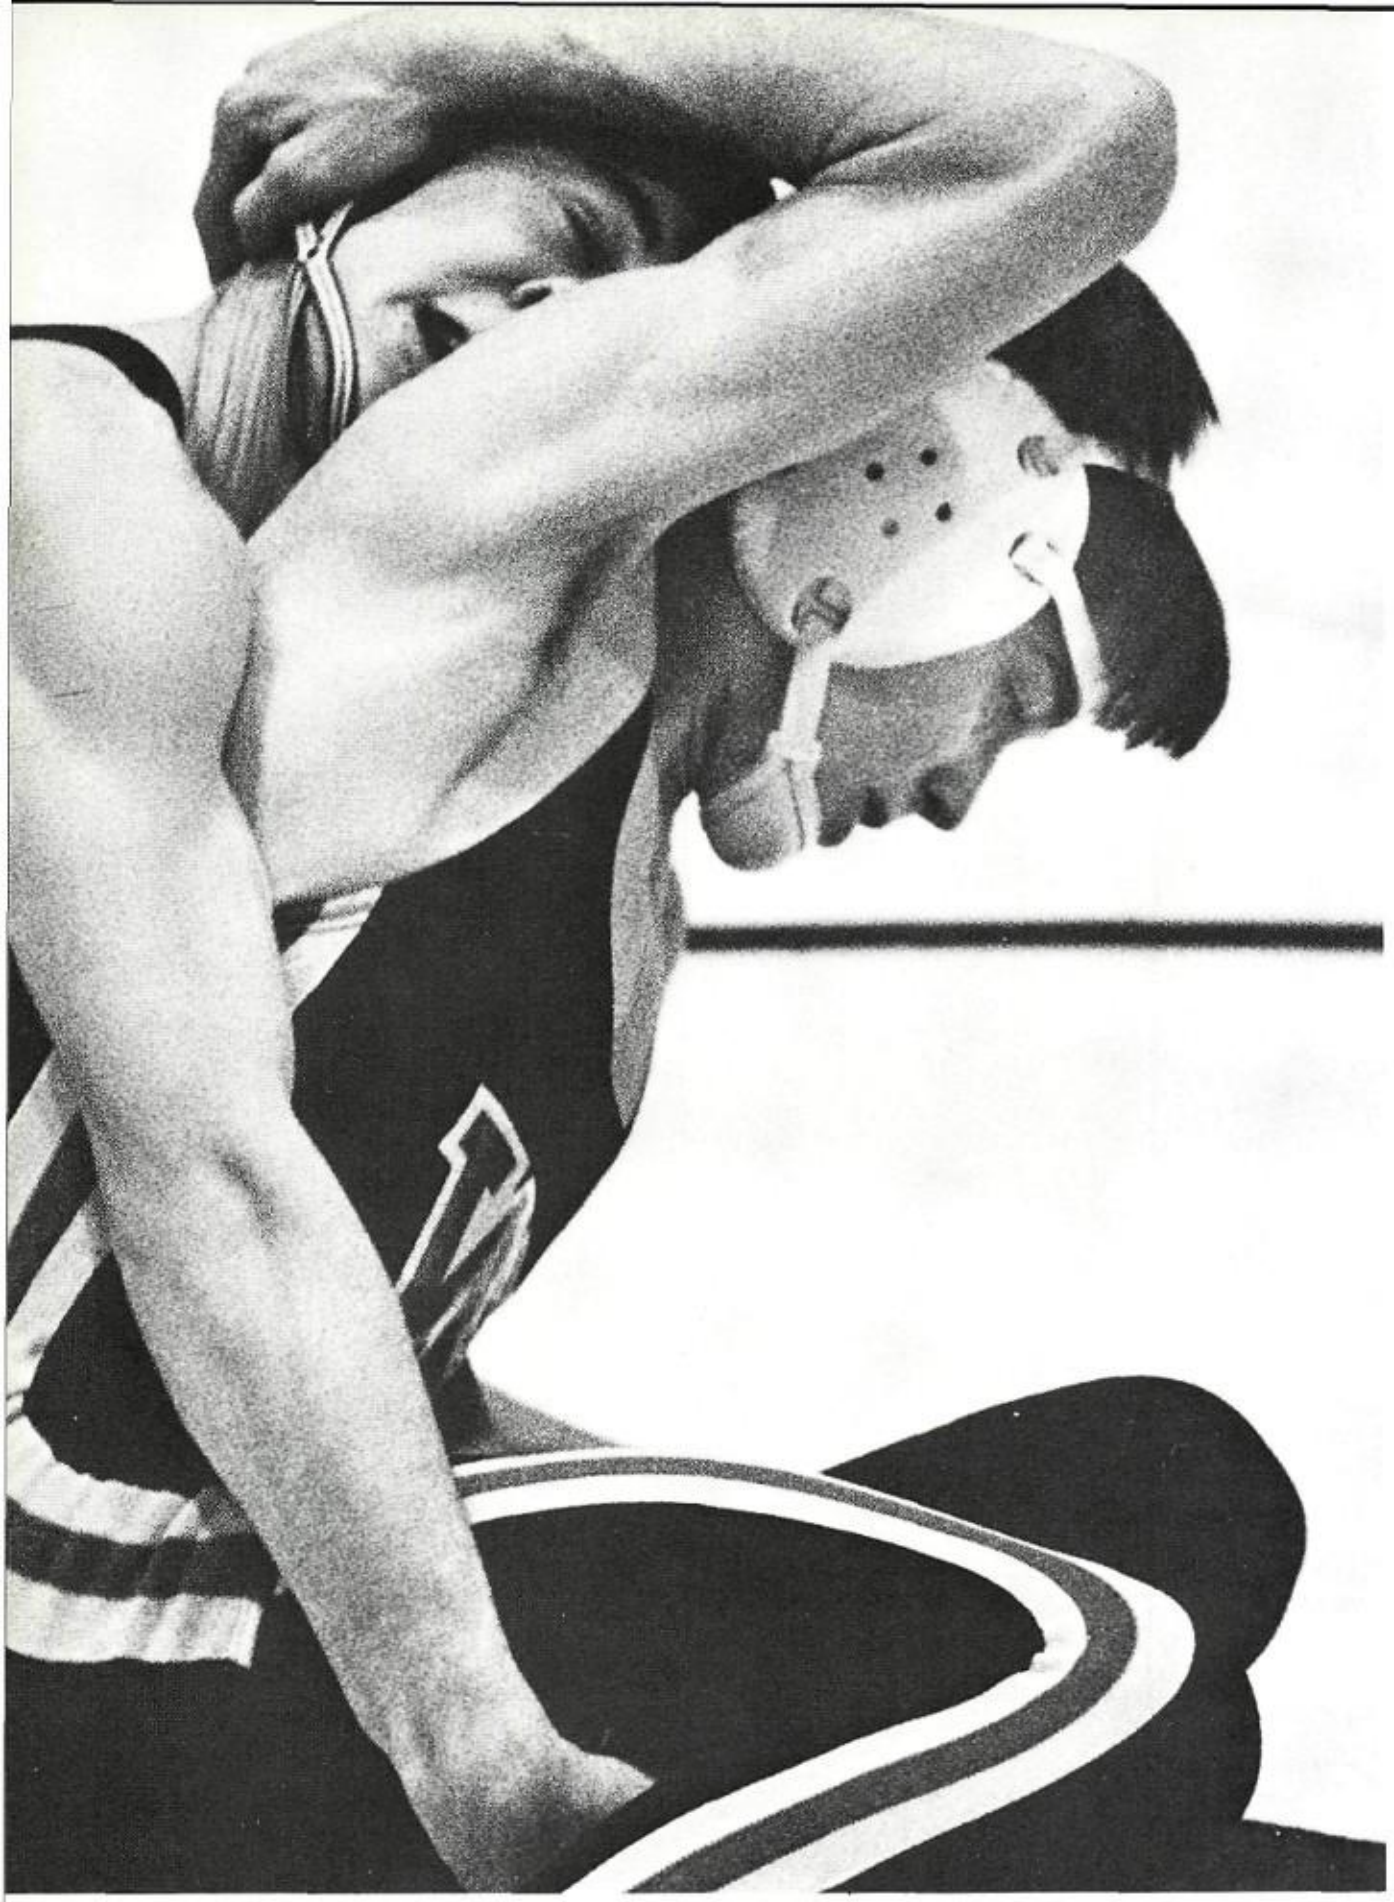


We need a pin to win. Trying to fullfill his end of the bargan junior grappler Mike Ling applies pure strength to the agony of his foe.

Grappler's Exhibit Aggressive Tactics During the Season

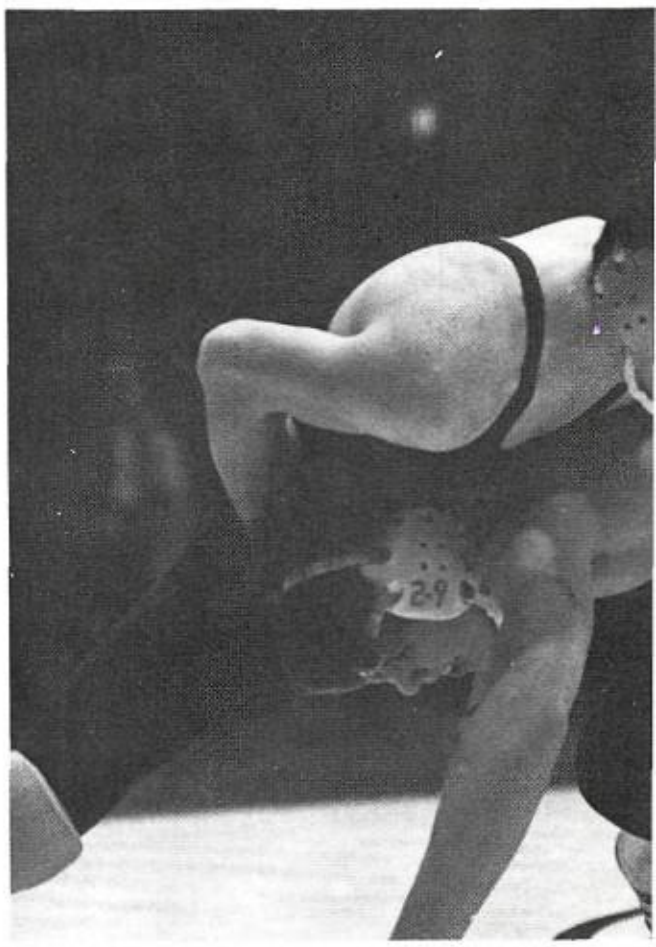
Hard work and determination, combined with preseverance and a spark of enthusiam led the Trojan Grapplers to an outstanding 1973-74 Wrestling Season. The WHS Wrestlers started the 74 season with a 7-2 record. An away victory with Pipestone, 33-13 shot the year off with a bang. Head coach Mr. Ken Drougemueller was assisted by three very capable assistants for the 74 season; coach Mr. Doug Perry, Mr. Leroy Ulrich, and Mr. Roger Lipelt. All four did their best to try to turn the 73-74 season into a winning effort for the Trojans. The team has lost to Blue Earth, 22-33 and to Wayzata, 16-21 placing third at the away tournement at Wayzata. The Trojans work out very hard at practice to get in shape for the next meet and to take off those unwanted pounds that seem to creep up if they don't exercise regularly after school. Wrestlers must also work out constantly. If they wrestle in a meet one time that doesn't guarantee they will be there the next time. Because of the try outs before every meet there is always someone else standing in the shadows waiting to get their share of the action. The winning meets were played against Pipeatone, 33-13, Virginia 40-14, St. Paul Park 32-29, Luverne 30-15, Sioux Falls Washington 34-19, Sioux Falls Lincoln 32-11, Slayton 30-15.





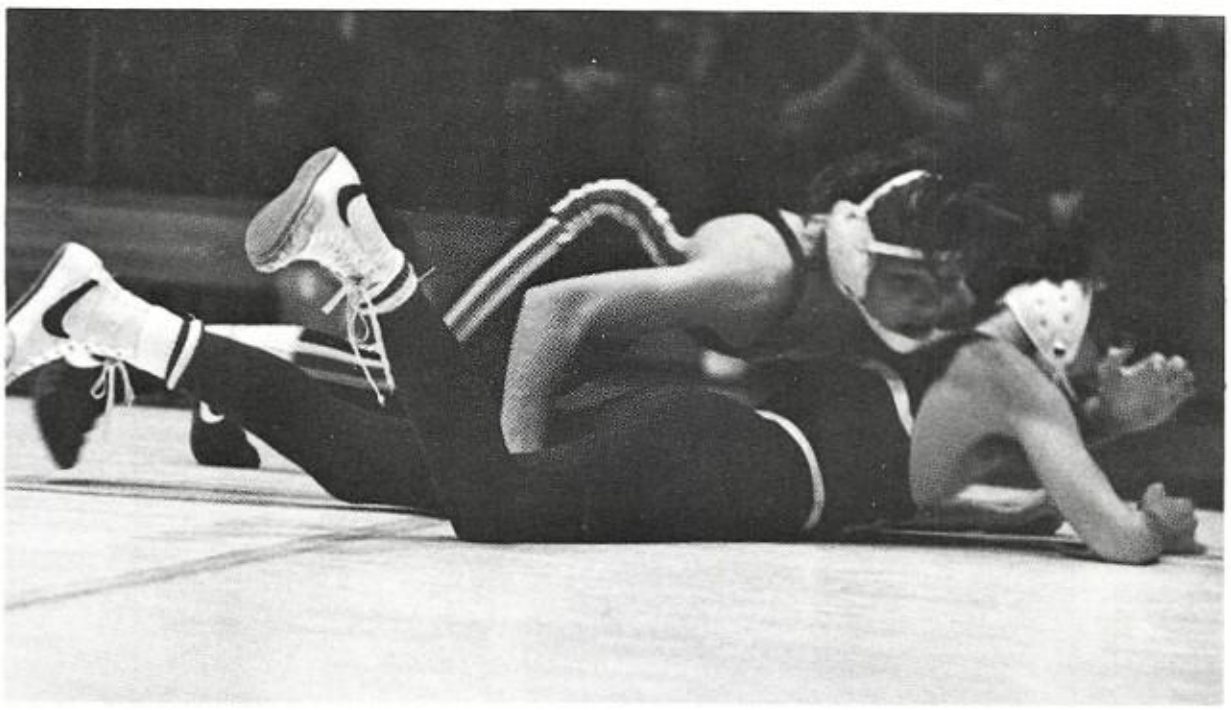
Sophomore Dan Tow moves to reverse his position over his opponent. With his arem locked in position, and his hand firmly grasping his opponent, Dan struggles for a reversal, and a 5 point pin that is needed. His certain pin will help put the Trojans in a comfortable lead.

"Roll him over and pin him! Come on, Mike, show him that you can!" are the screams from the bleachers and Junior Mike Ling feverishly works for a pin. A calculating wrestler, Mike has complete controll of the situation, much to the disappointment of his opponent.



Man-Handling his opponent Tim Roos puts another fantastic move on his foe. The hold Tim is using will insure him of a win, possibly even a pin. Wrestling as a Junior Tim is obtaining valuable experience and skill that will aid him in his final year. Undoubtedly Tim will see action next year as a Senior.

Below: It's no bed of roses, and each day is a new challenge to the Trojan wrestlers. Coaches Kenneth Droegemueller and Roger Lipelt closely watch the boys during their nightly practice. Each wrestler must challenge and be challenged for his weight position.



Above: It is not often that a Freshman makes the Varsiety squad, but Freshman Dalen Wasmund has proven to be much credit to himself and to his team.

Wrestlers 73-74

Above: Two well matched individuals fight it out in a match which resulted in a 4-4 tie. Junior Tim Roos cautiously moves in on his opponent in hopes of a quick pin.

Below: "Just to roll him over and pin him, is all that I must do," ponders 145 weight wrestler, Tom Fagerness. A consistent winner, Tom works to maintain his reputation.

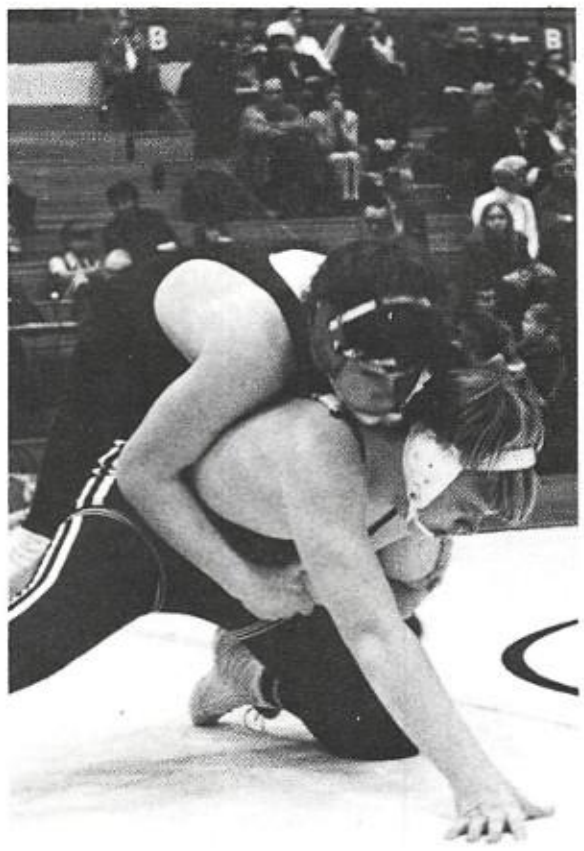
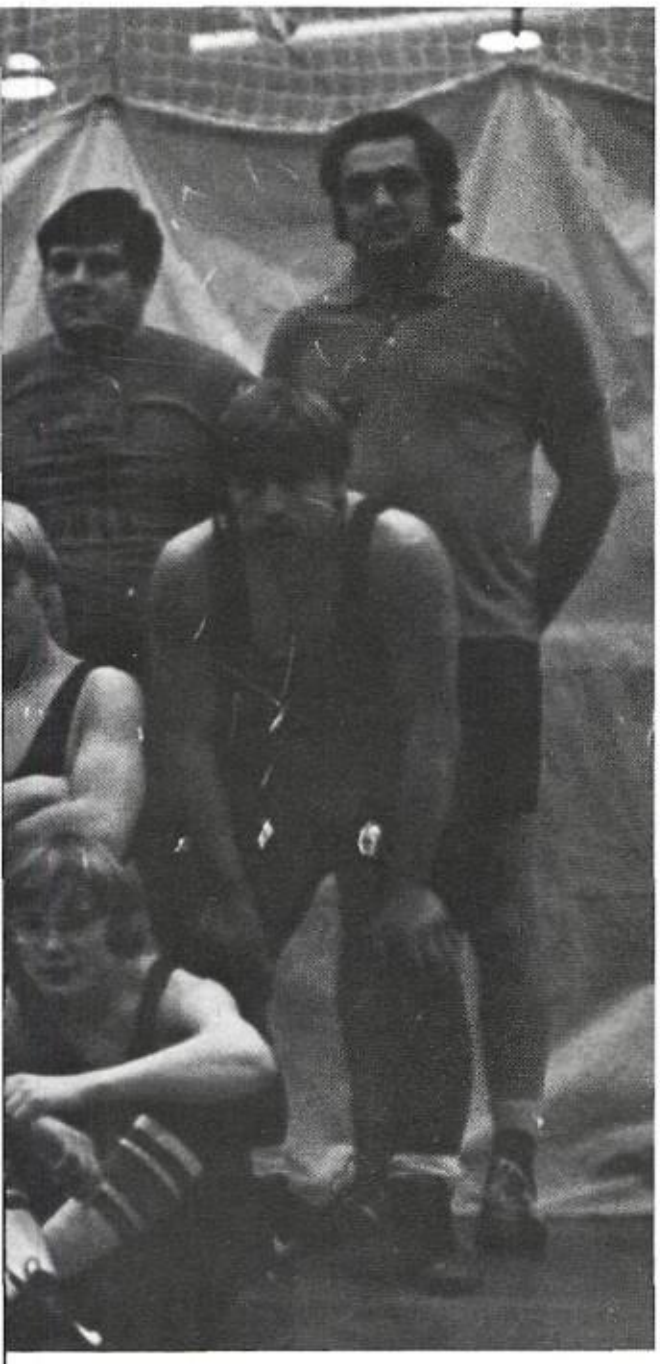
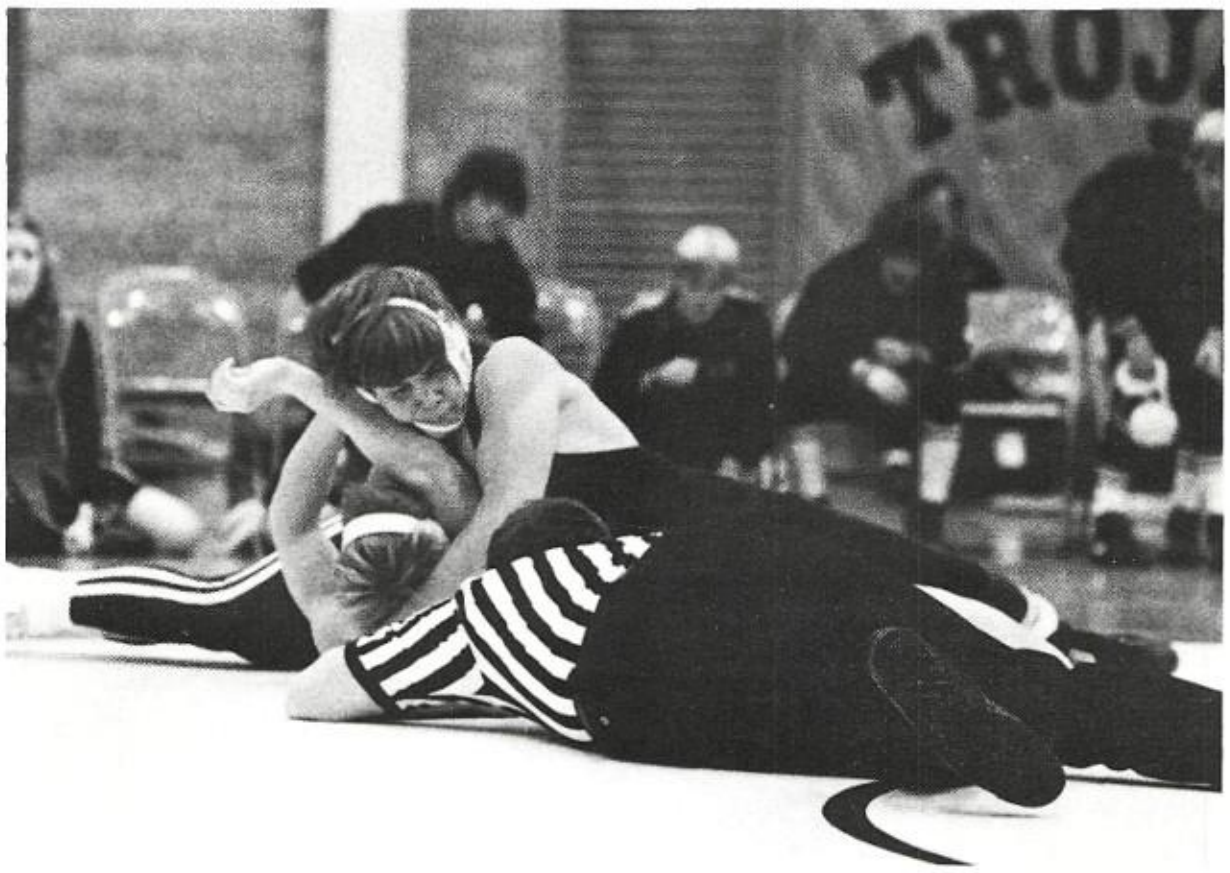
Up on top Melvin Voss takes time for a quick look around, a breath of air and a fast mental strategical plan. In order to maintain his position Melvin intends to put to the test his plan of attack. If all fails he undoubtedly has another plan to fall back upon, which will insure a Trojan Victory.



Freshman Jim Wychor aggressivly attacks his Slayton Opponent. The final minutes are approaching and he wants to insure that win, so Jim presses on for two more takedown points.



from coaches, encouragement from team mates and determination to win in the individual make this wrestling team what it is today.



Fans eagerly watch as Junior Ken Roberts struggles to flatten his opponent and add six more points to the Trojan scoreboard. Let's hope that next year we have a lot of men go out for wrestling and let's hope Ken comes back for the '74, '75 season. Everyone helps each other on the team.

Junior Steve Slone doesn't believe in messing around. "It's a pin to win" is his motto, and he has really stuck to it. It looks as though this Slayton guy doesn't have much to say about this situation. Steve helped the Trojans to a victory over Slayton and later A-Squad won over them also. So it was a good night for the Trojans.

"Now, how am I ever going to get out of this one," thinks Junior Ken Roberts as he struggles to free himself of this unusual hold. They always try their hardest.

Front Row: Deb Kuperus, Mary Fauskee, Beth Franzen, Jane Krekelberg, Lori Standafer, Nancy Barkuloo, Second Row: Shari Schimbeno, Nancy Roberts, Joan Fagerness, Julie Smith, Dawn Eshleman, RoAnn Scholten, Cindy Boddy, and Pat Fish. All these girls participated in the A Squad Basketball Games. All their spare time went into winning a game that was very important to all of the team. The boys better watch out. We're better than them.

October 13 brought to a close the second year of Women's Basketball. Still somewhat of a new idea to the girls, participation and support is growing.

In their first game of Southwest Conference play, Marshall defeated the Trojan "A" team 26-20. With one minute left to play and a 20-20 score, Marshall rallied their forces and put the game away by making six quick points. Sophomore center, Julie Smith, led the Trojan scoring with 9 points.

Worthington dominated the Jackson "A" squad in their second contest, 23-8. After a close first quarter, the Trojan Women broke the game wide open with good defensive play. Senior Patti Fish led the scoring with 7 points.

Worthington's "B" team came on strong and walked away with a 21-10 victory over Jackson. Kathy Weets and Dawn Buntjer led with 6 points each.

Redwood Falls squeaked a 16-15 victory in a thrilling game which found a half-time score of 7-7. Closing minute free throws pulled the game out of the frying pan for Redwood Falls.

Pipestone, Luverne, Slayton, and Worthington participated in the Pipestone Invitational October 6.

The Slayton Cats' well-executed offense overwhelmed the Trojan "A" team 36-6. Julie Smith scored 14 points to help lead the Trojan Women to a 30-17 victory over Luverne.

The "B" team defeated Luverne 15-5. Leading the squad in their first win of the season, was Becky Barnhill.

Trailing 11-3 at half-time, the Trojan "B" squad was unable to overcome the Pipestone Arrow's sharp shooting. In a hard-fought game, the "B" team succumbed to a powerful Pipestone squad, 25-13.

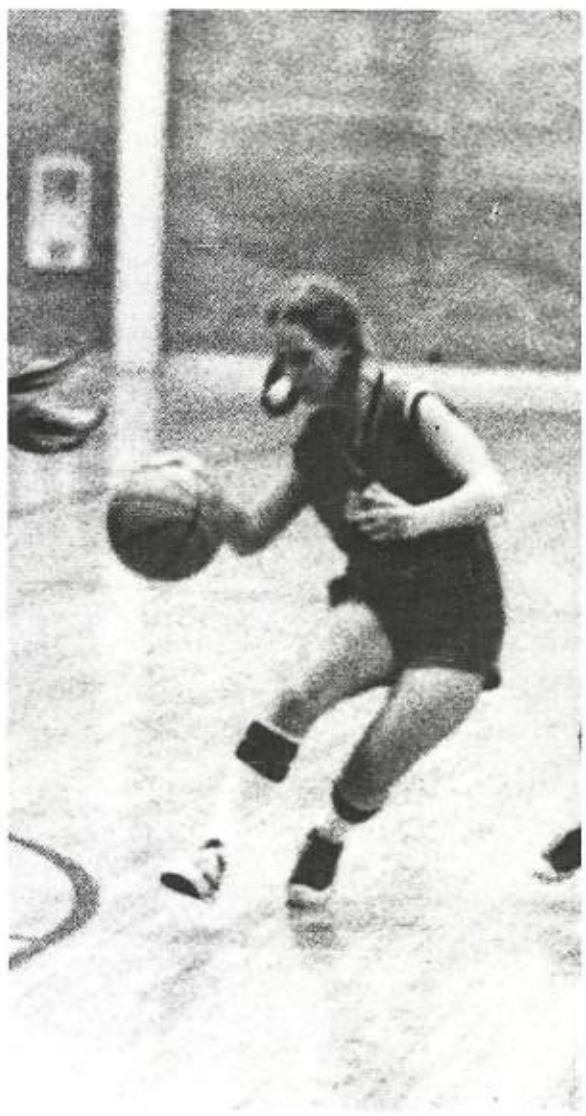
On October 1, Worthington hosted a dual meet with Southwest Christian from Edgerton. A very quick, hustling squads from SW Christian wiped out both Trojans' "A" and "B" teams in their season openers.

Both "A" and "B" squads ended their second extramural season with 2-3 records. Miss Linda Cooper, Senior High School Physical Education instructor, coached the Trojan Women's "A" team, while Miss Cheri Christiansen, Junior High School Physical - Education instructor, coached the "B" team. Paula Traphagen was the team manager.

All concerned feel that this has been a good building year and that women's sports will be even tougher next season.

Trojan Women Set 2-3 Record in Second Year of Conference Play

In desperation, Mary Fauskee valiantly fights to recover the ball from her Edgerton opponent. Southwest Christian of Edgerton proved to be a powerful team, and defeated both the "A" and "B" team in a dual meet held in Worthington on October 1.



Upper Right: High scoring Mary Fauskee has complete control of the ball as she comes down the court to sink the ball and chalk up a few more points for the Worthington Trojan Women's team.

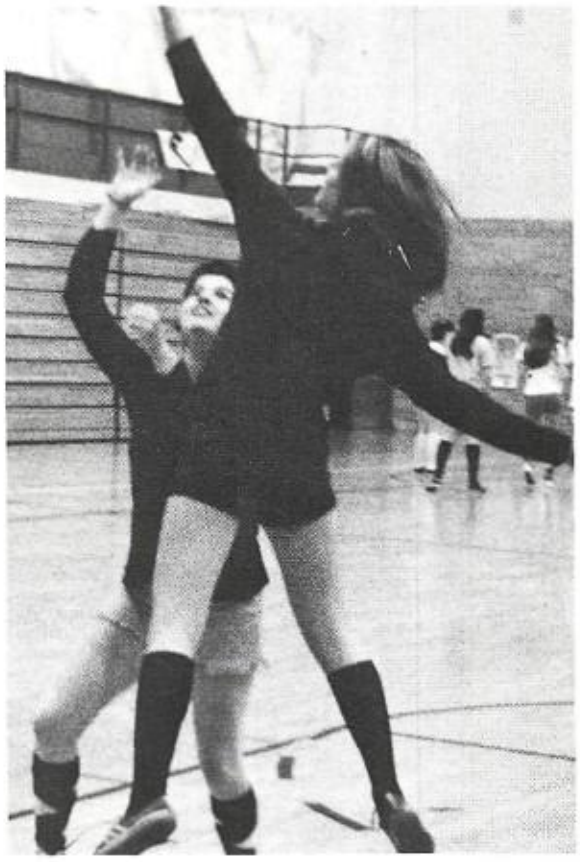
Bounce That Ball Give It a Spin Come on Girls Put It in

Nancy Barkuloo and Dawn Eshelman struggle for possession of the basketball and the chance to score two points. Who would ever guess that Nancy and Dawn are on the same team.



Getting a perfect shot off before the defender interrupts, Nancy Barkuloo follows through with perfect form. The defender is Shari Schimbeno.

Perfect form, perfect poise and a perfect shot. The three essentials of a good basketball player. Dawn Eshelman exhibets all of these desirable qualities.

The B-squad ended their season record with two wins and three losses. Yet this didn't discourage them any. They played hard and worked hard.

Their first game was against Southwest Christian of Edgerton who humbled them tremendously with a 52-17 win. Their second game was a bit more exciting for them when they defeated Luverne 17-5. In this game Becky Barnhill was high scorer.

Pipestone came along to take charge in the third game 25-13 Kathy Weets took care of most of the scoring with 10 of the 13 points. Their last and closest game was lost by only one point to Red Wood Falls 16-15. Highest scorer for the entire year was Kathy Weets with Becky Hawkinson second.

"Don't lose control of that ball," comments Kathy Forsyth to Dawn Buntjer during a B-squad scrimmage. The girls practiced three times a week in order for them to prepare for an upcoming game. They worked out with the senior high girls for experience.

"Jump, jump, higher, higher, should be the cheer in this situation as freshman Kathy Weets goes in for a lay-up. It's off the fingertips and into the bucket.

Worthington started off their Women's volleyball season by hosting the Southwest Conference meet on November 1.

Extramural "A" and "B" teams from Jackson, Slayton, Pipestone, Redwood Falls, Marshall, Luverne, and Worthington participated in the event.

In their first match of the season, the Jackson Bluejays defeated the Trojan Women in the first two games; 15-7 and 15-5.

WHS picked up their first victory of the season by defeating Marshall in their second match of the night. The first game of the match was won by the Tigers 15-3. Junior Diane Habbena served eight points to lead the team to victory in the second game, 15-12. Senior Peggy Morphew helped clinch the match by serving six straight points in the final game, 15-7.

The "A" team defeated Pipestone for their second win at the meet. The first game of the match was won by Worthington in a total team effort, 15-2. The Arrows won the second game, 15-6.

The real thriller of the match was the third and deciding game. Pipestone served first and at one point in the game, the Trojan Women were trailing 13-7. They battled back to tie the score at 14-14. The lead went back and forth but the Trojan Women came out on top. Sophomore Sue Suby put over three crucial serves to give the Trojan's the match, 17-15. The "A" squad was coached by Ms. Linda Cooper.

The "B" squad, coached by Ms. Cheri Christiansen, lost their first match of the season to Luverne, 15-3, 2-15, and 15-2.

Jackson was the "B" team's first victim of the year. They defeated the Bluejays in just two games, 15-10 and 15-12.

Freshman Becky Rosenberg led the team with seven points in the first game. Leading the Trojan Women in their second game was Sophomore Kris Kaiser with seven points. Junior Connie Gerdes added four points to the winning cause.

In their last contest, the "B" squad defeated the Marshall Tigers. Marshall won the first game 15-8, but the Trojan Women bounced back to win the last two games, 15-5 and 15-11.

Worthington travelled to Luverne for a triangular meet on November 13. The Luverne "A" team came on strong to capture the first game, 15-5. The Trojan Women came back strong and brought the Luverne "A" team down to defeat by grabbing two straight games, winning the match. Scores, 15-8, 15-7. The "B" team easily defeated Southwest Christian of Edgerton by taking two of the 3 games to win the match. A combined "A" and "B" team slaughtered a Luverne team in just two games, 15-6 and 15-4, to wear the winner's crown.

The last scheduled outing on December 6 was a dual meet at Edgerton, with the Trojan Women asserting their abilities to cop all honors.

Teamwork and awareness are two factors involved in producing a winning team. Carol Platte slams the volleyball while teammate Cindy Boddy assists just in case Carol would fan the air. With team work like this, how could you help but have a winning team. The girls thrilled their spectators throughout the season.

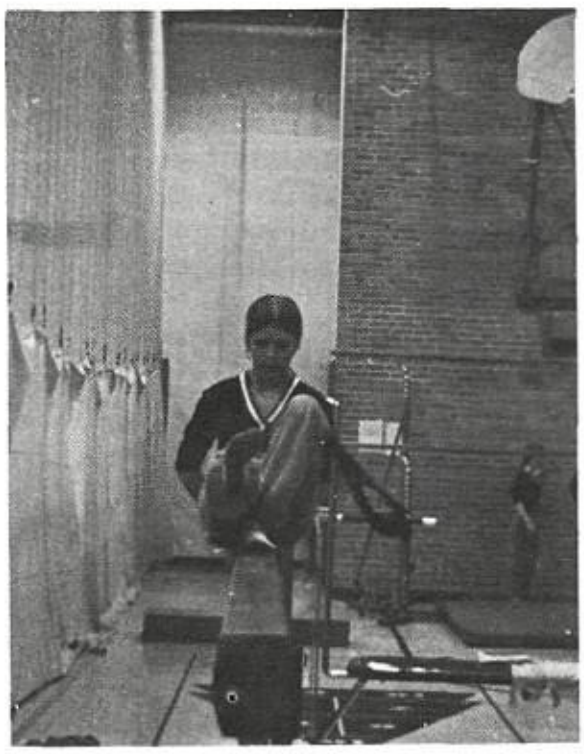
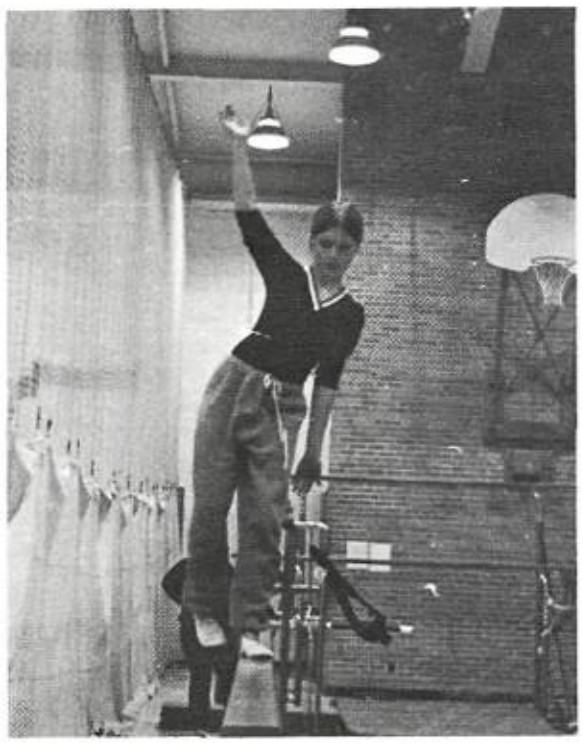
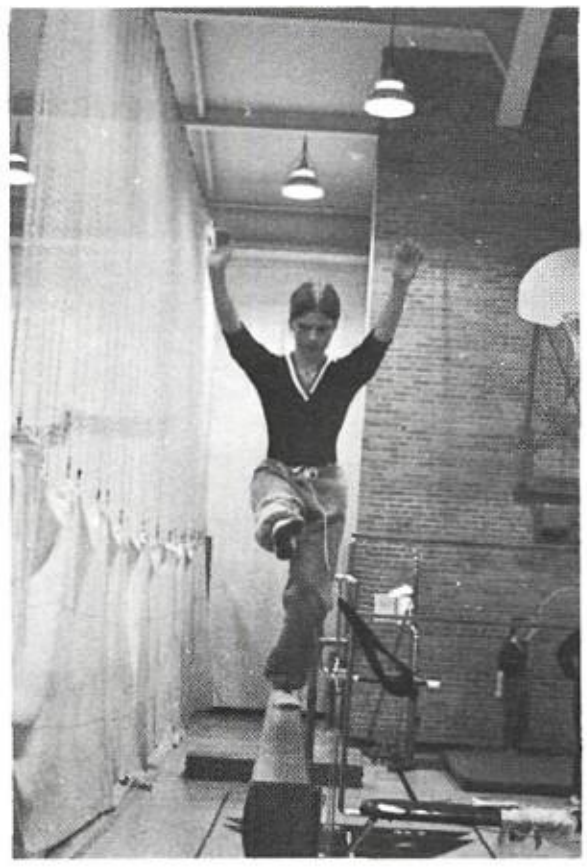
Below: "At least I think I've got it now," comments Roxanne as she does one of the many numerous tricks that can be done on the beam. This is one of the easier ones.

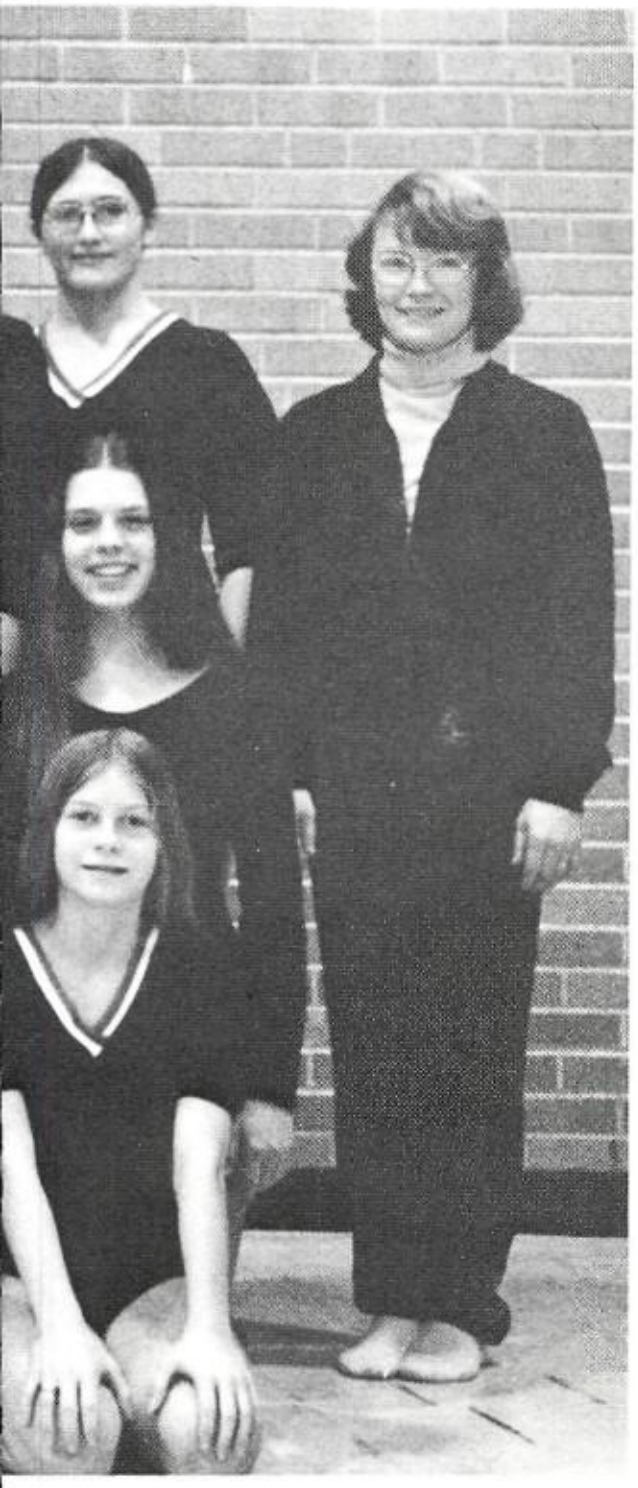


Gymnastics is still pretty new to WHS students this year. Above is sophomore Roxanne Ella preparing to mount the balence beam during one of the practicies.

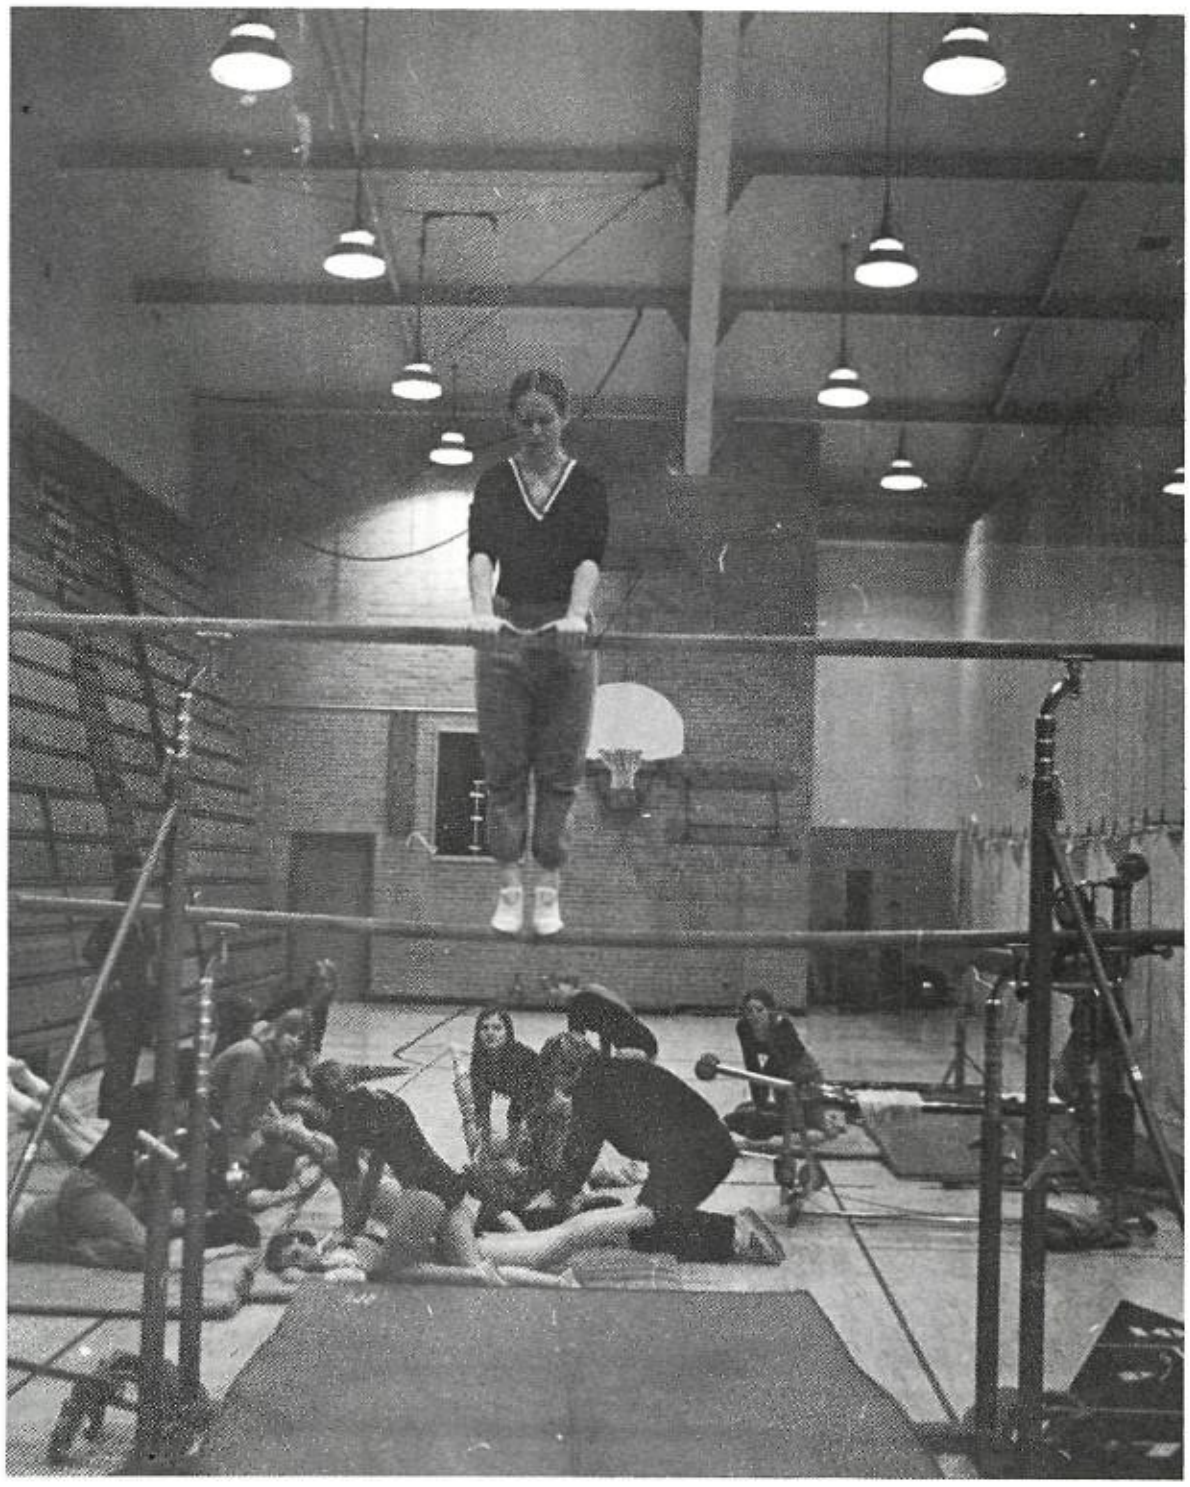


"Oops, be careful, Roxanne!" Sometimes one is a little wobbly until they get going. It takes a lot of hard work and dedication to become good at the beam.



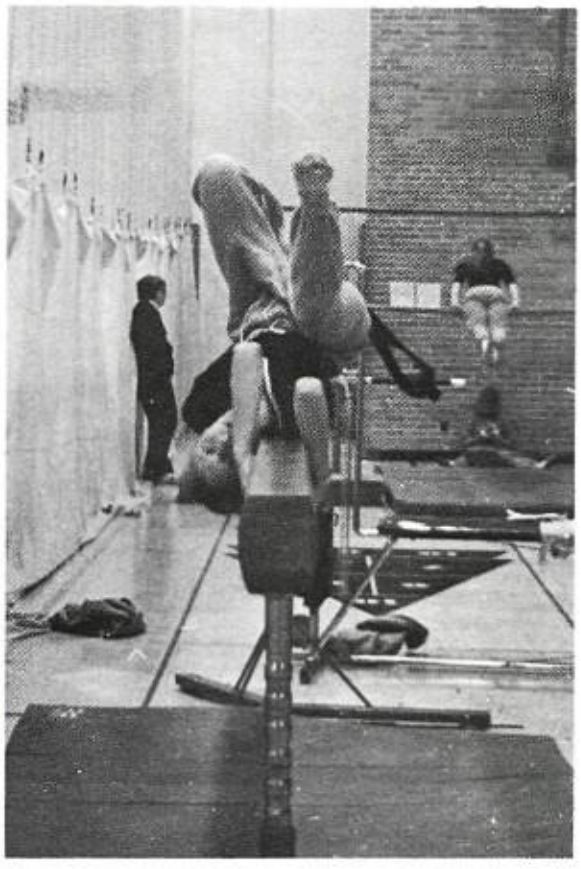


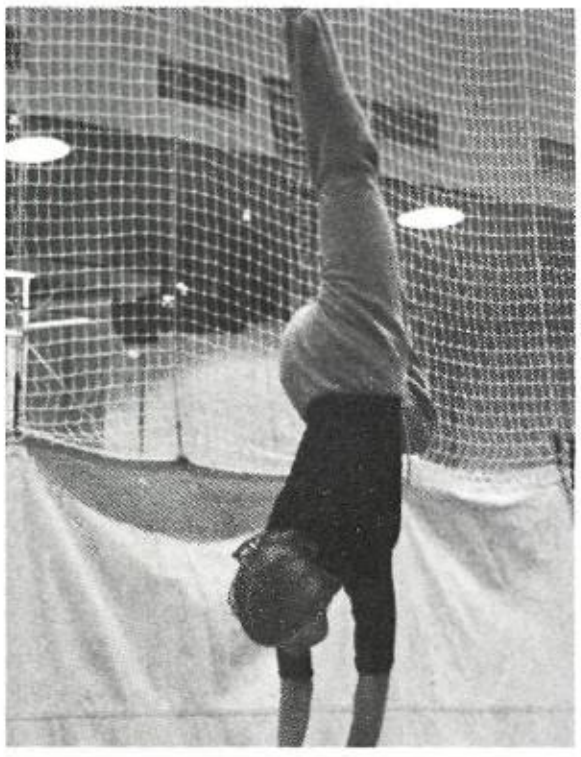
"This one is a little more difficult," explains JoAnn Motl to the photographer, "Either you do it right or you end up on the floor feeling kind of silly."



A typical scene in the life of a gymnast. Before you mount those parallel bars you have to be limber and ready. Sophomore Mary Fauskee is ready to go.

Below: Coach Linda Cooper instructs Sophomore Mary Fauskee in how to keep from getting hurt when preforming on the bars. The girls have been known to go home at times not feeling to well.





Another trick that can be done is inverting one's body on the balence beam just right so you don't lean to much one way. Junior JoAnn Motl is doing just that.

Hey

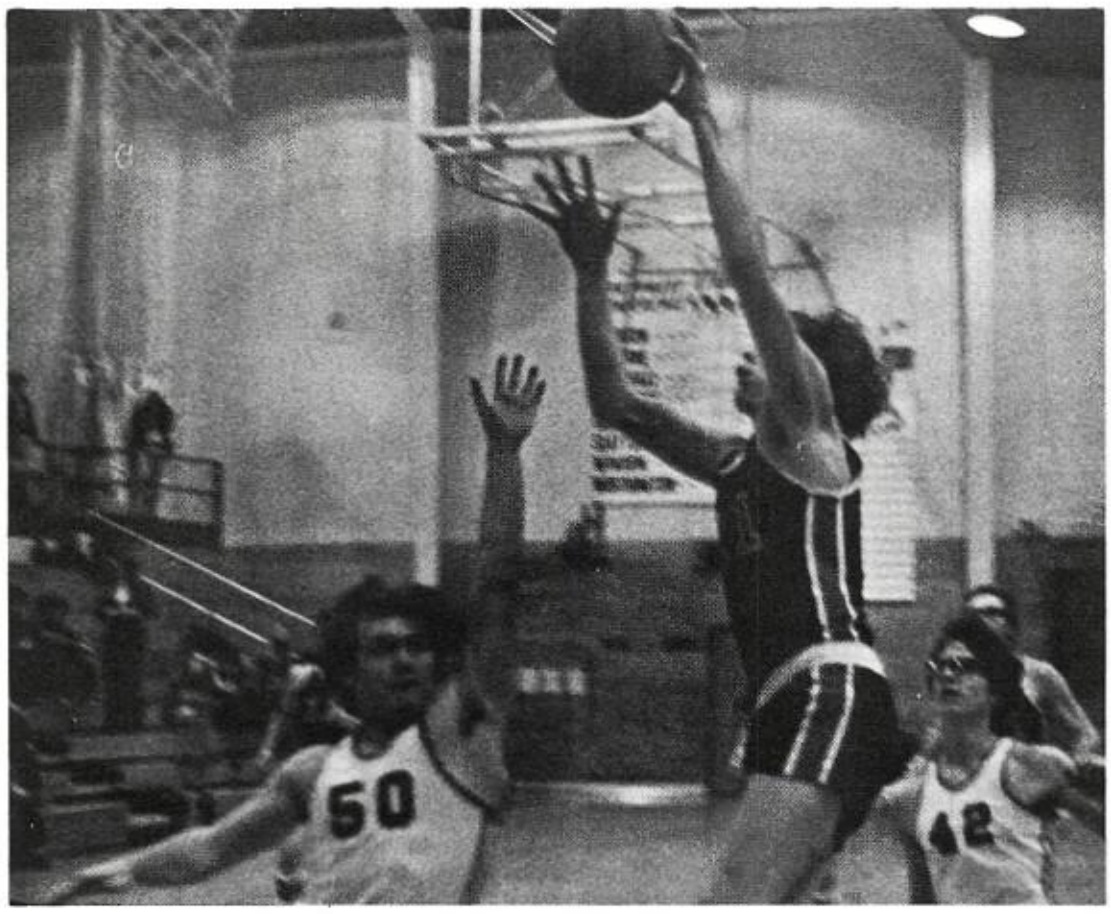
"Hey Larry, aren't you glad you use Dial, don't you wish your opponent would?" Sophomore Larry Granstra defends our Trojan Bucket as his opponent tries to score.



"Only a few more yards to go and it's six more biggies for our side." thinks a hardy Trojan while running for the WHS goal line for a touchdown.

"Only a few more feet to go and it's a bucket for the Trojans." Basketball has done very well this year in defense as well as offense. They've really worked hard under Basche.

Hey

"Look's like a stalemate to me! But don't worry I think I can handle it," thinks a B-squad Trojan Wrestler. Always supporting these boys are the energetic B-squad cheerleaders.

Boys intermurals are very popular in WHS. It gives the guys a chance to work off that extra bit of energy and at the same time have a blast with their teammates.

That away Senior Jeff German, aim, swing, and hit the golf ball. "Hey Jeff you forgot to hit the ball." Look it's there behind you.

Way to be Senior Bruce Wilson, carrys that great old football to the goal line to make an additional six points. Wilsons efforts were worth his while.

Hustle

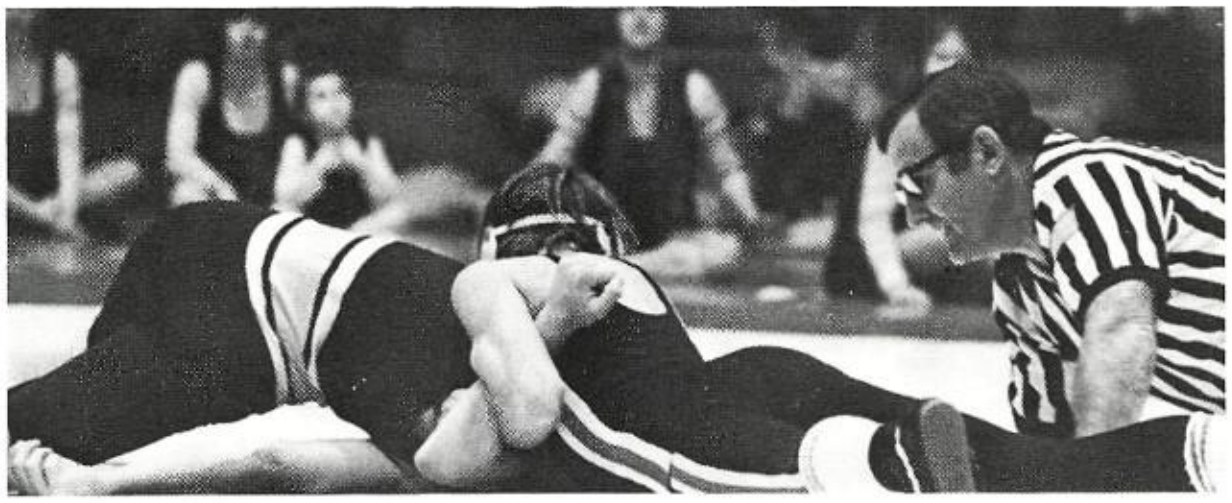
"Hands up" Junior Don Schlichte. Don tries to distract Jackson player Mark Gibbsons from making a field goal. Don is a "go getter", he really showed his talents.



Trojan wrestlers ultimatium is to be on top and win. Accomplishing this task, our faithful wrestlers undoubtedly scores with a pin.

Hustle

Hustle

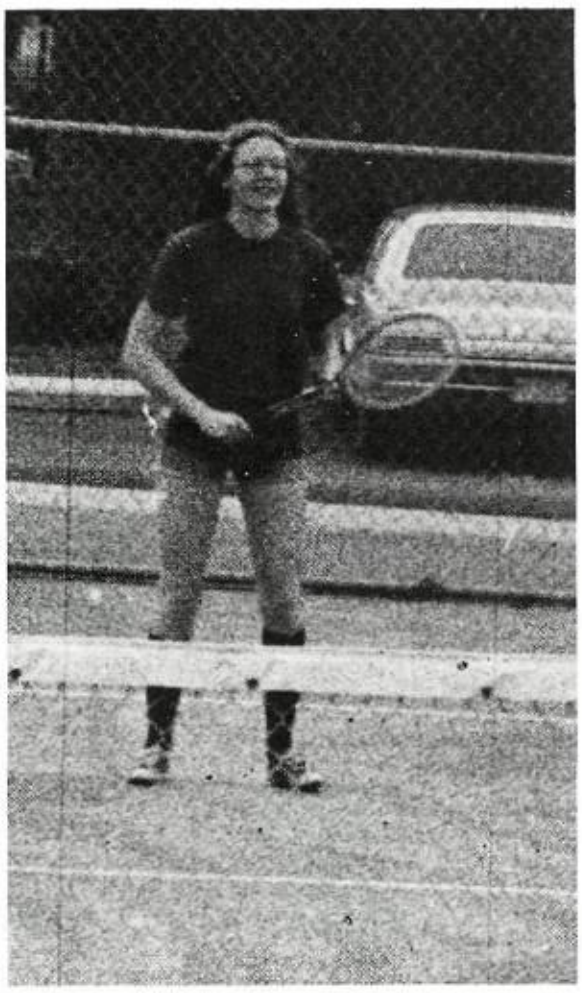
Would you look at Mary Fauskee, sophomore, carry that basketball, doesn't she look like a real pro? This was Marys second year in girls basketball, her efforts are considered good.

The fall of 1973 ushered in the first Girls' Tennis team of Worthington Senior High School to be competing in regularly scheduled meets. The tennis team was paced to an undefeated three-meet season. Girls participating in the team are: Front Row: Colleen Terhaar, Annette Balster, and Hollis Nickleson. Back Row: Lorretta Schaap, Peggy Morphew, Linda Ebbers, and Nancy Kuhl.

Nancy Kuhl eye balls the tennis ball in anticipation of slamming it back to her opponent and capturing the match for Worthington.



Annette Balster's talents on the courts proved vital in helping to defeat the Luverne team by a big 21-2 win.

Worthington High School girls' athletic teams began this fall competing in a regular schedule with other girls' teams in the conference. The two teams beginning play this fall were the golf and tennis teams, both taking part in three meets.

The girls golf team was coached by Mrs. Kathy Isensee with Miss Elda Lovik handling the tennis squad. Both teams did well in their initial inter-school activities.

Some 15 girls participated in golf this season with Jeanne Motl, JoAnn Motl, Linda Horstman and Connie Gerdes seeing the most action. The Trojan girls were defeated in their opening match at Luverne by seven strokes. They came back in the conference meet at Redwood Falls with five girls playing in five different flights. Four won firsts in the tourney with one girl placing second. The final golf meet of the season was held at the Worthington

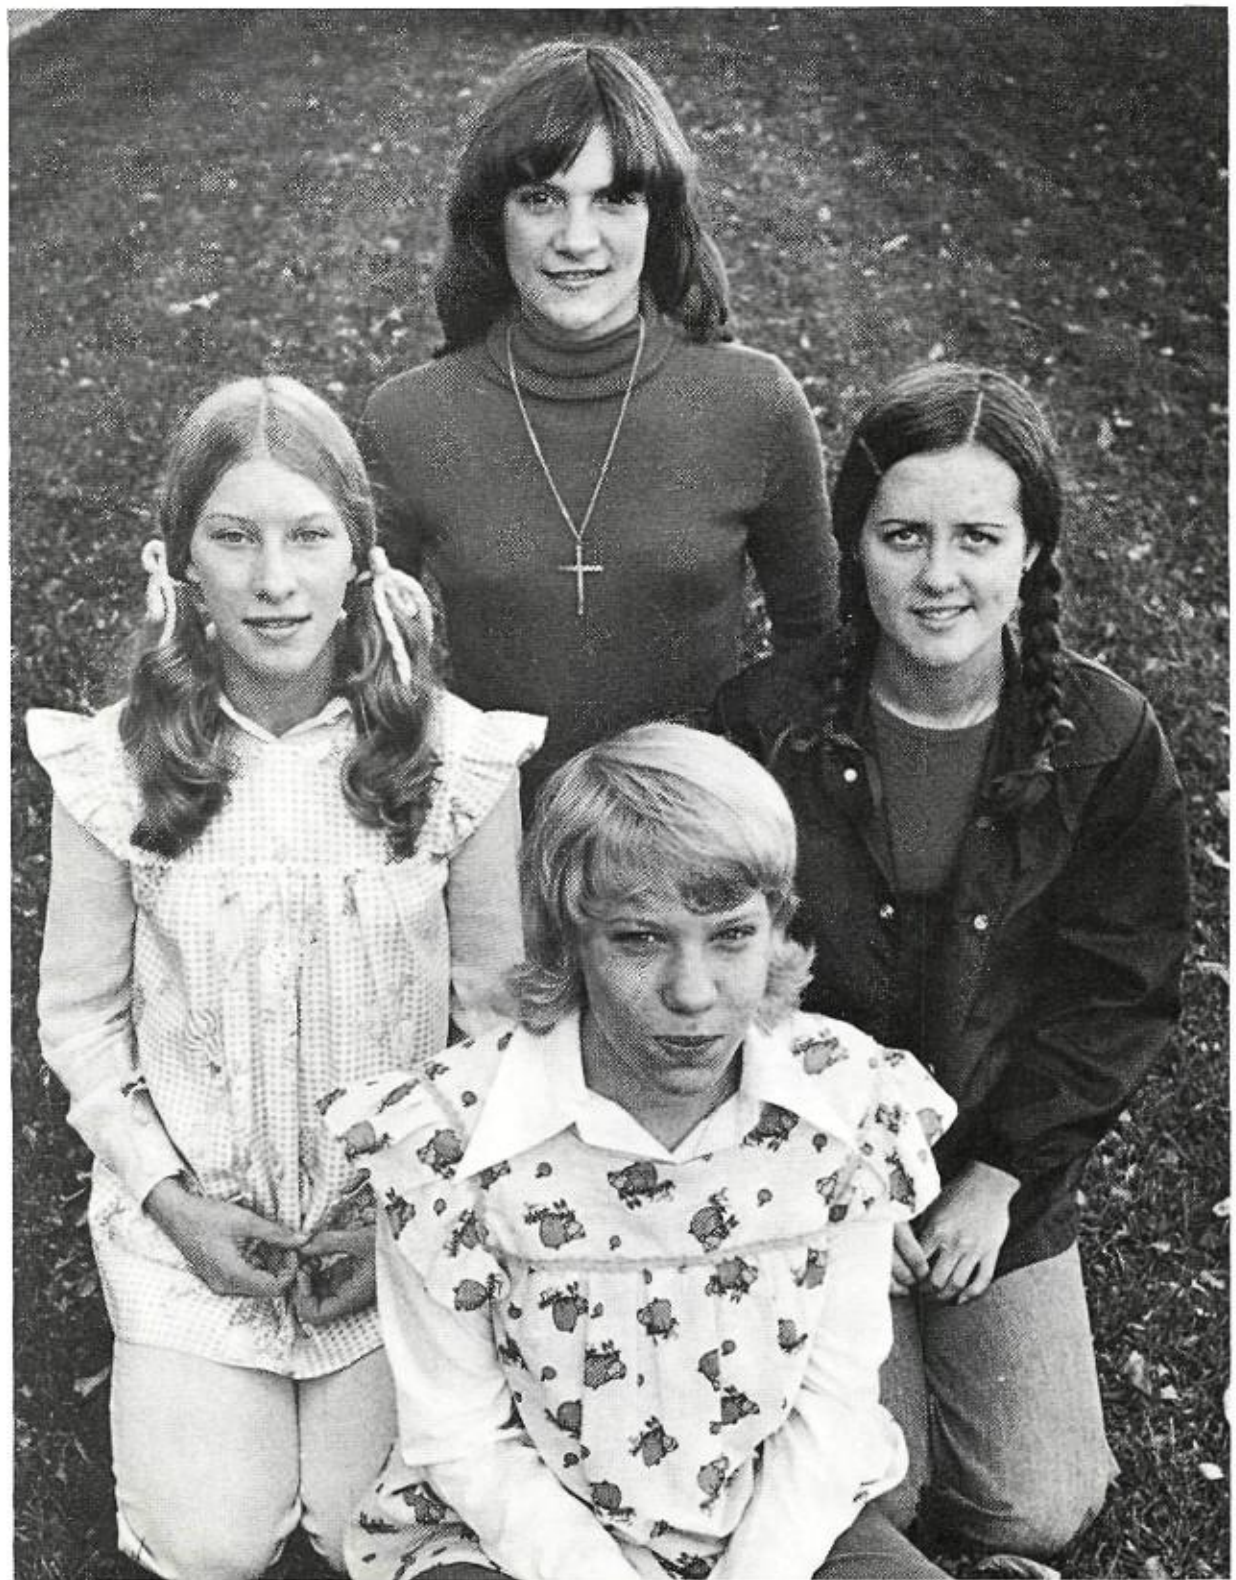
The tennis team this season was paced to an undefeated three-meet season by Collen Terhaar, Hollis Nickelson, and Loretta Schaap. All three were undefeated.

Other girls who participated in tennis this season were Nancy Kuhl, Linda Ebbers, Annette Balster, and Peggy Morphew.

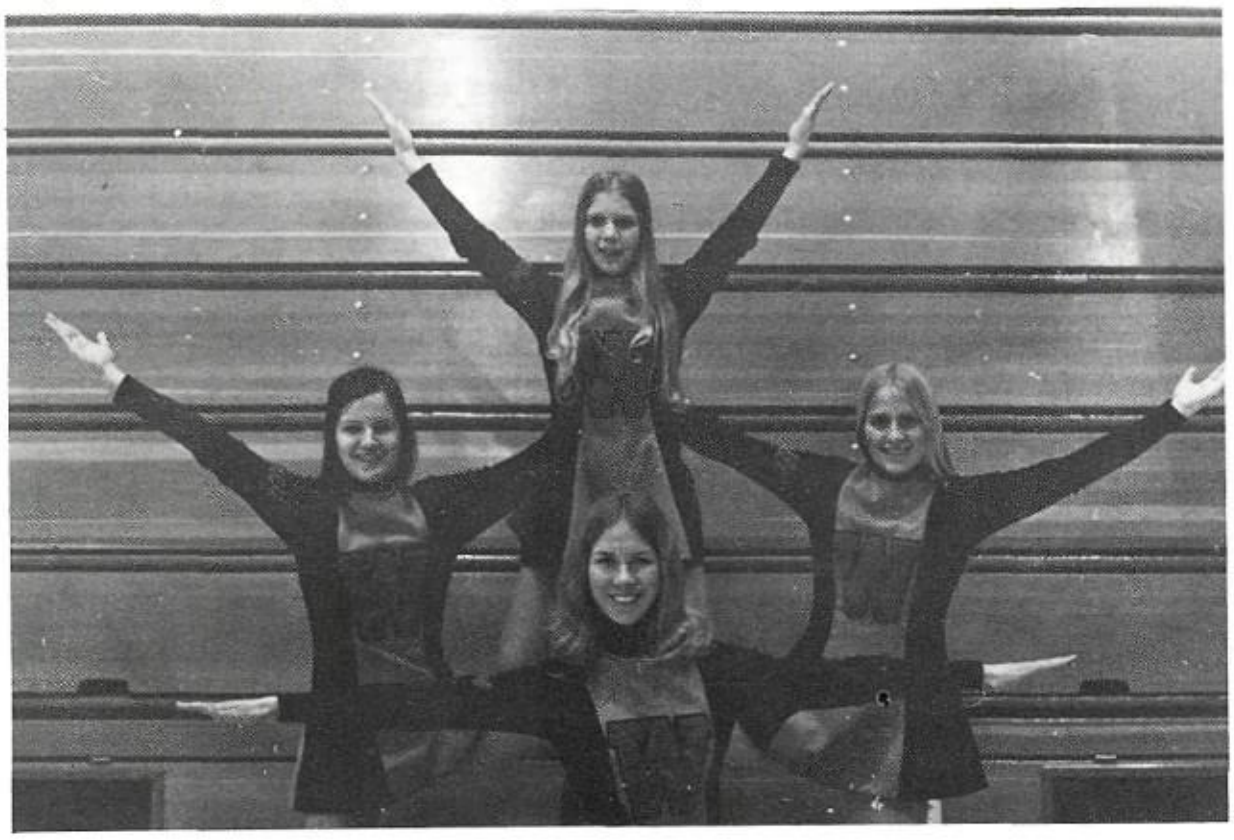
Worthington opened its season with a big 21-2 win over Luverne. In the conference meet held at Windom, the girls were victorious with eight points over their nearest competitors — Windom, Slayton, and Redwood Falls—all with four points.

The final meet of the season was a triangular with Luverne and Slayton. Once again, Worthington was the winner with nine points over Slayton's four and Luverne's two points.

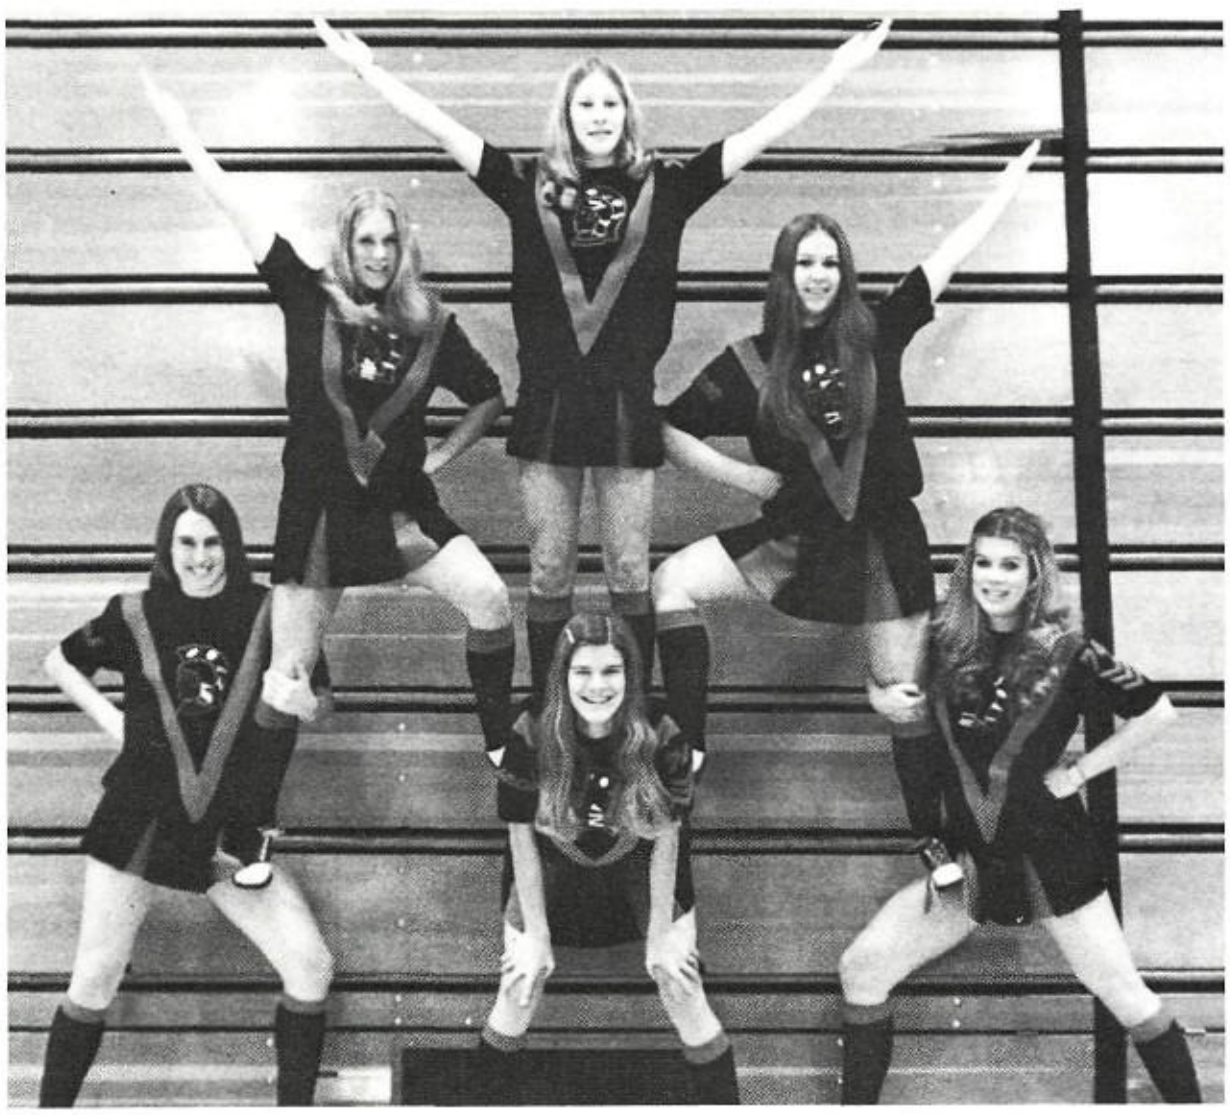


"Go, team, go! Fight, team, fight! Win, team, win!" scream the spirited "A" and "B" squad cheerleaders. In their black and red uniforms, the energetic cheerleaders help set the winning mood for both the spectators and the Trojans. The required physical training and endurance of each of the cheerleaders is matched only by the high school athelete they encourage to victory.

Spirited Cheer Leaders Gain State Recognition for Vigor and Pep



Below: Climbing to the top, the A-Squad basketball cheerleaders strive to get a better look over the towering players. Barbara Sellberg, Marcia Opsata, Dawn Eshleman, Patricia Graf, Joann Motl, and Sharon Strouth are pleased at what they see.



Above: Only thoughts of a VICTORY are on the minds of the "B" squad basketball cheerleaders. The win minded cheerleaders are Sue Suby, Nancy Nunes, Roxanne Ella, and Michelle Streeter.

The 1973-74 cheerleades, an energetic group of girls, led the mighty Trojans in a victorious season in all sports.

During the summer of 1973, the football cheerleaders attended a cheerleader's clinic at St. Peter for 5 days. Nearly 500 girls throughout the state attended and competed by squads at the camp. Classes were held and our girls paid close attention to the happenings of each day. A "spirit stick" was presented to the Worthington girls for their oustanding vigor and pep.

Each cheerleader exerted that little bit extra to make the various athletic season victorious and memorable. Both local and visiting spectators sat up and took notice of the new and unique routines the cheerleaders performed.

Above: "B" squad wrestling cheerleaders kept spirits at a high pitch during the many matches throughout the year. "We are Trojans, and proud of it," beam Jane Krekelberg, Cathy Boswell, Gail Meyer, Debra Bonin, and Ann Thompson.

Right: The "can-can" dance routine is among the most popular with the spectators and the cheerleaders. Keeping time with the rhythmic sounds of the "Pep Band", cheerleader Marcia Opsata puts "oomph" in the dance.

A heart may skip a beat, the tears may flow, and the next few days you may be hoarce and cannot speak, but it is all worth the agony when a wrestler goes to State competition. "A" squad wrestling cheerleaders who so faithfully encourage each Trojan participant, are: Cindy Vosberg, Shelley Luing, Pam Hansberger, and Dawn Yahnke.

The New Year Brings A New Administration, Al Johnson.

Beginning his first year in Worthington Senior High, Mr. Al Johnson has come bringing with him many new ideas! His responsibilities include enforcing discipline, hiring and interviewing new teachers, coordinating the duties of staff members and acting as general supervisor of the school.

Mr. Gerald Iscensee, associate principal, supervises the record keeping of each students school attendance and the students daily schedule. In absence of the principal he must assume full responsibility of the high school.

Two full time counselors, Mr. Duane Fish and Mrs. Betty Buchele, offer their assistance to the students who plan to further their education.

Then along comes the men who walk like gentlemen, talk with tact, and smile the smile of humble men. S.H. Held and Dr. R. Hoffman.

If that kid would hurry up and take the picture we could get back to our business. So ready and willing to work are members of the Board of Education. Seated are members Kern Schwartz, Eldon Sorenson, Jim Fellows and Robert Ludlow. Standing are; Daryl Dawson, Sterling Johnson and Lloyd Standafer.

I'm going into my office and close the door so that I won't be able to hear ALL the racket, Declares Superintendent S.L. Held.

(Right) Hey you really are taking my picture! Should I hand out autographs now? Who else would say that other than our own Gerald Isencee.

(Below) Duane, a whole box of catalogues came in and we haven't any place to put them in our BEAUTIFUL office, cries counselor Betty Buchele to associate Duane Fish.

Really, you can't hi-jack the Superintendents building with your camera, but if you come back with it loaded we'll see what we can do for you, states Assistant Superintendent Dr. Hoffman.

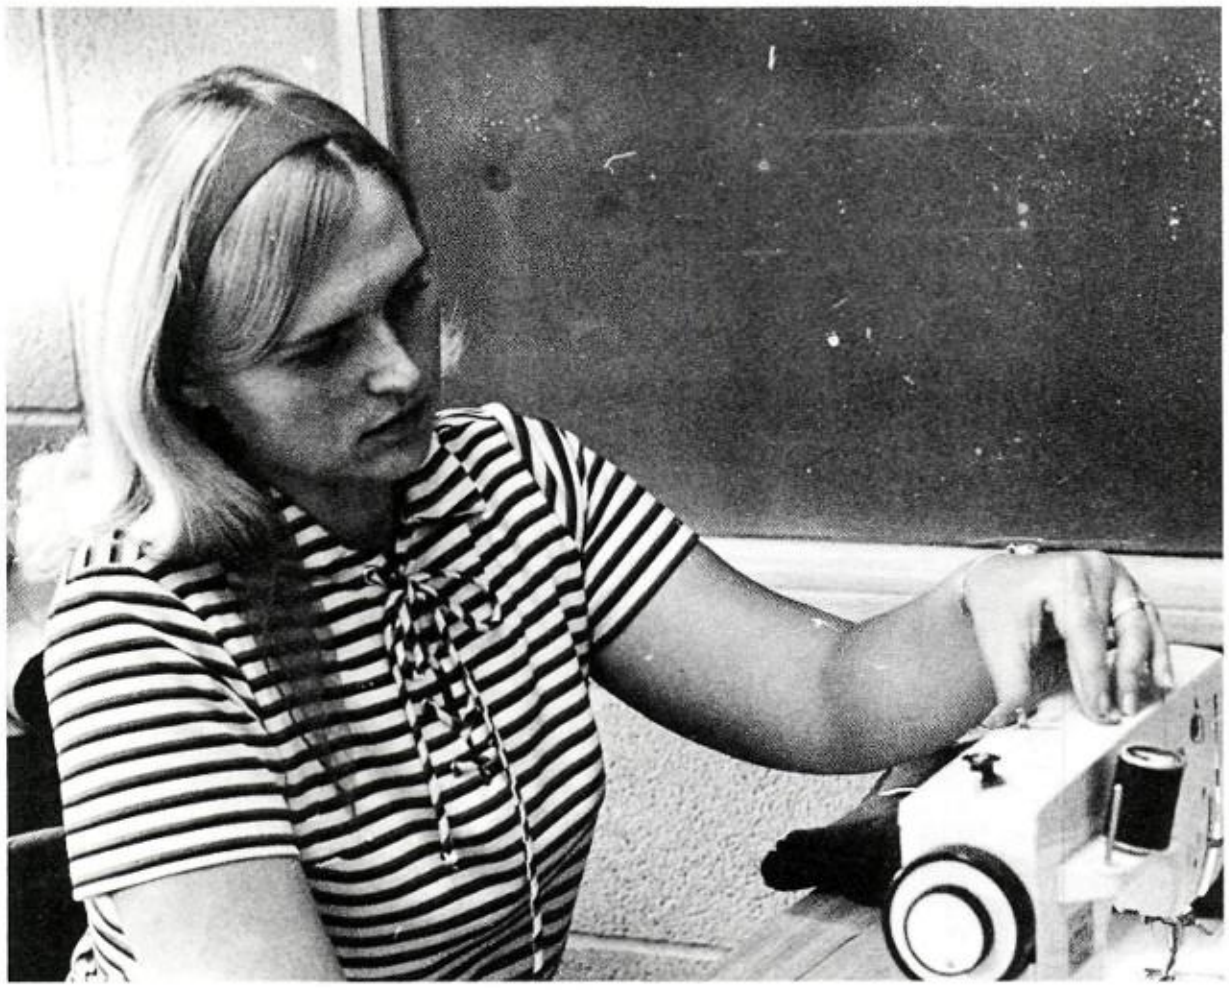
Males Invade Women's Domain: Home Economics Gets it Together

Sharon Gay
Marjorie Netwal

Marilyn Miller
Aldyne Robinson



Mrs. Marilyn Miller, Foods and clothing instructor, amazes her students with her mechanical ability. Not only must you know how to operate a sewing machine, but it is essential that minor repairs can be made without the aid of a "hired" technician. What would we do without the bobby pin?

"A cookbook is one type of bound information that you do not have to take away from the boys." Mrs. Aldyne Robinson shares her teaching time with the Junior High School. At the Senior High School, she conducts classes in Foods, Housing, and family living.

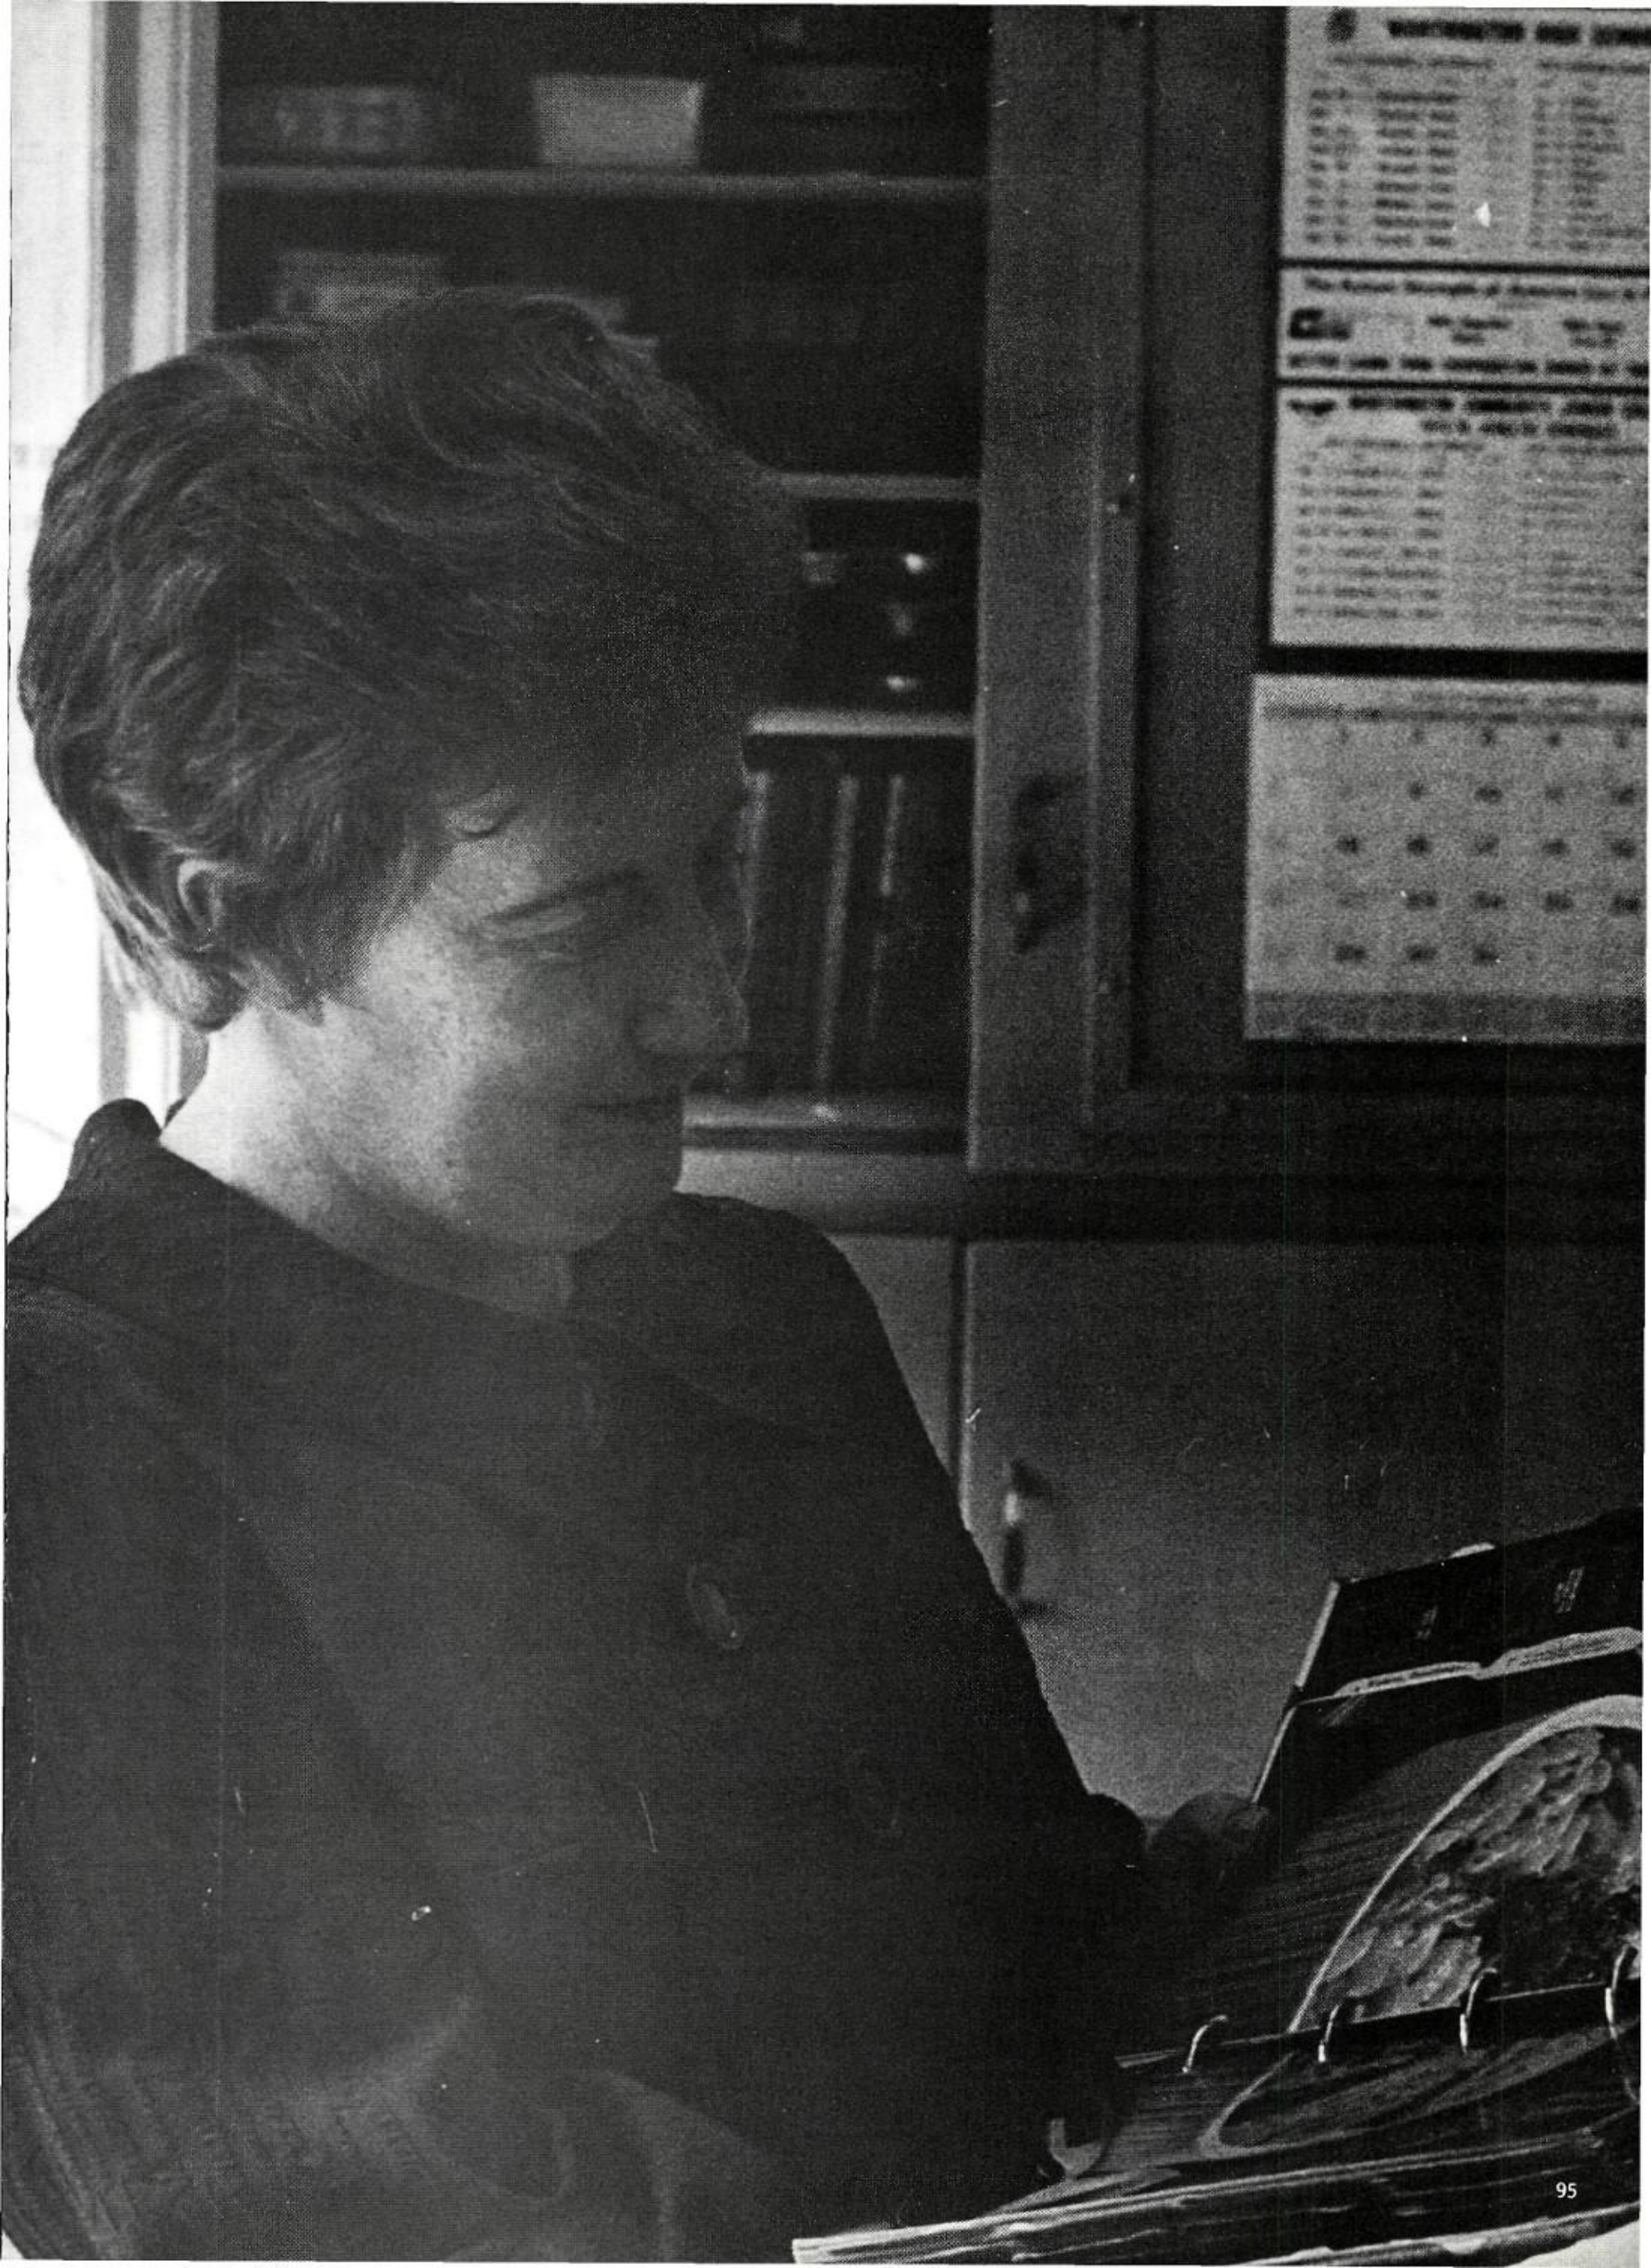
The tantalizing aroma usually associated with the Home Economics Department has not changed, but the enrollment has changed. All shapes and sizes of the male sex has invaded the kitchens of the Home Ec Department. With aprons on, dough in hand, the results of the boys endeavors have been most delicious.

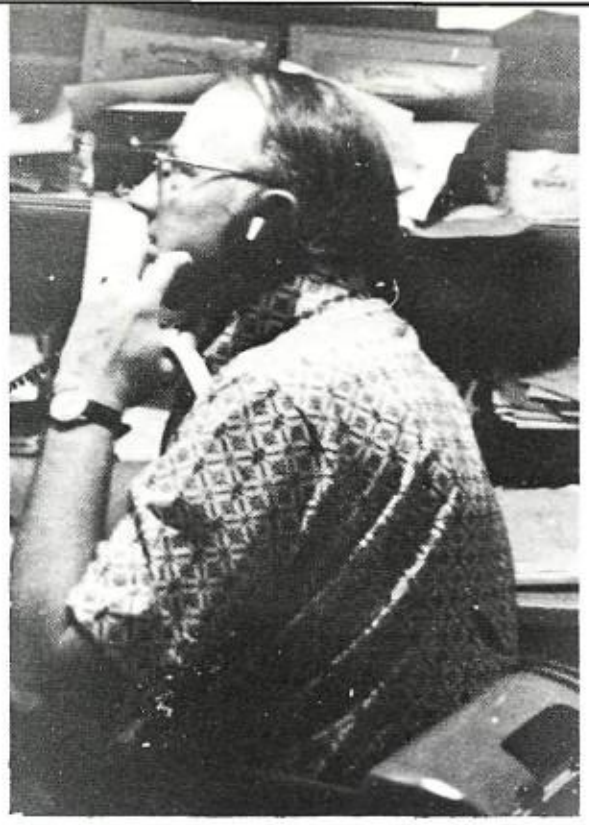
In additon to Foods with a Flair, Creative Foods, the Magic of Fashion, and Fashion Language, which are customary and usual with most Home Economics Departments, a course entitled Housing is offered. In addition to problems in renting, buying, or building a home tasks involving usage of space and decorating are undertaken.

The cry of an infant echos throughout the room as the family living class observes the techniques in the bathing of a baby. Problems of courting, marriage, and parenthood are investigated. Family living has become a very popular course for students interested in elementary education.

The career programs of Food Occupations and Health Occupations continue to increase in numbers. The community has responded very favorably in on-the-job training in these two areas.

Department Chairman, Mrs. Marjorie Netwal, cordinates department curriculum with Mrs. Sharon Gay, Mrs. Marilyn Miller, and Mrs. Aldyne Robinson.





Mr. Kenneth Thompson, District #518 Athletic Director, is in charge of scheduling and cordinating athletic events.

Air Conditioned Cars, Automatic Exercise Machine Comfort of Life

Are we really fit? . . . physically that is. This certainly was the question of many of the students as they entered the first day of phy-ed.

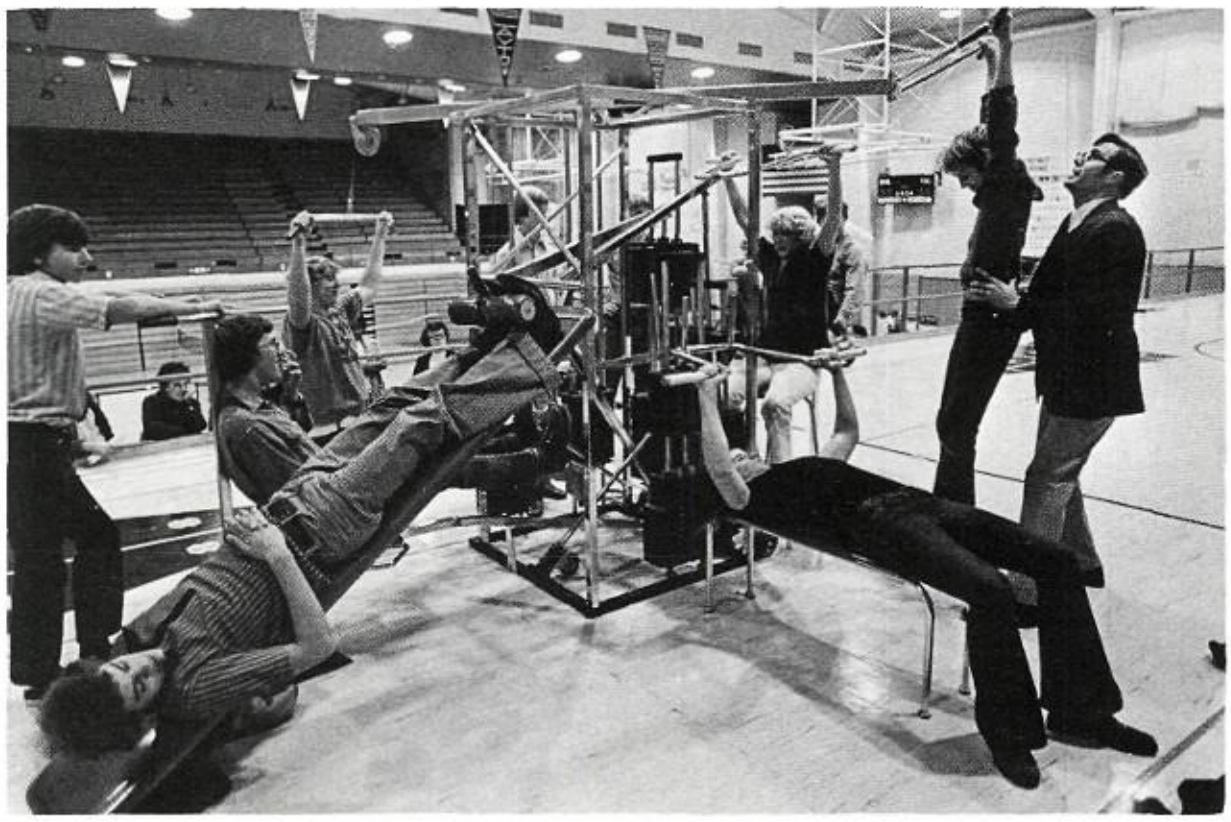
An aid in the devlopment of sound mind and body was acquired by the Athletic Department this year. A 16-station" weight exercising machine has been placed in operation and has been used to the delight of the students.

Soccer, tennis, speedball, archery, golf, and football listed high on the "like list" of the phy-ed students. A requirement for graduation, Mr. Donald Basche and Miss Linda Cooper physical exercise and good health habits are essential to all.

The Advanced Physical-Education class moved into its second year with record enrollment. A co-educational course, it is designed to actively involve the student in sports that would be fullfilling leisure time activity. Archery, tennis, handball, table tennis asketball, volleyball, skeet shooting, and weight lifting made up portions of the activities. Mr. Leon Schimbeno became a full-time phy-ed instructor to help satisfy the demands of the students for Advanced Physical Education.

Kenneth Thompson | Linda Cooper | Donald Basche | Leon Schimbeno | William Johnson

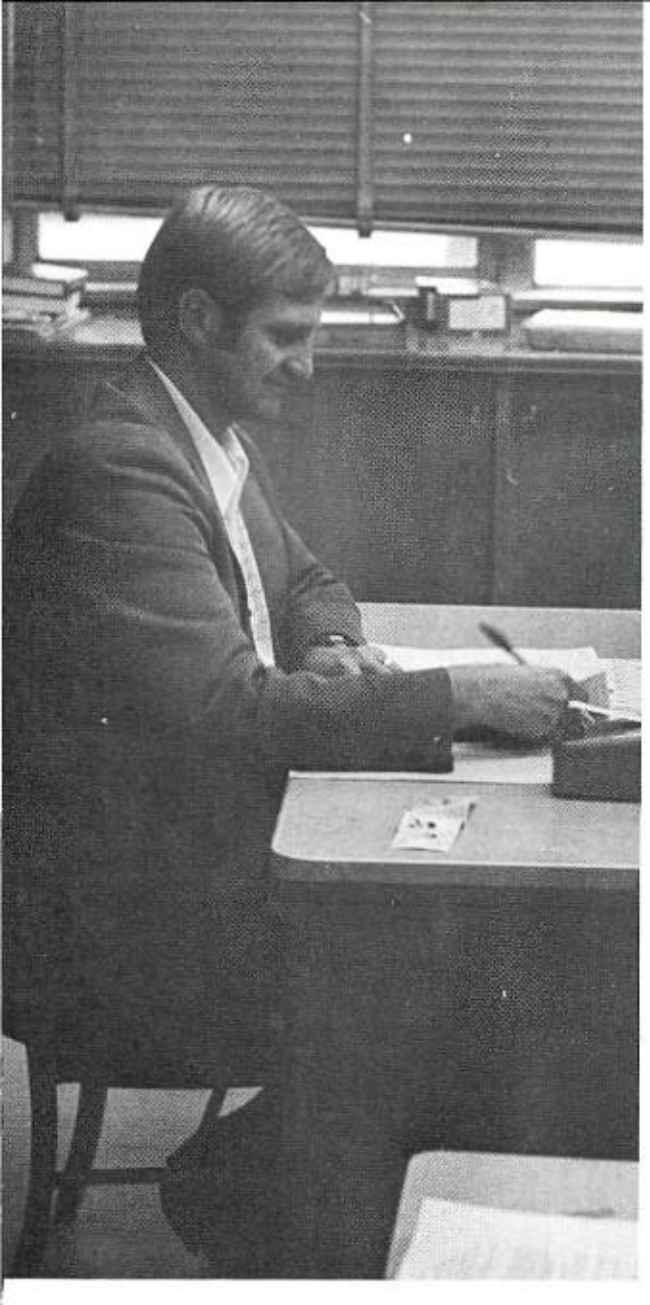
"Something we always wanted, but didn't think we would get," describes the new "16-station" weight exercising machine which was purchased for the Athletic Department this year. Instructor Mr. Donald Basche, instructs members of a physical education class on the $2,950 machine.



Driver's Education expanded to include motorcycle education. Numerous "bikes" required further achievements prior to the passing of a State examination.

In its second year as part of the daily curriculum, Drivers' Education included 36 classroom hours and a minimum of 7 ½ hours behind the wheel. A rotating schedule is maintained for those students in the "behind the wheel" segment, while the classroom portion is held during the resource period, 3 to 3:30 each day.

Instructor, Mr. William Johnson, feels that the chief advantage of program during the school year is that students are exposed to all types of Minnesota weather conditions.



Extend the two parellel ines, draw two perpendicular lines, a right triangle, a 45 degree angle, a square, and you've got a great doodle. Mr. John Forsyth, Algebra and Physics instructor, ponders the next "structure of Algebra."

Tests are an everyday experience for most students, but some tests have greater importance than others, so agrees the instructors in the math department.

Even with the transfer of Mr. Leon Schimbeno from the Math Department to a full-time Phy-Ed instructor, the choices for the analitical minded, college bound math student seems to be unlimited. Two years of Algebra, two years of geometry, and Modern Introductory Analysis are the offerings for the student with a capacity for figures.

Deductive thinking, congruence, locus problems, polygons, area and volume, linear and quadratic equations, logarithms, triogonometric functions, vectors, matrices and determinants, exponential, and circular trigonometric functions crowded the memory functions of the math students. In addition to saturating the brain with formulas and figures, the math department begain a program of converting to the metric system.

Department Chairman, Richard Adel, deemed it necessary that full cooperation and coordination of the math program from K through 12 was vital and necessary. Through various meetings with math instructors, a coordinated program in math has begun through District #518.

The Senior High School math program is under the instructional leadership of Mr. Kenneth Droegemueller, Mr. John Forsyth, and Mr. Richard Adel.

Agriculture and Mechanics Prepare for Future Needs

Industrial Arts courses in WHS provide a broad spectrum of training in the knowledge and skills required in the areas of Aeronautics, Drafting, Electrics, Metalwork and Woodwork. Introductory courses are offered to students who wish to explore this type of training. Advanced courses provide greater in-depth training for students with special abilities and interests, also, some may wish to pursue some aspect of this work vocationally. Facilities and equipment are some of the best found in Southwest Mn. schools.

Agriculture classes participate in an inclusive study of animal husbandry plus an introduction to farm mechanics. Soil management and crop production were undertaken as well as crop storage, marketing leadership training, and farm mechanics.

Teaching his first year in WHS, Eldred Kingery demonstrates to his class one of the simple procedures of putting a little tender loving care into a future masterpiece of art!

Shielding his eyes from the bright glow of the torch, teacher Dale Peters is in actuality hiding from his students.

In all my 43 years of teaching I've yet to find a class of students who would put everything away with out being told, states C.W. Amundson.

Making use of the wide vocabulary used by ham radio operators, C.W. Amundson enjoys a brief conversation with a fellow enthusiast.

How Do You Say So-long to a Friend That You've Known for a Long Time?

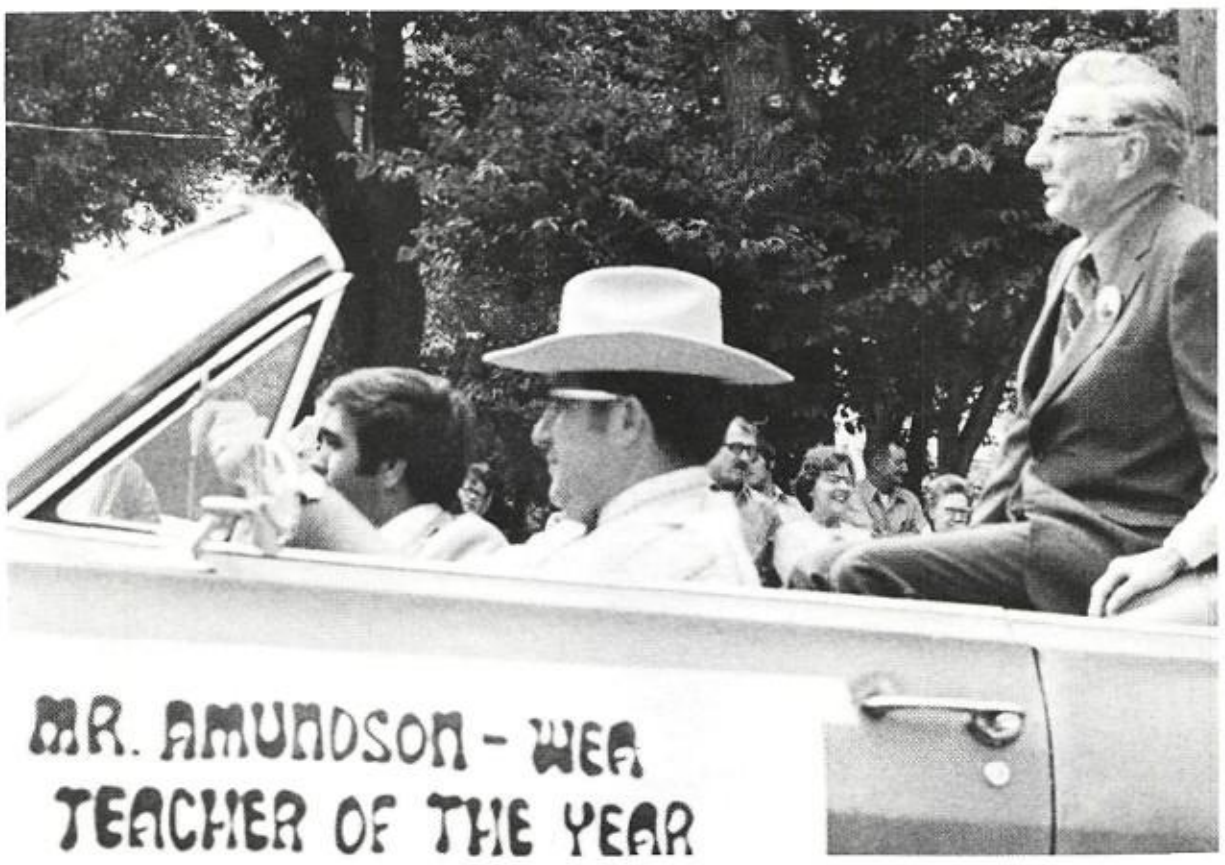
"But the greatest honor I have received was being selected as Teacher Of The Year by the Worthington Educational Association in the year 1971-1972," Cy Amundson.

What more practical courses were offered than those in the East wing of Worthington Senior High School. The quality and success of them could undoubtedly be attributed to retiring Mr. C.W. Amundson. Mr. Amundson's teaching career in Worthington began after graduation from Moorehead State College in 1928. A brief interruption was required during WW II when he taught aviation cadets. WHS cannot claim Mr. Amundson exclusively as their own teacher, as he has taught in the Junior High and our local Junior College during his teaching career.

Mr. Amundson's hobbies have been mainly aviation and electronics related. In fact, he was the first Worthington citizen to own an airplane; a two-place monoplane which he built in 1930-1931. Mr. Amundson holds an FAA Pilot's Certificate, FAA Group School Instructor's Certificates for all subject areas and a FAA Aircraft Mechanic's Certificate. He has been involved in electronics since grade school days. Mr. Amundson presently holds an Advanced Class Amateur Radio Operator's Certificate.

In 1971, he was selected as Worthington's Teacher of the Year; later being awarded the Teacher of Excellence by the Minnesota Educational Association.

As a teacher and friend to all, the entire student body and faculty wishes the very best to Mr. C.W. Amundson.



"Are you sure you don't have the time to listen to this fantastic record?" questions Bandmaster Glenn Evensen. Each year, the Trojan Band "cuts" an album of some of the selections that they have been performing. The tradition has grown to the point where the demand may not be met.

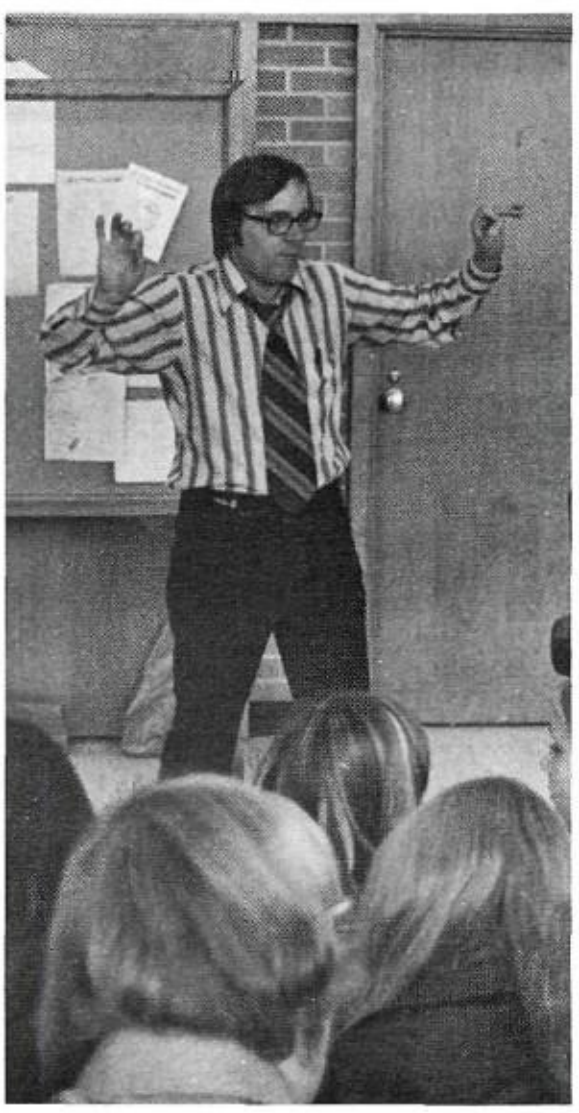
Auditions Select Music Department Talented Students

Auditions, elimination and final selection is the method of enrollment for the Worthington Senior High School Trojan Band and Concert Choir. Band master Glenn Evensen personally listens to each student wishing to participate and try out for the Trojan Band. Once accepted, the first chair holders are challenged by other members in their section for the position. Three years of constant practicing and devotion to your instrument will result in two band credits.

The large mass choir is composed of students willing and wanting to vocalize, musically. However, the coveted WHS Choir membership is based upon competitive auditions. In addition to the choirs, the "non-singers" may elect to enroll in the General Music class.

String pedagogy and orchestra are offered for those interested in further refinement of their talents with string and woodwind instruments.



Above: "Now hold that note," commends a pleased choir director, Mr. David Blegen. Many hours of practice are required prior to a concert.

Among other responsibilities, Mr. Dwayne Honerman make small repairs on various audio visual equipment. The tremendous task of accounting for the many thousands of volumes of books in our library, is undertaken by Mr. Honerman and his secretary, Mrs. Virginia McKinnon.

A wide variety of tools and equipment are common place in WHS's Art room. Mr. Harold Schulz uses a propane torch as an aid to help form costume jewelry. The popularity of the offerings has dictated additional staffing and room. Ms. Lorna Fish has joined the department.

Exquisite Silver Jewelry Result of Art Skills

Art education at the Worthington Senior High School is the field of knowledge, attitude, and skills that are required in the production and in the appreciation of Art. Its most apparent contributions are self-realization, human relationships, economic efficiency, civic responsibility, and as a builder of rational power.

The Art education provided the Worthington students is based on the scope and sequence of the various medias beginning with the Art I and Art II programs. Then the student continues his development by specializing in various media. The scope and sequence as stated in turn, is developed from the ideas of exploration, experimentation in many medias, sharpening perception of aesthetic qualities and increasing Art knowledge and skills.

The prime objectives of these courses are excellence in the individual difference category where the specialization of the individual occurs. At the present time, the course offerings include: painting, drawing problems, printing, clay sculpture, fibers, crafts, and jewelry making.

Prerequisites to these specialized courses are Art I which is basic 2-dementional design medias and Art II which includes 3-dementional Art media.

After a long hard day, Mass Media Instructor, Eldon Landis, enjoys a few minutes of tranquility before the after school rush emerges upon him.

Six semesters of English are required for graduation—a fact of life at WHS which many students find themselves lamenting. In an attempt to arouse a little more enthusiasm, stimulate new interests, and improve the students ability to communicate and relate to the world around him—which is, ultimately, the goal of all courses—traditional ideas of English are being re-evaluated, rearranged, and sometimes disregarded. English is no longer restricted to "reading and writing" New class activities currently available include use of modern equipment such as the video-tape machine to turn stories into television plays, cassettes for recording students' original radio broadcasts, and films and filmstrip-record combinations to present contemporary information.

WHS a Glow With Teachers Colorful Individualism

Students are also given a chance to express their ideas symbolically through art and music and orally through dramatics and interpersonal-relationships group activities. Numerous electives are now being offered. A special elective added to the department this year is the Mini-English program. This is a series of separate courses, each taught by a different teacher. The choices this year included Shakespeare, Multi-Ethnic Literature, Contest speech, Persuasion that Changed the World, and—most popular—Independent Reading. The purpose of this program is to introduce students to a wider selection of material and encourage more interest in new areas of learning, as well as to individualize education more by presenting a greater number of possible choices. If it proves successful, more mini-courses will be included in the future because the English department wants, and is striving, to meet the needs of each individual for the world he will find outside the classroom.

College-Bound Students Seek Challenge of Science Dept.

Science classes and foods classes have much in common. Both experiment, both have failures. A science experiment blows up; a cake falls. Among the failures, many successful results are obtained.

In the Science Department, the chemicals and ingrediants are different, the method of heating is more primitive, and one doubts seriously if you would enjoy eating the results. However, the manner in which you would have gone about preparing the mixture is about the same. Assemble chemicals, mix ingrediants, and beat well! As for the after baking odor . . . well, let's just say that it leaves a lot to be desired . .

Knowing animals inside and out is not the greatest thrill of the Biology scholars. However, disecting various animals, injecting new born chickens, and following the blood flow are common undertakings of the students.

WHS Students Learn by Doing

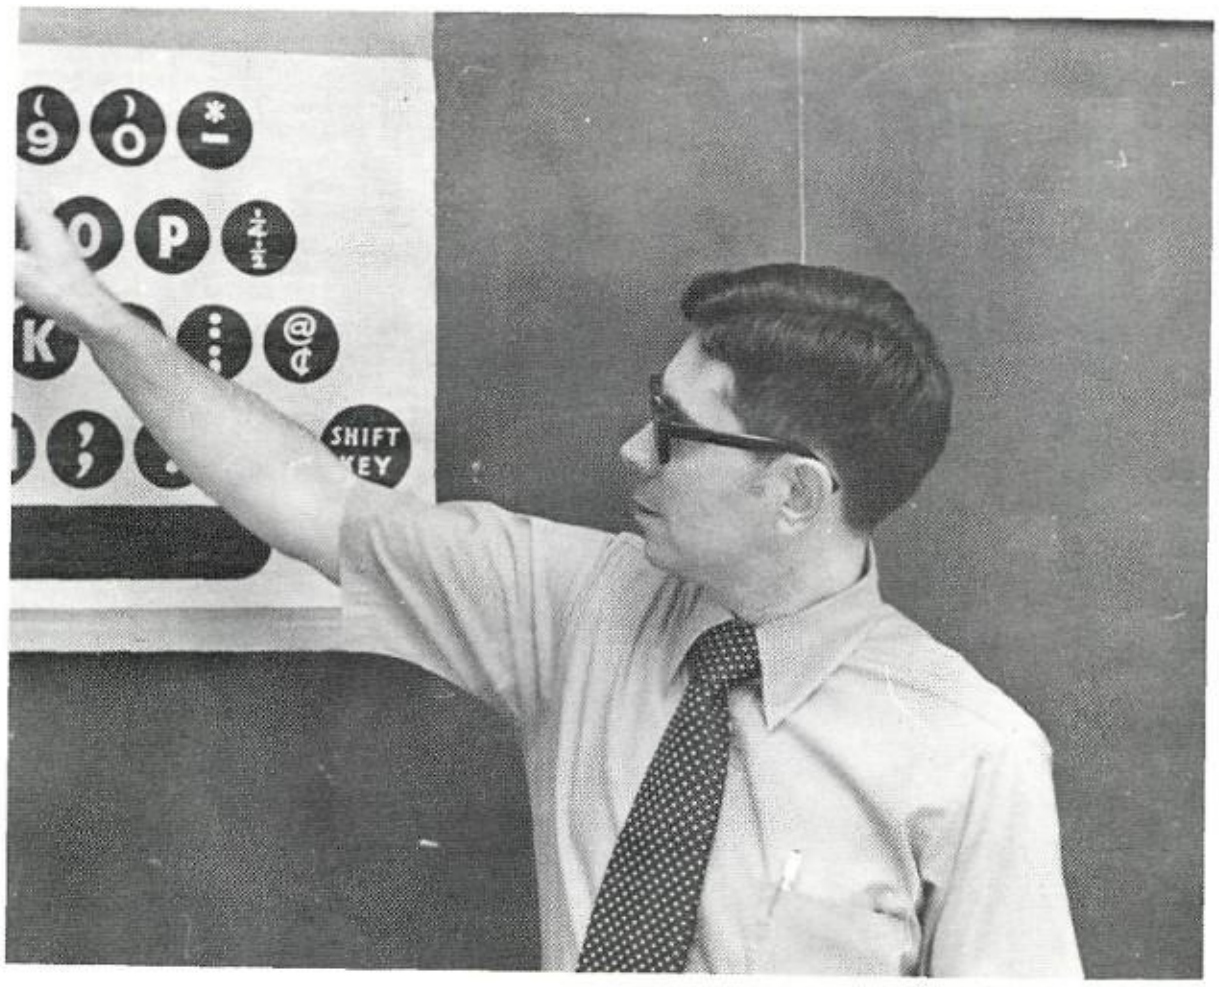
Business is defined as being one's work, occupation; profession. Education is the process of training and developing, skill, mind, and character etc., especially by formal schooling; teaching; training. Combine those two words and you have one of the busiest departments in WHS.

Business Education classes include; Typing I and II, Shorthand I,II,III and IV, Personnel Shorthand, Accounting, Record Keeping I and II, Business Math I and II, Business Machines, Office Education and practice, Distributive Education and Data Processing.

All Nineteen of these courses are under the teaching influence of six capable teachers, they are; Robert Buchele, David Haugan, Gale Inglett, Gary Lamon, Herbert Pederson and Jan Petersen.



See right here you punched the n instead of the m, points out Jan Petersen. Concentration and serious practice will result in a good typist.

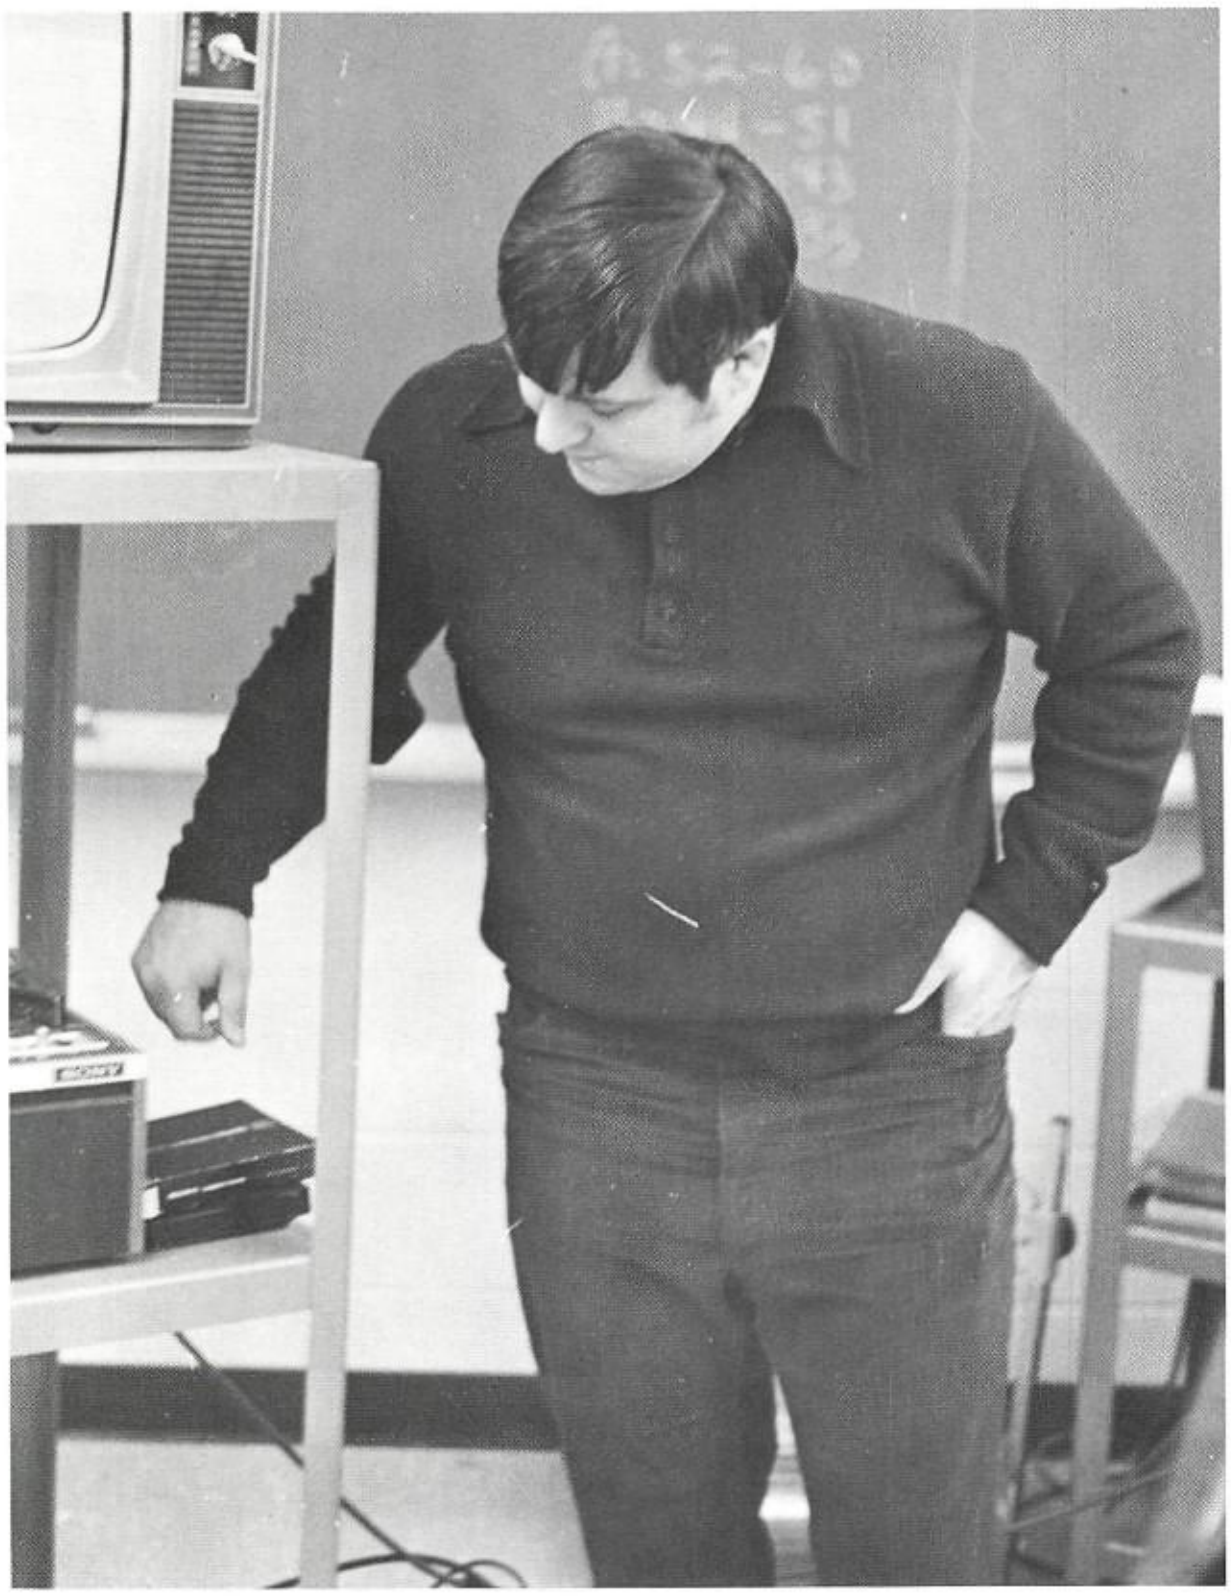
The number of course offerings provided by the Social Studies Department seems to be about as many as pages in the Sears catalogue.

Introduction to the Social Studies is a requirement of all tenth graders. Thereafter, one's selection can range from world civilizations to who's who in American history; from minority studies to Geography in an Urban Age; or if interest lies in the study of China, India, Japan, and Southeast Asia, there is a subject for you. For those Juniors and Seniors who have the necessary skills and maturity to work independently, an opportunity to investigate an area of World History or Government of their interest may be acquired through the Independent Study Program.

The wide range of offerings and mini-courses have made the acquisition of 5 semester hours in the social studies department most enjoyable and satisfying.

Any student who has completed the credit requirements for a high school diploma and has attended at least five semesters of school may waive attendance for the sixth semester (second semester of the senior year). The approval of parents, counselors, administration and the Board of Education is necessary before such action will be taken.



On the blink again! Why is it these video tape machines never work when you need them, groans Social Studies teacher, Mr. Roger Lipelt to his class.

Rising Costs, Shortages, Energy Crises, Plague Custodial and Food Service Personnel

Making the food dollar stretch is not only a problem for the housewife, but also one that must be faced by the Food Service Personnel. Making certain that the students of WHS have a well-balanced meal are: Front Row: Wanda Ling, Floma Piscator; Back Row: Steve Held, Genevieve Helms, Judy Eckerson, and Grace Hampton.

1973-1974 became a year of many crisis. Food prices soared to all time highs and government commodities were reduced. Yet, a well-balanced meal at reasonable costs had to be provided to the 3,000 hungry students in the district. Extra fuel tanks were buried to provide heat throughout the school year. Thermostats were turned down and locked at 68 degrees. Even paper products became a major concern for the district. It was necessary to extend Christmas vacation and to eliminate all extra-curricular activities during the holidays to conserve on fuel. Mr. Kenneth Sall and his staff met all problems head on, and although sacrifices were made, no one suffered.

Building and Ground Maintenance Supervisor, a Food Service Personnel Supervisor, and Business Manager for Independent School District #518 is a "hairy" position during times of critical shortages. Mr. Kenneth Sall frantically feels the pinch and looks for suppliers of needed commodities.

The custodial staff kept a constant vigil on the thermostats throughout the building as well as performing their regular duties. Locking thermostats at 70 degrees and then at 68 degrees was essential to conserve on fuel. The staff included Front Row: Vernon Wakeman, Robert Courson, Marvin Bruxvoort, Back Row: William Davis, Richard Stubbe, and Donald Burns.

On your mark, get set, GO. Anxious to set the pace for the Sophomore Class and to set new goals and records, are the energetic Sophomore Class Officers. Organization and teamwork is the example set by Randy Sieve, treasurer; Sarah Ludlow, secretary; Darwin Baack, vice-president; Craig Silver, student council representative, and Tim Landis, president. Within the first five weeks of the new school year, the class set a new record in sales for the annual magazine drive, well over the magic $9,000 mark.

Confused but undaunted, the sophomores came to WHS. Under the leadership of Tim Landes, they got into the swing of things immediately by participating in clubs, sports, and other class work. Other class officers are: Darwin Baach, vice-president; Sarah Ludlow, secretary; Randy Sieve, treasurer; and Craig Silver, student council representative. Mr. Melom retained his traditional role as sophomore class advisor.

The annual magazine sale was their first big task which brought in a total of $9098.32 to help finance the 1973-74 TROJAN. Nancy Dewitt was top salesmans with Jeff Carlson as her close competition.

Jim Terrones and Sarah Ludlow were the sophomore attendants for the homecoming royalty court.

Sophomore cheerleaders; Nancy Nunes, Michelle Streeter, Sue Suby, and Roxanne Ella helped in keeping school spirit behind their B-squad teams.

Having passed the initiation into senior high school, the sophomores can now look forward to two years as WHS upperclassmen.

Peter Ludlow dictates to Cathy Lucks his ideas for some changes in the Junior class.

Diane Habbena, Stacy Rubsam, and Lana Kallevig are the three musketeers of the Junior class.

Junior Year Provides Chances to Shape a Future

The Juniors looked forward to a busy year, with ording class rings, decorating and hosting prom, and many other important activities. They got to choose their new class president, Peter Ludlow; Stacy Ribsam, vice-president; Lana Kellivig, secretary; Diane Habbena, treasure, and Cathy Lucks, student council representive. The supervisors for the Junior class are Miss Suzann Fenelle and Miss Linda Cooper.

Sports got off to a great start with the Junior cheerleaders. The three Junior girls who were chosen for varisty cheerleading were Sharon Strougth, JoAnne Motal, and Barb Sellberg. Cindy Vosberg was chosen as the junior wrestling cheerleader.

Home Coming was as exciting week for the Juniors who by now "knew the ropes". Lana Kallevig and Toby Schield were the Junior attendants.

The Ring Committee for choosing class rings were Bob Edwards, Earl Standafer, Kathleen Stubee, and Linda Gravenhof. They decided on only two types of rings, round and square. The colors are unlimited, with your choice of plane or fireray stones. Cut or uncut stones were also aviable.

The Juniors were kept busy during the second quarter with preperations for the annual Christmas dance. The dance was open to all three grades.

During the rest of the year the Juniors were kept busy with coat check during the basketball season and concession stand and coat check during the National Junior College Wrestling meet. They used this money to help finance the 1973-1974 Prom.

Prom was a big achievement for the Junior class. Alot of hard work and fun went into making Prom a success.

Having surveyed all the activities through the year, the Juniors are ready and willing to attack their last year at WHS vigoruosly.

No good luck charms, no superstitions, no short cuts, just plain good old fashioned hard work and you will succeed. Off to set the example for their fellow classmates, the Senior Class Officers are firm believers in doing a job to the best of your ability. Senior Class Officers are Front Row; Bruce Wilson, Pat Graf, Dawn Eshleman, Back Row: Margret Brandt and Beth Franzen.

Good morning world, meet your Senior Class President! Assuming the responsibilities of class president, Bruce Wilson shoulders the trials and tribulations of the class of "74".

Seniors Policy Is to Succeed During 1973-74

The class of '74 left in memory: sunny days at the beach, a wonderful vacation, summer jobs, a special person ... when they left Worthington High. This year they were proving something to themselves and others. These Seniors were going to achieve the goals they had set for themselves. Also, they would show others that they could improve.

To achieve their goal, they chose as their President, Bruce Wilson. To preside at their meetings in Bruce's absence, Pat Graf was elected Vice-president. Secretary was Dawn Eshelman, Treasurer was Margret Brandt and Student Council Representative was Beth Franzen.

During the Football season came Homecoming. Chosen as King and Queen were Bruce Wilson and Pat Graf. Attending their Majesties were: Dawn Eshleman and Steven Boucher; Beth Franzen and Craig Behrens; Marcia Opsata and Tim Reker; Cathy Bishop and Arnnie Wheeler; Ann Guthmeller and Chuck Soderholm. The Trojans won their Homecoming game with Marshal 8-0.

Boosting the Trojan Basketball, Football, and Wrestling games were: Marcia Opsata, Dawn Eshleman, Dawn Yahnke, Pam Hansberger, Shelley Luing, and Pat Graf. Other sports with Senior participation were Baseball, Cross Country, Golf, Track, and Tennis.

Some memories the Seniors will always treasure are: the lively Spirit Week, Trojanaire and Trojanette pep fests, Senior Fall Banquet, Washington D.C.-New York trip, Junior-Senior Prom, Senior Spring Breakfast, and May 30, 1974.

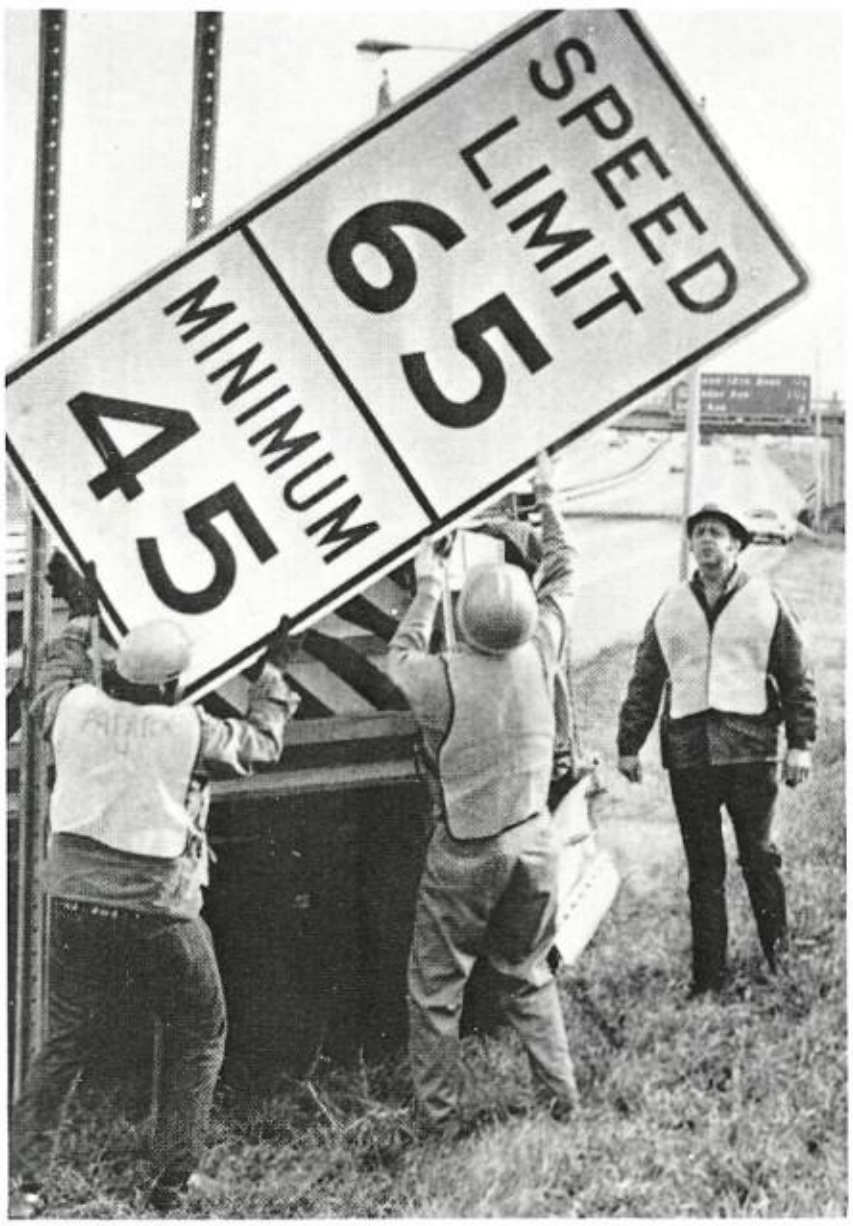
The energy crisis hit the students hard. Gasoline soared to 47.9 cents per gallon with predictions that it will raise even higher. Car pools are formed to help save on gasoline consumption and social events were curtailed. Thoughts on the revival of the horse and buggy were contemplated, and although some could be seen, this mode of transportation did not take hold by the members of the student body.



Fifty miles an hour will increase your gasoline consumption by 25%. State crew men found themselves removing speed limit signs and replacing them with 50 miles an hour limit signs. One senior became somewhat confused with all the suggestions on how to save fuel and lowered his thermostate at home to 50 and drove at 68 miles per hour.

Comet Kohoutek Streaks Across Southern Horizon

The comet Kohoutek will be making its debut during the first weeks in January of 1974. The comet is becoming visible shortly before dawn to the naked eye just above the southern horizon as it flashes closer to earth on its journey past the sun. For those who will miss seeing this spectacular, the comet Kohoutek will appear again in 75,000 years.

Bob,
Was fun having you in home room with Dennis. too bad you won't be here next year. Hope you can take it with you.
Remember Kenella. Just Run in Him
Run a good race with Him
Have fun this summer
Dee ya.
Sharon

Brother Bob -
What do you mean you want me to sign your annual?!! You didn't save any room! - but that's okay; I found this little white space. This year just wouldn't have been great without knowing you and being apart of the Rembrandt family. Hope you and Marty hold on to the family name and remember your sis away at college! American Lit was literally a "Riot" with you and a few other guys whose names I will not mention. But it sure made it more lively... (poor Ms. Weet!) Yes, the "family" must get together sometime - for sure before I leave! If you ever make it up to St. Cloud by chance next year be sure to look me up! Hope we have lots of more fun before the school year is over! Stay the wonderful, nutty, great guy that you are Bob, always!

Just for today I will try to live through this day only, and not tackle all my problems at once. I can do something for twelve hours that would appall me it I felt that I had to keep it up for a lifetime.

Just for today I will be happy. This assumes to be true with Abraham Lincoln said, that "Most folks are as happy as they make up their minds to be."

Just for today I will adjust myself to what is, and not to try to adjust everything to my own desires. I will take my "luck" as it comes, and fit myself to it.

Just for today I will try to strengthen my mind. I will study. I will learn something useful. I will not be a mental loafer. I will read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.

Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways: I will do somebody a good turn, and not get found out; if anybody knows of it, it will not count. I will do at least two things I don't want to do—just for exercise. I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt; they may be hurt, but today I will not show it.

Just for today I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress becomingly, keeping my voice low, be courteous, criticize not one bit. I won't find fault with anything, not try to improve or regulate anybody but myself.

Just for today I will have a program. I may not follow it exactly, but I will have it. I will save myself from two pests: hurry and indecision.

Just for today I will have a quiet half hour all by myself, and relax. During this half hour, sometime, Iwill try to get a better perspective of my life.

Just for today, I will be unafraid. Especially I will not be afraid to enjoy what is beautiful and to believe that as I give to the world, so the world will give to me.

I shall not pass through this life but once,
And good, therfore, that I can do.
Or any kindness I can show to any fellow creature
Let me do it now.
Let me not defer or neglect it,
For I shall not pass this way again.

Remember "the family" and the fun we've had during musical!

Your Sis -
Ann (Gutzke)

VEED HOPPER!
Hey Bot, I don't really know ya that good but I know your a nice guy! Thanks for letting us use your car and for giving me rides around. I hope we can get to be better friends! Have a super summer. Take it easy on the woman!
Keep smiling Handsome!
Cheryl S

Bob,
Got Your(have) really to be a good friend of mine this year. Thanks for being so nice. Sorry this is so messy I think I have messed up everyones book. Thanks for letting me use your car all those time I probably used a wooth of gas. I remember when your car stopped by the pantry and won't start that really scared me. When Lori had your car it killed in the middle of the same intersection. I think that intersection is bad for your car. I guess I got to know you at a intermaral game you came up and sat down by Vida and I got to know you.
Luv ya
Miriam

BOB BENSKI
IF I PAID YOU FOR ALL OF THE GAS I MOOCHED OFF YOU I ESTIMATE IT WOULD BE ABOUT 1/4 ..... I CERTINALY HOPE WE STAY BUDS FOR A WHILE. REMBER WHEN ME YOU + SPEEDY WERE ALL TRYING TO HOSTHE CATHY CARLSON IN 6TH GRADE BECAUSE SHE WAS THE ONLY ONE WHO HAD ANY - - - SEE YOU THIS SUMMER AND NEXT YEAR
BE KIND TO ANIMALS
Matt

Bob,
To a great guy who rides off all the time. I really appreciate it. I am really glad I got to know you. Hope you get your wizard earnings. Well a lot of gas. Well a lot of gas. Well a lot of gas

Bob (Weedhopper)

This is a great privilege writing in your book, how could I be so lucky. Its been great getting know you all over again after knowing you when you were punky freshman Remember the great times we've had like over Easter vacation Lapuna and all Maybe we'll get together again and Do it Just Like my car I hope to see alot of you this summer and when you're a stuck-up senior you'll be a great friend to have around One thing that is really great about you in my eyes is that you are always yourself and I respect you for it.

"BLB"

TO A "GOOD GUY" AND A "NICE FELLOW"! REMEMBER ALL THE GOOD TIMES WE'VE HAD BEING BUMBASSES' TRY NOT TO MESS UP THE HALK, UNLESS YOU'RE PLANNING ON HAVING SOMEONE PAY YOUR WAY THROUGH COLLEGE. IF YOU SEEL THAT THING TO GRIMES, I'LL DIE LAUGHING. LET'S SEE HOW MANY THINGS WE CAN MESS UP THIS SUMMER AND MAY-BE GET "RUNT" A TIME OR TWO OR THREE OR FOUR OR... WELL YOU GET MY POINT. TOO BAD YOU HAD TO GET RID OF THE "ENTERPRIZE"! WE HAD A LOT OF FUN SERCHING THE UNIVERSE FOR ALIANS (FEMALES). WELL I GUESS I JUST ABOUT AM TO THE END OF THIS PAGE BUT I STILL HAVE SOME ROOM TO FILL AND THATS WHAT THIS LAST SENTENCE IS FOR! WELL GOOD LUCK AND ALL THAT "CRAPPOLA" AND GUTE NACHT! GERMAN!! Marty

Bobby Brown
Did you know me + you have something in common.
We're always down main what's going on.
ya this summer
Stay as sweet + nice as me!
Love Barbara

Bob,
I think I've finally found the name for you!
You remind me of a cabbage...
Well, Cab- I don't know you to good, but I find out a little more every day- some very interesting things!! I'm just getting to know a the juniors and I hope I can get to know them lots better

Bobs,
I'll never forget the time you guys were chasing us to soap our car..... It was a blast! We'll have to play ditch'em again
+ I hope I see ya this summer!
Sue Suby

But you are such a nut!
Edwards,
It was still nice knowing
you. Hope sometime you'll so lucky and see me again.
GOOD LUCKS & TAKE CARE
